Sean McKeon State Executive Director, Delaware

Sean McKeon was appointed by the Trump Administration to serve as the state executive director of the Delaware USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) in April 2018.

McKeon has more than 25 years of experience in public policy and legislative relations. He most recently served as director of communications and community relations for Mountaire Farms, Inc., the seventh largest poultry processor in the nation. McKeon has also served as association president for the North Carolina Fisheries Association, and was the founder and executive director of the Northeast Regional Forest Foundation. He also served as brokerage director for Herbert L. Jamison & Co.

McKeon has served on numerous state and federal advisory boards including serving as chairman of the communications committee for the National Chicken Council. He has also been involved in the North Carolina Poultry Federation Board of Directors, the Delaware Manufacturers Association Board of Directors and the Delmarva Poultry Industry Board of Directors.

He attended New York's Columbia College where he studied political science and law.

McKeon resides in Milford.
