John

What is the status of Ohio Fresh Eggs and Jack De Coster. Unfortunately Hillandale Farms can have absolutely no association with Jack, anywhere. We will move in another direction in Ohio if we can not get it officialy done . We have to be able to say how it is with no half truths. I will be happy to try and help make it happen. It seems that if was Glessner and Hillandale that we could tell the world our customer base would embrace us.

WE are not sure how we want to proceed in Iowa as we have been told by Costo and Wal Mart that they will not be doing any business if Jack and his people have any involvement in management or ownership. What is the latest in Iowa? Give me the good and the bad
