HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
SUBCOMMITTEE ON AFRICA, GLOBAL HEALTH,
GLOBAL HUMAN RIGHTS, AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS,
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS,
Washington, DC.

The subcommittee met, pursuant to notice, at 11:30 a.m., in room 2172, Rayburn House Office Building, Hon. Christopher H. Smith (chairman of the subcommittee) presiding.

Mr. SMITH. We are here this morning to mark up H.R. 1951, Sean and David Goldman International Child Abduction Prevention and Return Act of 2013; H.R. 1897, Vietnam Human Rights Act of 2013; and H. Res. 131, Concerning the ongoing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the need for international efforts toward long-term peace, stability, and observance of human rights.

As our members are aware, these measures enjoy strong bipartisan support and there are competing hearings and other events taking place this morning. Thus, as our members were informed earlier this week, it is the intent of the Chair to consider these measures en bloc, including the substitute amendment sent to you on Monday, offered by my good friend and colleague, Ms. Bass, and an amendment by Mr. Meadows, sent to you on Tuesday.

All members have copies of these documents before them. After we have concluded our expedited consideration, I would be glad to recognize any member, including myself and the ranking member, for any statements on the issues.

All members are given leave to insert written remarks into the record, should they choose to do so. Seeing that we have a reporting quorum present, without objection, the following measures are considered as read and will be considered en bloc: H.R. 1951, Sean and David Goldman International Child Abduction Prevention and Return Act of 2013; the Meadows amendment number 4 to H.R. 1951, sent to members' offices on Tuesday; H.R. 1897, the Vietnam Human Rights Act of 2013; H. Res. 131, Concerning the ongoing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the need for international efforts toward long-term peace, stability, and observance of human rights; and the Bass amendment number 11 to H. Res. 131 sent to your offices on Monday.

7 SEC. 2. FINDINGS; SENSE OF CONGRESS; PURPOSES.

8 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

9 (1) Sean Goldman, a United States citizen and 10 resident of New Jersey, was abducted from the 11 United States in 2004 and separated from his fa-
12 ther, David Goldman, who spent nearly six years
13 battling for the return of his son from Brazil before

1 Sean was finally returned to Mr. Goldman's custody
2 on December 24, 2009.

3 (2) The Department of State's Office of Chil-
4 dren's Issues, which serves as the Central Authority
5 of the United States for the purposes of the 1980
6 Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of Inter-7 national Child Abduction, has received thousands of 8 requests since 2007 for assistance in the return to 9 the United States of children who have been ab-10 ducted by a parent or other legal guardian to an-11 other country. For a variety of reasons reflecting the 12 significant obstacles to the recovery of abducted chil-13 dren, as well as the legal and factual complexity in-14 volving such cases, not all cases are reported to the 15 Central Authority of the United States.

16 (3) The number of outgoing international child 17 abductions reported to the Central Authority of the 18 United States has increased substantially since 19 2006.

20 (4) Only about half of the children abducted 21 from the United States to countries with which the 22 United States enjoys reciprocal obligations under the 23 Hague Abduction Convention are returned to the 24 United States.

1 (5) The United States and Convention coun-
2 tries have expressed their desire, through the Hague
3 Abduction Convention, “to protect children inter-4 nationally from the harmful effects of their wrongful 5 removal or retention and to establish procedures to 6 ensure their prompt return to the State of their ha-7 bitual residence, as well as to secure protection for 8 rights of access.”.

9 (6) Compliance by the United States and Con-10 vention countries depends on the actions of their 11 designated central authorities, the performance of 12 their judiciaries as reflected in the legal process and 13 decisions rendered to enforce or effectuate the 14 Hague Abduction Convention, and the ability and 15 willingness of their law enforcement to insure the 16 swift enforcement of orders rendered pursuant to the 17 Hague Abduction Convention.

18 (7) The Central Authority of the United States
19 reports that nearly 40 percent of abduction cases 20 and access cases involve children taken from the 21 United States to countries with which the United 22 States does not have Hague Abduction Convention
23 obligations or other agreements relating to the reso-24 lution of abduction cases and access cases.

1 (8) According to the Department of State's 2 April 2010 Report on Compliance with the Hague
3 Convention on the Civil Aspects of International 4 Child Abduction, "parental child abduction jeopard-
5 izes the child and has substantial long-term con-
6 sequences for both the child and the left-behind par-7 ent."

8 (9) Abducted children are at risk of serious 9 emotional and psychological problems and have been 10 found to experience anxiety, eating problems, night-
11 mares, mood swings, sleep disturbances, aggressive 12 behavior, resentment, guilt and fearfulness, and as 13 adults may struggle with identity issues, personal re-14 lationships, and parenting.

15 (10) Left-behind parents may encounter sub-16 stantial psychological and emotional problems, and 17 few have the extraordinary financial resources nec-
18 essary to pursue individual civil or criminal remedies
19 in both the United States and a foreign country, 20 even where available, or to engage in repeated for-21 eign travel to attempt to procure the return of their 22 children by evoking diplomatic and humanitarian 23 remedies.

24 (11) Left-behind parents who are military par-25 ents may be unable to leave their military duties to

1 pursue multinational litigation or take leave to at-2 tend multiple court proceedings, and foreign authori-
3 ties may not schedule proceedings to accommodate 4 such duties.

5 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
6 gress that the United States should set a strong example
7 for Convention countries in the timely location and return
8 of abducted children in the United States whose habitual 9 residence is not the United States.

10 (c) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are to—

11 (1) protect children whose habitual residence is 12 the United States from the harmful effects of abduc-13 tion and to assist left-behind parents to have access 14 to their abducted child in a safe and predictable
15 manner, wherever the child is located, while an ab-
16 duction case is pending;

17 (2) provide left-behind parents, including mili-
18 tary parents, their advocates, and judges the infor-
19 mation they need to enhance the resolution of abduc-20 tion cases and access cases through established legal 21 procedures, the tools for assessing the risk of abduc-
22 tion and denial of rights of access, and the practical 23 means for overcoming obstacles to recovering an ab-
24 ducted child;

1 (3) establish measured, effective, and predict-
2 able actions to be undertaken by the President on 3 behalf of abducted children whose habitual residence
4 is the United States at the time of the abduction;

5 (4) promote an international consensus that it
6 is in the interest of children to have any issues re-7 lated to their care and custody determined in the 8 country of their habitual residence;

9 (5) provide the necessary training for officials
10 of the United States Armed Forces and the Depart-11 ment of Defense to establish policies and provide 12 services to military parents that address the unique 13 circumstances of abductions and violations of rights 14 of access that may occur with regard to military de-15 pendent children; and

16 (6) encourage the effective implementation of 17 international mechanisms, particularly those estab-
18 lished pursuant to the Hague Abduction Convention, 19 to achieve reciprocity in the resolution of abductions 20 and to protect children from the harmful effects of 21 an abduction.

15 authorized by law to resolve the unresolved case or to ob-16 tain the cessation of such pattern of noncooperation, as 17 applicable. If commensurate action is taken under this 18 subsection, the President shall transmit to the appropriate 19 congressional committees a report on such action, together 20 with an explanation for taking such action.

21 (c) EXCEPTIONS.—Any action taken pursuant to sub-22 section (a) or (b) may not prohibit or restrict the provision 23 of medicine, medical equipment or supplies, food, or other 24 life-saving humanitarian assistance.

1 SEC. 206. EFFECTS ON EXISTING CONTRACTS.

2 The President shall not be required to apply or main-3 tain any action under section 205—

4 (1) in the case of procurement of defense arti-
5 cles or defense services—

6 (A) under existing contracts or sub-7 contracts, including the exercise of options for 8 production quantities, to satisfy requirements
9 essential to the national security of the United 10 States;

11 (B) if the President determines in writing 12 and transmits to the appropriate congressional 13 committees a report that the government or the 14 agency or instrumentality of such government
15 to which such action would otherwise be applied
16 is a sole source supplier of such defense articles
17 or services, that such defense articles or serv-
18 ices are essential, and that alternative sources 19 are not readily or reasonably available; or

20 (C) if the President determines in writing
21 and transmits to the appropriate congressional 22 committees a report that such defense articles
23 or services are essential to the national security
24 of the United States under defense co-produc-
25 tion agreements; or

1 (2) to products or services provided under con-
2 tracts entered into before the date on which the 3 President publishes in the Federal Register notice of 4 such action in accordance with section 208.

5 SEC. 207. PRESIDENTIAL WAIVER.

6 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subsection (b), the 7 President may waive the application of any of the actions 8 described in paragraphs (11) through (18) of section 9 205(a) (or commensurate action as provided in section 10 205(b)) with respect to a country, if the President deter-11 mines and so reports to the appropriate congressional 12 committees that—

13 (1) the government of such country has satis-
14 factorily resolved any abduction cases or access cases
15 giving rise to the application of any of such actions 16 and—

17 (A) if such country is a Convention coun-18 try, such country has taken measures to ensure 19 future compliance with the provisions of the 20 Hague Abduction Convention;

21 (B) if such country is an MOU country,
22 such country has taken measures to ensure fu-
23 ture compliance with the provisions of the MOU 24 at issue; or

1 (C) if such country was a nonparty country
2 at the time the abductions or denials of rights
3 of access resulting in the abduction cases or ac-
4 cess cases occurred, such country has become a 5 Convention country or an MOU country;

6 (2) the exercise of such waiver authority would 7 further the purposes of this Act; or

8 (3) the important national interest of the 9 United States requires the exercise of such waiver 10 authority.

11 (b) CONGRESSIONAL NOTIFICATION.—Not later than 12 the date of the exercise of a waiver under subsection (a), 13 the President shall notify the appropriate congressional 14 committees of such waiver or the intention to exercise such 15 waiver, together with a detailed justification thereof.

16 SEC. 208. PUBLICATION IN FEDERAL REGISTER.

1 applicable and to the extent practicable, the identi-

3 responsible for such pattern of noncooperation.

4 (2) PRESIDENTIAL ACTIONS.—A description of 5 any action under paragraphs (11) through (18) of 6 section 205(a) (or commensurate action as provided 7 in section 205(b)) and the effective date of such ac-8 tion.

9 (3) DELAYS IN TRANSMITTAL OF PRESI-
10 DENTIAL ACTION REPORTS.—Any delay in trans-
11 mittal of a report required under section 204.

12 (4) WAIVERS.—Any waiver issued under section 13 207.

14 (b) LIMITED DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION.—The 15 President may limit publication of information under this 16 section in the same manner and to the same extent as 17 the President may limit the publication of findings and 18 determinations described in section 654(c) of the Foreign 19 Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2414(c)), if the Presi-
20 dent determines that the publication of such informa-
21 tion—

22 (1) would be harmful to the national security of 23 the United States; or

24 (2) would not further the purposes of this Act.

1 SEC. 209. TERMINATION OF PRESIDENTIAL ACTIONS.

2 Any action taken under this Act or any amendment
3 made by this Act with respect to a foreign country shall 4 terminate on the earlier of the following 2 dates:

5 (1) Not later than two years after the effective 6 date of such action unless expressly reauthorized by 7 law.

8 (2) The date on which the President transmits
9 to Congress a certification containing a determina-10 tion of the President that the government of such 11 country has resolved any unresolved case or has

113TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 1897

To promote freedom and democracy in Vietnam.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MAY 8, 2013

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey (for himself, Mr. ROYCE, Mr. WOLF, Ms. LOFGREN, and Mr. LOWENTHAL) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs

A BILL

To promote freedom and democracy in Vietnam.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the 5 “Vietnam Human Rights Act of 2013”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for 7 this Act is as follows:

- Sec. 1. Short title; table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Findings and purpose.
- Sec. 3. Prohibition on increased nonhumanitarian assistance to the Government of Vietnam.
- Sec. 4. United States public diplomacy.
- Sec. 5. United Nations Human Rights Council.
- Sec. 6. Annual report.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3 (1) The relationship between the United States
4 and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam has grown 5 substantially since the end of the trade embargo in 6 1994, with annual trade between the two countries 7 reaching nearly $25,000,000,000 in 2012.

8 (2) The Government of Vietnam's transition to-9 ward greater economic freedom and trade has not 10 been matched by greater political freedom and sub-
11 stantial improvements in basic human rights for Vi-
12 etnamese citizens, including freedom of religion, ex-13 pression, association, and assembly.

14 (3) The United States Congress agreed to Viet-15 nam becoming an official member of the World 16 Trade Organization in 2006, amidst assurances that 17 the Government of Vietnam was steadily improving 18 its human rights record and would continue to do so.

19 (4) Vietnam remains a one-party state, ruled
20 and controlled by the Communist Party of Vietnam
21 (CPV), which continues to deny the right of citizens 22 to change their Government.

23 (5) Although in recent years the National As-24 sembly of Vietnam has played an increasingly active 25 role as a forum for highlighting local concerns, cor-
26 ruption, and inefficiency, the National Assembly re-

1 mains subject to the direction of the CPV and the 2 CPV maintains control over the selection of can-3 didates in national and local elections.

4 (6) The Government of Vietnam forbids public
5 challenge to the legitimacy of the one-party state, re-6 stricts freedoms of opinion, the press, and associa-7 tion and tightly limits access to the Internet and 8 telecommunication.

9 (7) Since Vietnam's accession to the WTO on 10 January 11, 2007, the Government of Vietnam arbi-
11 trarily arrested and detained numerous individuals 12 for their peaceful advocacy of religious freedom, de-
13 mocracy, and human rights, including Father
14 Nguyen Van Ly, human rights lawyers Nguyen Van 15 Dai, Le Thi Cong Nhan, Cu Huy Ha Vu, and Le
16 Cong Dinh, and bloggers Nguyen Van Hai, Ta
17 Phong Tan, and Le Van Son.

18 (8) The Government of Vietnam continues to 19 detain, imprison, place under house arrest, convict,
20 or otherwise restrict persons for the peaceful expres-
21 sion of dissenting political or religious views.

22 (9) The Government of Vietnam continues to 23 detain labor leaders and restricts the right to orga-24 nize independently.

1 (10) The Government of Vietnam continues to
2 limit the freedom of religion, restrict the operations
3 of independent religious organizations, and persecute
4 believers whose religious activities the Government 5 regards as a potential threat to its monopoly on 6 power.

7 (11) Despite reported progress in church open-8 ings and legal registrations of religious venues, the 9 Government of Vietnam has halted most positive ac-
10 tions since the Department of State lifted the “coun-11 try of particular concern” (CPC) designation for 12 Vietnam in November 2006.

13 (12) Unregistered ethnic minority Protestant
14 congregations, particularly Montagnards in the Cen-
15 tral and Northwest Highlands, suffer severe abuses
16 because of actions by the Government of Vietnam, 17 which have included forced renunciations of faith,
18 arrest and harassment, the withholding of social pro-
19 grams provided for the general population, confisca-
20 tion and destruction of property, subjection to severe 21 beatings, and reported deaths.

22 (13) There has been a pattern of violent re-
23 sponses by the Government to peaceful prayer vigils 24 and demonstrations by Catholics for the return of 25 Government-confiscated church properties. Pro-

1 testers have been harassed, beaten, and detained
2 and church properties have been destroyed. Catholics
3 also continue to face some restrictions on selection 4 of clergy, the establishment of seminaries and semi-5 nary candidates, and individual cases of travel and 6 church registration.

7 (14) In May 2010 the village of Con Dau, a
8 Catholic parish in Da Nang, faced escalated violence 9 during a funeral procession as police attempted to 10 prohibit a religious burial in the village cemetery;
11 more than 100 villagers were injured, 62 were ar-
12 rested, five were tortured, and at least three died.

13 (15) The Unified Buddhist Church of Vietnam
14 (UBCV) suffers persecution as the Government of 15 Vietnam continues to restrict contacts and move-16 ment of senior UBCV clergy for refusing to join the 17 state-sponsored Buddhist organization, the Govern-18 ment restricts expression and assembly, and the 19 Government continues to harass and threaten UBCV 20 monks, nuns, and youth leaders.

21 (16) The Government of Vietnam continues to 22 suppress the activities of other religious adherents, 23 including Cao Dai and Hoa Hao Buddhists who lack 24 official recognition or have chosen not to affiliate 25 with the state-sanctioned groups, including through

1 the use of detention, imprisonment, and strict Gov-
2 ernment oversight.

3 (17) Many Montagnards and others are still 4 serving long prison sentences for their involvement
5 in peaceful demonstrations in 2001, 2002, 2004,
6 and 2008. Montagnards continue to face threats, de-
7 tention, beatings, forced renunciation of faith, prop-
8 erty destruction, restricted movement, and reported
9 deaths at the hands of Government officials.

10 (18) Ethnic minority Hmong in Northern Viet-11 nam, the Northwest Highlands, and the Central 12 Highlands of Vietnam also suffer restrictions, confis-13 cation of property, abuses, and persecution by the 14 Government of Vietnam.

15 (19) The Government of Vietnam restricts
16 Khmer Krom expression, assembly, and association, 17 has confiscated nearly all the Theravada Buddhist 18 temples, controls all Khmer Kaon Buddhist religious 19 organizations and prohibits most peaceful protests.

20 (20) The Government of Vietnam controls near-21 ly all print and electronic media, including access to 22 the Internet, jams the signals of some foreign radio
23 stations, including Radio Free Asia, and has de-24 tained and imprisoned individuals who have posted,

1 published, sent, or otherwise distributed democracy-
2 related materials.

3 (21) People arrested in Vietnam because of 4 their political or religious affiliations and activities 5 often are not accorded due legal process as they lack 6 full access to lawyers of their choice, may experience
7 closed trials, have often been detained for years 8 without trial, and have been subjected to the use of 9 torture to admit crimes they did not commit or to 10 falsely denounce their own leaders.

11 (22) Vietnam continues to be a source country 12 for the commercial sexual exploitation and forced 13 labor of women and girls, as well as for men and 14 women legally entering into international labor con-
15 tracts who subsequently face conditions of debt
16 bondage or forced labor, and is a destination country 17 for child trafficking and continues to have internal 18 human trafficking.

19 (23) There are many reports of Vietnamese of-20 ficials and employees participating in, facilitating,
21 condoning, or otherwise being complicit in severe 22 forms of human trafficking.

23 (24) United States refugee resettlement pro-
24 grams, including the Humanitarian Resettlement
25 (IIR) Program, the Orderly Departure Program

1 (ODP), Resettlement Opportunities for Vietnamese 2 Returnees (ROVR) Program, general resettlement of 3 boat people from refugee camps throughout South-
4 east Asia, the Amerasian Homecoming Act of 1988,
5 and the Priority One Refugee resettlement category, 6 have helped rescue Vietnamese nationals who have 7 suffered persecution on account of their associations 8 with the United States or, in many cases, because of 9 such associations by their spouses, parents, or other 10 family members, as well as other Vietnamese nation-
11 als who have been persecuted because of race, reli-12 gion, nationality, political opinion, or membership in 13 a particular social group.

14 (25) While previous programs have served their 15 purposes well, a significant number of eligible refu-
16 gees from Vietnam were unfairly denied or excluded, 17 including Amerasians, in some cases by vindictive or 18 corrupt Vietnamese officials who controlled access to 19 the programs, and in others by United States per-20 sonnel who imposed unduly restrictive interpreta-
21 tions of program criteria. In addition, the Govern-
22 ment of Vietnam has denied passports to persons 23 who the United States has found eligible for refugee 24 admission.

1 exceeds the amount of such assistance provided for 2 fiscal year 2012 unless—

3 (A) with respect to the limitation for fiscal 4 year 2014, the President determines and cer-
5 tifies to Congress, not later than 30 days after 6 the date of the enactment of this Act, that the 7 requirements of subparagraphs (A) through (G)
8 of paragraph (2) have been met during the 12-9 month period ending on the date of the certifi-10 cation; and

11 (B) with respect to the limitation for sub-12 sequent fiscal years, the President determines 13 and certifies to Congress, in the most recent 14 annual report submitted pursuant to section 6, 15 that the requirements of subparagraphs (A)
16 through (G) of paragraph (2) have been met 17 during the 12-month period covered by the re-18 port.

19 (2) REQUIREMENTS.—The requirements of this 20 paragraph are the following:

21 (A) The Government of Vietnam has made
22 substantial progress toward releasing all polit-
23 ical and religious prisoners from imprisonment, 24 house arrest, and other forms of detention.

1 (B) The Government of Vietnam has made 2 substantial progress toward—

3 (i) respecting the right to freedom of 4 religion, including the right to participate 5 in religious activities and institutions with-6 out interference, harassment, or involve-
7 ment of the Government, for all of Viet-8 nam’s diverse religious communities; and

9 (ii) returning estates and properties
10 confiscated from the churches and religious 11 communities.

12 (C) The Government of Vietnam has made
13 substantial progress toward respecting the right
14 to freedom of expression, assembly, and associa-
15 tion, including the release of independent jour-
16 nalists, bloggers, and democracy and labor ac-17 tivists.

18 (D) The Government of Vietnam has made
19 substantial progress toward repealing or revis-
20 ing laws that criminalize peaceful dissent, inde-
21 pendent media, unsanctioned religious activity, 22 and nonviolent demonstrations and rallies, in 23 accordance with international standards and 24 treaties to which Vietnam is a party.

1 (E) The Government of Vietnam has made
2 substantial progress toward allowing Viet-3 namese nationals free and open access to 4 United States refugee programs.

5 (F) The Government of Vietnam has made 6 substantial progress toward respecting the 7 human rights of members of all ethnic and mi-
8 nority groups.

9 (G) Neither any official of the Government 10 of Vietnam nor any agency or entity wholly or 11 partly owned by the Government of Vietnam 12 was complicit in a severe form of trafficking in 13 persons, or the Government of Vietnam took all 14 appropriate steps to end any such complicity 15 and hold such official, agency, or entity fully 16 accountable for its conduct.

17 (b) EXCEPTION.—

18 (1) CONTINUATION OF ASSISTANCE IN THE NA-
19 TIONAL INTEREST.—Notwithstanding the failure of 20 the Government of Vietnam to meet the require-21 ments of subsection (a)(2), the President may waive 22 the application of subsection (a) for any fiscal year 23 if—

24 (A) the President determines that the pro-
25 vision to the Government of Vietnam of in-

1 creased nonhumanitarian assistance would pro-
2 mote the purpose of this Act or is otherwise in 3 the national interest of the United States; and

4 (B) the Federal Government provides as-5 sistance, at levels commensurate with, or ex-6 ceeding, any increases in nonhumanitarian as-7 sistance to Vietnam, that supports—

8 (i) training about the obligation of the 9 Government of Vietnam to respect the 10 rights enumerated in the International 11 Covenant on Civil and Political Rights;

12 (ii) noncommercial rule of law pro-
13 gramming; and

14 (iii) measures to overcome the jam-
15 ming of Radio Free Asia by the Govern-
16 ment of Vietnam.

17 (2) EXERCISE OF WAIVER AUTHORITY.—The 18 President may exercise the authority under para-19 graph (1) with respect to—

20 (A) all United States nonhumanitarian as-21 sistance to Vietnam; or

22 (B) one or more programs, projects, or ac-
23 tivities of such assistance.

24 (c) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

1 (1) NONHUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE.—The 2 term “nonhumanitarian assistance” means—

3 (A) any assistance under the Foreign As-4 sistance Act of 1961 (including programs under 5 title IV of chapter 2 of part I of that Act, relat-
6 ing to the Overseas Private Investment Cor-7 poration), other than—

8 (i) disaster relief assistance, including 9 any assistance under chapter 9 of part I of 10 that Act;

11 (ii) assistance which involves the pro-12 vision of food (including monetization of 13 food) or medicine;

14 (iii) assistance for environmental re-15 mediation of dioxin-contaminated sites and 16 related health activities;

17 (iv) assistance to combat severe forms
18 of trafficking in persons;

19 (v) assistance to combat pandemic
20 diseases;

21 (vi) assistance for refugees; and

22 (vii) assistance to combat HIV/AIDS,
23 including any assistance under section
24 104A of that Act; and

1 (B) sales, or financing on any terms, under 2 the Arms Export Control Act.

3 (2) SEVERE FORM OF TRAFFICKING IN PER-4 SONS.—The term “severe form of trafficking in per-5 sons” means any activity described in section 103(8)
6 of the Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000
7 (Public Law 106–386 (114 Stat. 1470); 22 U.S.C.
8 7102(8)).

9 (d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—This section shall take effect
10 on the date of the enactment of this Act and shall apply 11 with respect to the provision of nonhumanitarian assist-
12 ance to the Government of Vietnam for fiscal year 2014
13 and subsequent fiscal years.

14 SEC. 4. UNITED STATES PUBLIC DIPLOMACY.

15 (a) RADIO FREE ASIA TRANSMISSIONS TO VIET-16 NAM.—It is the sense of Congress that the United States
17 should take measures to overcome the jamming of Radio 18 Free Asia by the Government of Vietnam and that the 19 Broadcasting Board of Governors should not cut staffing,
20 funding, or broadcast hours for the Vietnamese language
21 services of the Voice of America and Radio Free Asia, 22 which shall be done without reducing any other broadcast 23 language services.

24 (b) UNITED STATES EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL 25 EXCHANGE PROGRAMS WITH VIETNAM.—It is the sense

1 of Congress that any programs of educational and cultural 2 exchange between the United States and Vietnam should 3 actively promote progress toward freedom and democracy
4 in Vietnam by providing opportunities to Vietnamese na-
5 tionals from a wide range of occupations and perspectives
6 to see freedom and democracy in action and, also, by en-
7 suring that Vietnamese nationals who have already dem-8 onstrated a commitment to these values are included in 9 such programs.

10 (c) UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL.—
11 It is the sense of Congress that the Secretary of State 12 should strongly oppose, and encourage other members of 13 the United Nations to oppose, the candidacy of Vietnam
14 for membership on the United Nations Human Rights
15 Council for the term beginning in 2014.

16 SEC. 5. RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING.

17 (a) COUNTRY OF PARTICULAR CONCERN.—It is the 18 sense of Congress that Vietnam should be designated as 19 a country of particular concern for religious freedom pur-
20 suant to section 402(b) of the International Religious 21 Freedom Act of 1998 (22 U.S.C. 6442(b)).

22 (b) MINIMUM STANDARDS FOR THE ELIMINATION OF 23 HUMAN TRAFFICKING.—It is the sense of Congress that 24 the Government of Vietnam does not fully comply with the 25 minimum standards for the elimination of trafficking and

1 is not making significant efforts to bring itself into compli-2 ance, and this determination should be reflected in the an-

H. RES. 131

Concerning the ongoing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the need for international efforts toward long-term peace, stability, and observance of human rights.

MARCH 21, 2013

RESOLUTION

Concerning the ongoing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the need for international efforts toward long-term peace, stability, and observance of human rights.

Whereas since the 1990s, an estimated 5,000,000 people have died and more than 2,000,000 people have been displaced due to repeated cycles of conflict and atrocities, particularly those in North and South Kivu provinces;

Whereas the United Nations and humanitarian groups have reported staggering rates of sexual violence indicating tens of thousands of cases perpetrated by the Congolese army and armed groups, including the M23 and the Democratic Forces for the Liberation of Rwanda, which continue to operate with nearly total impunity;

Whereas human rights defenders in the Democratic Republic of the Congo have been subject to intimidation and attack;

Whereas the Democratic Republic of the Congo's wealth of natural resources, including minerals and high-value wildlife products such as elephant ivory, have been a key driver of insurrection and violence, and the discovery and exploitation of oil could motivate further conflict;

Whereas the deeply flawed November 2011 elections in the Democratic Republic of the Congo laid bare significant political, economic, and social challenges;

Whereas the Democratic Republic of the Congo is home to one of the world's longest enduring and most expensive international peacekeeping operations;

Whereas the November 20, 2012, seizure of the city of Goma by the M23 rebel group, despite bilateral and multilateral efforts to address longstanding humanitarian crises, forge lasting peace, and pursue security sector reform and accountability, demonstrates that the underlying causes of the recurring conflicts in the eastern provinces of the Democratic Republic of the Congo remain unresolved;

Whereas on November 15, 2012, the United Nations Group of Experts provided compelling evidence, in report findings corroborated by the United States Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs in testimony before the United States House of Representatives on December 11, 2012, and December 19, 2012, that the M23 crisis is fueled and exacerbated by the Government of Rwanda, including through Rwandan Government provision of significant military and logistical assistance, and of operational and political guidance and support, to the M23; and

Whereas the United Nations and United States have imposed sanctions on the M23 and its leaders for human rights atrocities including rape, massacres, and the recruitment and physical and psychological torture of child soldiers: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the House of Representatives—

2 (1) asserts that the region's leaders and the 3 international community should break the cycle of 4 violence and impunity in the Democratic Republic of 5 the Congo and surrounding region and urgently ad-
6 dress the root causes of the M23 conflict and pre-7 vious crises;

8 (2) calls on the signatories of the February 24,
9 2013, Peace, Security and Cooperation Framework
10 for the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the 11 Region to abide by the provisions outlined in the 12 framework agreement in addition to ensuring that 13 those troops being re-integrated into the Congolese

1 army are not those accused of human rights viola-
2 tions;

3 (3) calls on governments of the Great Lakes re-4 gion of Africa to respect the national security and 5 territorial integrity of the Democratic Republic of 6 the Congo, and to immediately halt and prevent any 7 and all forms of support to the M23 and other non-8 state armed groups, including any support provided 9 by individuals independently of government policy;

10 (4) recognizes the recent efforts by the Govern-11 ment of the Democratic Republic of the Congo to 12 end the recruitment of children into the armed 13 forces and demands the immediate cessation of the 14 recruitment and exploitation of children by militias,
15 and further calls on all armed groups to free chil-16 dren and other civilians held against their will;

17 (5) calls on the Obama Administration, in close 18 coordination with international and regional part-19 ners, to mobilize a comprehensive response to pre-20 vent further deterioration of regional peace and sta-21 bility and to ensure that life-saving humanitarian as-22 sistance be unhindered and provided to populations
23 in need, particularly displaced persons and conflict-24 affected communities;

1 (6) acknowledges the good work of the United 2 States Special Advisor on the Great Lakes and the 3 Democratic Republic of the Congo, and finds that 4 the challenges of helping to resolve the cycle of vio-
5 lence and impunity in the Democratic Republic of 6 the Congo requires higher-level United States diplo-7 matic and political engagement;

8 (7) requests that Secretary of State John Kerry 9 demonstrate the high-level concern that the United 10 States attaches to ensuring stability and security in 11 the Democratic Republic of the Congo by appointing 12 a Special Envoy who will help lead the United States 13 and international efforts to end the M23 conflict and 14 secure permanent peace, stability, and safety for the 15 people of the Democratic Republic of the Congo;

16 (8) calls on all nations to increase cooperation 17 in order to cease the trade of illegal goods, including 18 poached ivory and conflict minerals, that continues 19 to fuel violence in the Democratic Republic of the 20 Congo;

21 (9) calls on the Obama Administration, includ-
22 ing the Atrocities Prevention Board, in close coordi-23 nation with international and regional partners, to 24 develop and make actionable recommendations to 25 address, prevent, and ensure accountability for seri-

1 ous violations of international humanitarian law and 2 human rights abuses by all actors in the Democratic 3 Republic of the Congo, including by fully imple-4 menting sanctions outlined in section 1284 of the 5 National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year
6 2013, notwithstanding transactions that are cus-7 tomary, necessary, and incidental to the provision of 8 critical, life-saving aid to civilian populations, and 9 the policy goals set out under the Democratic Re-
10 public of the Congo Relief, Security, and Democracy
11 Promotion Act of 2006, introduced by then-Senator
12 Barack Obama;

13 (10) urges the Government of the Democratic 14 Republic of the Congo, with close support from the 15 international community, to investigate and pros-
16 ecute those who have committed war crimes, crimes
17 against humanity, and violations of international hu-18 manitarian law and human rights, including those 19 against women and children;

20 (11) calls on the Government of the Democratic 21 Republic of the Congo to meaningfully engage in 22 electoral reforms, in addition to security sector re-23 forms to prevent militia combatants, particularly 24 M23 members, accused of abuses from integrating 25 into the military, and to host inclusive inter-Congo-

1 lese dialogues to address critical internal political 2 issues and strengthen processes of state institution
3 building in the Democratic Republic of the Congo;

4 (12) urges the Obama Administration to ad-
5 dress alleged support for militias operating in the 6 Democratic Republic of the Congo from foreign gov-7 ernments or entities;

8 (13) acknowledges the United Nations' appoint-
9 ment of the Special Envoy for the Great Lakes re-10 gion of Africa; and

11 (14) urges the United Nations Security Council 12 to lead efforts to reinforce and strengthen the 13 United Nations Organization Stabilization Mission
14 in the Democratic Republic of the Congo
15 (MONUSCO) and its capacity to protect civilians, 16 including preventing any future M23 advances on 17 Goma, as evidenced by the temporary seizure of 18 Goma and other areas, and to support measures to 19 strengthen the ability of MONUSCO to help ensure 20 peace and security in the future.

Mr. SMITH. The Chair moves that the en bloc items be adopted. All those in favor say aye. Aye. All those opposed say no. The ayes have it, in the opinion of the Chair, and the items considered en bloc are adopted. Without objection, the measures as amended are reported favorably to the full committee. The staff is directed to make technical and conforming changes.

I would note that now that we have completed our formal consideration of those measures, I will recognize members for remarks. And recognize myself first on behalf of the first bill that was just passed on to the full committee.

It was David Goldman's unrelenting effort to bring his son, Sean, home from Brazil that first alerted me to the epidemic of international parental child abduction in this country. According to the U.S. Department of State, between the years 2008 and 2012, bereaved, left-behind parents like David Goldman reported over 4,800 abduction cases involving more than 7,000 children. I had the privilege of joining David Goldman in his fight to return Sean and experienced firsthand the maddening obstacles encountered by left-behind parents, even in countries that have signed the Hague Convention on international child abductions: Foreign courts, endless appeals to run out the clock, exploitation of the safeguards in the Convention, and prejudice against foreigners.

The damage to the child and the left-behind parents is incalculable, and too often, lifelong. The children are at risk of serious emotional and psychological problems and may experience anxiety, eating problems, nightmares, mood swings, sleep disturbances, aggressive behavior, resentment, guilt, and fearfulness. Parental child abduction is child abuse. These victims are American citizens who need the help of their government when normal legal processes are unavailable or fail.

Too many families have been waiting too long for the return of their children. Our current system with its endless delays and lack of proper accountability has failed far too many. It is time for the approach that backs our demands for adherence to international obligations with some penalties and makes clear to foes and friends alike that our children are our top priority.

As stated in the legislation, it has several purposes. First, we want to protect children whose habitual residence is the U.S. from the harmful effects of abduction and to assist left-behind parents to have access to their abducted children in a safe and predictable manner, wherever the child is located while an abduction case is pending. We want to provide left-behind parents, their advocates, and judges the information they need to enhance the resolution of abduction cases and access cases through established legal procedures and the tools for assessing the risk of abduction and denial of rights of access, and the practical means for overcoming obstacles to recovering an abducted child.

We seek to provide the necessary training for officials of the U.S. Armed Forces and the Department of Defense to establish policies and provide services to parents serving in our military that address the unique circumstances of abductions and violations of rights of access that may occur with regard to military dependent children.

Additional purposes of the bill would be to establish measured, effective, and predictable actions to be undertaken by the President on behalf of abducted American children and to promote an international consensus that it is in the interest of children to have any issues related to their care and custody determined in the country of their habitual residence.

Finally, the bill would encourage the effective implementation of international mechanisms, particularly those established pursuant to the Hague Abduction Convention, to achieve reciprocity in the resolution of abductions and to protect children from the harmful effects of abduction.

The Goldman Act gives the President important tools to motivate other countries to quickly respond to applicants for an abducted child's return. For even one case that has been pending for over 6 weeks in a foreign country's judicial system, the President may choose to at least issue a private demarche or take more serious actions commensurate with the gravity of the case.

If a country has 10 or more cases of children abducted from the U.S., pursuant to this legislation, and those cases are not being resolved in a timely manner or the entity responsible for working with the United States, the central authority, the judiciary, or law enforcement are persistently failing to fulfill their obligations, the President can take measured, effective, and predictable actions to aggressively advocate for our children's return. Actions range from denial of certain assistance to prohibiting the procurement of certain goods or services from the government or the instrumentality response for the pattern of what we call noncooperation.

The President is required to request a consultation with any government concerned and report to Congress when contemplating serious actions. The President is also provided with certain waiver authorities that take into account the important national interests of the United States. However, the expectation is that the President will use all tools necessary to bring our children home in a timely manner and that the President will have to explain the minority of cases where one of the 18 delineated tools or commensurate action cannot be used.

I want to thank Mr. Meadows for his valuable amendment to the bill, which calls on the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress on Egypt's cooperation or facilitation of parental child abduction. Last week, the subcommittee heard compelling testimony of Mr. Colin Bower, whose two boys were abducted to Egypt in 2009. Mr. Bower indicated that Egypt has aided and abetted in the kidnapping and illegal holding of his sons, including by issuing false Egyptian passports for the two boys and by allowing them to exit the U.S. on the Egyptian Government-owned airline, EgyptAir. It will be very helpful to Members of Congress to receive an assessment from the GAO of the Egyptian Government's involvement in this and the other cases of child abduction from the United States.

I yield to my friend and colleague, Dr. Bera, for any comments he might have.

Mr. BERA. Mr. Chairman, thank you for convening this markup. I am pleased that the Foreign Affairs Committee and this subcommittee are proceeding with regular order as it moves legislation to the full committee. I want to focus for one moment on H.R. 1951, the Child Abduction and Return Act of 2013. I am pleased that the subcommittee was able to focus on this important issue. And I support many of the provisions contained within the legislation. However, I believe the State Department has expressed some concerns and possible unintended consequences of this bill. The punitive measures offered to the President under the legislation may discourage non-party nations, such as India, from signing or ratifying the Hague Convention. As this legislation moves to full committee, I would like to have a better understanding of the non-signators and what we can do to encourage their cooperation on this important issue. It is important that these countries join the Hague Convention.

I would also like to work with my colleagues and address these concerns and ensure that any legislation we pass will have the desired effect of reducing the number of child abductions. Again, thank you, Chairman Smith, for continuing your important work in this area. Congratulations on moving your legislation through the subcommittee, and I look forward to working with you on this important issue. I yield back.

Mr. SMITH. Thank you very much. Chair recognizes Mr. Weber.

Mr. WEBER. Mr. Chairman, thank you. I don't have any comments at this time.

Mr. SMITH. Okay. Mr. Meadows.

Mr. MEADOWS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman. And obviously, this committee just acted to approve three pieces of timely and necessary legislation that will better the lives of thousands of people. And I am proud that this committee has taken the initiative to address the ongoing humanitarian issues in Vietnam and in the Congo. And I want to commend the chairman and the ranking member for their leadership. The third bill we approve today, H.R. 1951, addresses parental child abduction and the Hague Convention. This is a good bill. I am proud to be a cosponsor and proud to have supported it today. I am also proud that we have been able to amend this bill and make it a little bit better. Last week, we heard powerful testimony on the foreign parental child abduction from parents of victims. And we heard that the foreign governments can often be complicit in these abductions, especially in non-Hague treaty countries. And one of those witnesses was Colin Bower. Mr. Bower's two sons, Noor and Ramsay, were abducted and taken to Egypt in 2009. They remain there today with 20 other American children.

Egypt is a country that we are working with and whose continued solvency depends on American aid, American intervention. And yet we hear heartbreaking stories like Mr. Bower's. Thankfully, Mr. Bower did not just share his story, but he shared recommendations on moving forward. And one of those recommendations was to require the GAO to report on the child abductions in Egypt, including the role of the Egyptian Government.

Today I offered an amendment to H.R. 1951 to do exactly that, and I look forward to reading the GAO's eventual report. And I want to thank Mr. Bower and all of those previous witnesses for sharing their stories. But I also want to thank the committee for supporting my amendment and moving this bill. And with that I yield back, Mr. Chairman. Thank you.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Meadows, thank you very much and thank you for authoring that very important amendment to this legislation. With that, I recognize Mr. Stockman.

Mr. STOCKMAN. Thank you, Mr. Chairman, for the compassion you have shown through all the years you have been here in Congress. And I appreciate that throughout the years you have stuck to it and when it would have been easy to roll over to Ways and Means or some other “important” committees; and your compassion is demonstrated by these bills that you put forth. And I just want to say something quickly about our friends in the DRC. I have been there many times. And they have great potential. This nation is, you know, nearly as large as Western Europe. And they have a great, great potential if they adhere to a civil society and stick to the rule of law, and let democracy flourish. I think this bill is going to go a long way in ensuring that the DRC will be successful in achieving its goals.

And I really appreciate you offering this bill. And I hope when it gets to the full committee that they realize the work and effort that you have put into this resolution. But I just wanted to point out the DRC has a great opportunity to take advantage of—and work cooperatively with the United States. And look forward to future hearings and testimony. Thank you.

Mr. SMITH. Thank you very much, Mr. Stockman.

I yield to Ms. Bass to speak on H. Res. 131.

Ms. BASS. Chairman Smith, again, thank you for holding today’s markup. I am delighted that we have worked in a bipartisan manner to pass today’s legislation. And did want to speak for a minute on H. Res. 131, Concerning the ongoing conflict in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the need for international efforts toward long-term peace, stability, and the observance of human rights. As you are well aware, in the DRC, an estimated 5 million people, which is just an incredible number, have died, and some 2 million have been displaced due to repeated cycles of war, conflict, violence, particularly sexual, and gender-based violence waged against women and children. It is time for this crisis to come to an end. Today’s markup takes an important step forward in efforts to raise awareness within the U.S. Congress and among all Americans of this horrific and tragic crisis.

I was recently in the Congo and heard from many people there. And I have heard from the Congolese diaspora here in the United States about the situation in the Congo. Currently, we have 55 Members of the House from both parties that have cosponsored this bill, and I plan to continue to call for bipartisan support for this legislation. It is also my understanding that efforts are underway to introduce similar legislation in the Senate.

Lastly, there has been a great deal of discussion around the need for a special envoy to the DRC in the Great Lakes region. This legislation calls for such an envoy, and Secretary Kerry in testimony before both the House and the Senate has indicated his plan to make an appointment. I am pleased that this effort is making progress and urge the Secretary to move swiftly to make his decision and develop a comprehensive strategy that relies on diplomacy and engagement to address the complex set of issues that stand as barriers to peace and stability in the DRC and the region.

Thank you, and I yield back my time.

Mr. SMITH. I yield to myself such time as I may consume. I want to thank the ranking member, Karen Bass, for introducing this important resolution. And I am very pleased to be original cosponsor. And it is supported, I know, by members of this subcommittee. This measure brings attention to the continuing, deplorable situation in the DRC in which more than two dozen militias, as well as the national army itself, continue to terrorize the country's population. The international community has been outraged by the staggering rate of sexual violence, which reports that nearly 50 women and girls being raped each hour in the DRC. The atrocities also include recruitment and physical and psychological torture of child soldiers. H. Res. 131 calls on the Nation of Africa's Great Lakes region, including the DRC Government itself, to take all necessary actions to live up to international law and their own agreements concerning noninterference in one another's affairs.

As we found out through several U.N. investigations and our subcommittee's three hearings last year, this has not always been the case. Unregulated cross-border militia activity and the plundering of natural resources in the DRC have made life for so many Congolese, especially those in the Eastern Congo, all but unbearable. The trade in illicit minerals and poached ivory has also served to fuel the conflict in the DRC.

The Atrocity Prevention Board, created in 2011, to coordinate U.S. policy to prevent mass atrocities and serious human rights violations is called upon by H. Res. 131 to work with regional and international partners to bring the tragedy of life in the Eastern Congo to a definitive end. The Atrocities Prevention Board is directed to "address, prevent, and ensure accountability for serious violations of humanitarian law and human rights abuses by all actors in the DRC."

While its neighbors share the blame for the international crisis that exists in the Great Lakes, H. Res. 131 also calls on the Government of the DRC to investigate and prosecute its own military forces and citizens responsible for human rights abuses and to proceed with democratic and security sector reforms which it has previously agreed to.

Would anyone else like to be heard on this?

I would like to now recognize myself to speak briefly on H.R. 1897. And I do want to thank my colleagues for their support of the Vietnam Human Rights Act of 2013. The subcommittee, as we all know, heard from witnesses at a hearing on April 11 that the Vietnam's Government continues to violate a broad array of fundamental human rights. The testimony we heard confirmed that religious, political, and ethnic persecution continue and that Vietnamese officials are complicit in human trafficking. At that hearing, just over a month ago, we heard from a sister of a Vietnamese woman who was forced to work in a brothel in Russia with 14 other Vietnamese women.

At another hearing last year, we heard about a group of Vietnamese workers who were trafficked to Jordan. In each of these cases, not only did officials from the Vietnamese Government fail to help the victims, but they actually cooperated with the traffickers to keep the trafficking operations going. I am pleased to report that following the April hearing and the sister's courageous testimony, the Vietnamese trafficking victims who were being held in Russia have been freed. But the Vietnamese Government must respect the human rights of all of its people, not only those who are fortunate enough to have their human rights violations publicized at a congressional hearing. For this reason, I have reintroduced the Vietnam Human Rights Act and I am glad the subcommittee voted it out today.

The purpose of H.R. 1897 is to promote the development of freedom and democracy in Vietnam. It seeks to do so primarily by stipulating that the United States can increase its non-humanitarian assistance to Vietnam above the 2012 Fiscal Year levels only when the President is able to certify to Congress that the Government of Vietnam has made substantial progress, operative words, substantial progress in establishing a democracy and promoting human rights, including respecting freedom of religion and releasing all political religious prisoners; respecting rights of freedom of expression, assembly and association, and releasing all political prisoners, independent journalists, and labor activists; repealing and revising laws that criminalize peaceful dissent, independent media, unsanctioned religious activity, and nonviolent demonstrations in accordance with the international human rights standards; respecting the human rights of members of all ethnic groups, and then taking all appropriate steps, including prosecution of government officials, to end any government complicity in human trafficking. This condition on increased non-humanitarian assistance may be waived in the national interest of the United States, if any such increase is offset by assistance to increase training on Vietnam's international human rights obligations, to support noncommercial rule of law programming, or to support measures to overcome the Vietnamese Government's jamming of Radio Free Asia.

H.R. 1897 also includes several senses of Congress. Vietnam has announced it is seeking membership in the U.N. Human Rights Council, a vote that will be held at this fall's U.N. General Assembly. Given the Vietnamese Government's abysmal human rights record, the bill calls on the Secretary of State to strongly oppose Vietnam's candidacy.

The bill also indicates that Vietnam should be redesignated a Country of Particular Concern for religious freedom, pursuant to the International Religious Freedom Act of 1998, and that its tier ranking, pursuant to the Trafficking Victims Protection Act, should reflect the fact that the government is not making significant efforts to eliminate human trafficking.

Again, I want to thank my colleagues for their support. I yield to any member who would like to speak. Mr. Meadows.

Mr. MEADOWS. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank you for your comments and for highlighting this issue. And I have been in some of these hearings as we have heard the just riveting testimony from so many of the affected families. And time and time again, the recommendation was that we put forth meaningful legislation that does not just talk about our support for human rights, but really makes sure that it is measurable and that it has consequences. I am hopeful that we will see speedy action on this particular piece of legislation.

I was unaware of many of the unbelievable atrocities that were happening until we heard testimony in this very room, and I want to thank the chairman for highlighting it, but also for putting forth this legislation that I hope will see an end to some of the unbelievable atrocities that are occurring. Specifically, to have an appointment of a country with the known violations to the Human Rights Council would be very problematic and would send the wrong message. So I agree and concur and would encourage the Secretary to oppose that until we see significant responses on behalf of the Vietnam Government. With that, I yield back. Thanking the chair.

Mr. SMITH. Are there any other members who wish to be heard?

If not, I do want to thank my distinguished colleagues for their participation and support for these bills on both sides of the aisle. This markup is concluded. And we are finished.

[Whereupon, at 11:57 a.m., the subcommittee was adjourned.]
