Farm Service Agency

Brent Hampy State Executive Director, Missouri

Brent Hampy was appointed by the Trump Administration to serve as the state executive director of the Missouri Farm Service Agency (FSA) in October 2018.

Hampy was raised on a Century Farm in Morgan County, Missouri. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri-Columbia with a bachelor's degree in wildlife management. He also holds a master's degree in range and wildlife from Texas Tech University.

Following graduate school, Hampy and his wife, Connie, began raising hogs, cattle, corn, sorghum, soybeans and wheat. The couple currently reside on a farm in Pettis County.

Prior to his appointment, Hampy served as Pettis County Eastern District Commissioner since 2012, responsible for 865 miles of county roads and 163 county bridges. In addition to farming, he has worked in commercial excavation as a survey crew assistant, laborer and heavy equipment operator.

Hampy was active in his county Pork Producer's Association and served as Pettis County Farm Bureau president. As president, he helped in policy development for the benefit agriculture and local communities. He was elected to serve as a director for District 4 on the Missouri Farm Bureau State Board of Directors.

The Hampy's have two daughters, who are also involved in the agriculture industry, and four grandchildren.
