SUBJECT: Combination of National Tsunami Warning Center (NTWC)
 and Pacific Tsunami Warning Center (PTWC) Products
 on Single Website effective On November 07, 2016

On November 07, 2016, the NTWC website will complete a major update allowing it to make both NTWC and PTWC tsunami products (text and graphics) available. The NTWC website will assume the tsunami.gov URL, and upon completion of testing and verification, the current version of the tsunami.gov website will be discontinued.

The current NTWC and PTWC website URLs are

<http://wcatwc.arh.noaa.gov/>
<http://ptwc.weather.gov/>

The content of the NTWC website will be fully transitioned to the new site by the effective date of this notification. The content of the PTWC website will also be transitioned by that time, but the original site will remain online until it is determined the new site accurately provides the content of the original site. This parallel operations period is expected to last about 6 months.
