

Prayer Caucus

Did You Know?

The first act of America's first Congress in 1774 was to ask a minister to open with prayer and to lead Congress in the reading of four chapters of the Bible.

By 1867, the church at the Capitol was the largest church in Washington, D. C., with up to 2,000 persons per week attending Sunday service in the Hall of the House.

In the United States Capitol the declaration "In God We Trust" is prominently displayed in both the United States House and Senate Chambers.

ABOUT US

The Congressional Prayer Caucus is a bi-partisan group of over 50 Members of Congress from all political persuasions, demographic backgrounds, and geographic locations that share a common vision and purpose to strengthen prayer in America through the legislative process. Many of these men and women set aside party lines and gather weekly in Room 219 of the Capitol to pray for our nation and the decisions of her leaders.

OUR PURPOSE

The Congressional Prayer Caucus is an official organization of the United States House of Representatives designed to recognize the vital role that prayer has played throughout the more than 200-year history of our nation. The purposes of the Caucus are to 1) recognize the role that prayer by individuals of all faiths has played in uniting us as a people and in making us a more generous, more cooperative, and more forgiving people; 2) collect, exchange, and disseminate information about prayer as a fundamental and enduring feature of American life; 3) use the legislative process to assist the nation and its people in continuing to draw upon and benefitting from this essential source of our strength and well-being.

Prayer Caucus

Did You Know?

The first act of America's first Congress in 1774 was to ask a minister to open with prayer and to lead Congress in the reading of four chapters of the Bible.

By 1867, the church at the Capitol was the largest church in Washington, D. C., with up to 2,000 persons per week attending Sunday service in the Hall of the House.

In the United States Capitol the declaration "In God We Trust" is prominently displayed in both the United States House and Senate Chambers.

ABOUT US

The Congressional Prayer Caucus is a bi-partisan group of over 50 Members of Congress from all political persuasions, demographic backgrounds, and geographic locations that share a common vision and purpose to strengthen prayer in America through the legislative process. Many of these men and women set aside party lines and gather weekly in Room 219 of the Capitol to pray for our nation and the decisions of her leaders.

OUR PURPOSE

The Congressional Prayer Caucus is an official organization of the United States House of Representatives designed to recognize the vital role that prayer has played throughout the more than 200-year history of our nation. The purposes of the Caucus are to 1) recognize the role that prayer by individuals of all faiths has played in uniting us as a people and in making us a more generous, more cooperative, and more forgiving people; 2) collect, exchange, and disseminate information about prayer as a fundamental and enduring feature of American life; 3) use the legislative process to assist the nation and its people in continuing to draw upon and benefitting from this essential source of our strength and well-being.

Our Work

Reversed a Decision to Strip God from Flag-folding Ceremonies for Veterans Funerals

Introduced H. Res. 888, Legislation to Affirm the Rich 200-plus-year Religious History of America and Establish an "American Religious History Week"

Fought Attempts to Remove God from Certificates for Flags Flown Over the U.S. Capitol

Disputed an Attempt to Obscure References to "Laus Deo" or "Praise be to God" on the Washington Monument

Protected the Ability of Military Chaplains to Pray Their Conscience

Working to Ensure Religious Heritage Displays are Included in the New Capitol Visitors Center at the U.S. Capitol

Working to Protect the Right of Individuals to Pray in Schools and Other Public Places

Congressional Prayer Caucus
c/o Congressman Randy Forbes
2438 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington DC, 20515

Contact: Sarah Seitz
sarah.seitz@mail.house.gov
Phone: 202-225-6365
Fax: 202-226-1170

Our Work

Reversed a Decision to Strip God from Flag-folding Ceremonies for Veterans Funerals

Introduced H. Res. 888, Legislation to Affirm the Rich 200-plus-year Religious History of America and Establish an "American Religious History Week"

Fought Attempts to Remove God from Certificates for Flags Flown Over the U.S. Capitol

Disputed an Attempt to Obscure References to "Laus Deo" or "Praise be to God" on the Washington Monument

Protected the Ability of Military Chaplains to Pray Their Conscience

Working to Ensure Religious Heritage Displays are Included in the New Capitol Visitors Center at the U.S. Capitol

Working to Protect the Right of Individuals to Pray in Schools and Other Public Places

Congressional Prayer Caucus
c/o Congressman Randy Forbes
2438 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington DC, 20515

Contact: Sarah Seitz
sarah.seitz@mail.house.gov
Phone: 202-225-6365
Fax: 202-226-1170