Office of Inspector General

ABOUT OIG

The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has the largest Office of Inspector General (OIG) in the Federal Government, with approximately 1,600 employees. Our mission is to protect the integrity of HHS programs and the health and welfare of the people they serve. OIG is an independent and objective organization that fights fraud, waste, and abuse and promotes efficiency, economy, and effectiveness in HHS programs and operations. A nationwide network of evaluators, auditors, and investigators carry out our mission, with assistance from OIG legal counsel and management.

The OIG's Office of Evaluation and Inspections (OEI) is at the forefront of the nation's fight against fraud, waste, and abuse in health and human service programs.

ABOUT US

At the OIG's Office of Evaluation and Inspections, we strive to protect the integrity of Federal programs and the health and welfare of the individuals these programs serve. Our evaluations are high-quality research that promote positive change throughout all types of HHS programs (Medicare, Medicaid, FDA, NIH, CDC, Indian Health Service, and more). Our work is important to Congress and routinely receives national media attention.

We develop high-impact evaluations that:

- Fight and stop health care fraud, waste, and abuse throughout the country
- Protect vulnerable populations
- Ensure the quality of health care services nationwide
- Oversee health insurance marketplaces for the American people
- Spark national conversations

YOUR IMPACT

- Touch the lives of all Americans through innovative work
- Oversee a Department with a budget of over a trillion dollars
- Save the taxpayers billions of dollars
- Improve the national discourse by producing work covered by national media
- Influence health care policies and legislation in Congress
- Present practical recommendations for improving HHS program operations

YOUR DEVELOPMENT

Work as part of a team to design and conduct high-quality evaluations that improve Federal programs.

Benefit from unique access to data that allows you to develop your analytical skill set in a professional environment.

Experience an environment of continuous learning through coaching, mentoring, and formal training. OEI believes that individual growth leads to organizational success.

Develop alongside other motivated, energetic, and talented individuals. Organizationally, OEI is committed to diversity, and values rigorous analysis, critical thinking, strong writing, and effective collaboration.

Ann Maxwell, Assistant Inspector General for OEI, testifying before the House Committee on Energy and Commerce

“We will continue to focus our full array of resources on protecting the Medicare program, and we stand ready to work with Congress, the Department, and others to improve program integrity.”
