Subject I just talked with Lydia and John . . .

we talked about how we could restructure the secondary standard section of the preamble -- I'm going to do some cutting and pasting from the proposal to create a new version tonight -- John's going to go through the RTC to see what we can keep, what needs to be dropped, and what can survive with minor edits. I talked with Vicki -- she'll follow up on changes to the RTC in the morning.

So, try to relax tonight -- I know how incredibly frustrated and disgusted we all are at the moment. Times like this, I really, really appreciate what a wonderful group of people you are to work with. See you in the morning.
