Section 14(c) and Subminimum Wage Employment

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

The U.S. Department of Labor is here to help all workers in the United States—including workers with disabilities. You can only be paid less than the federal minimum wage if your employer has met the requirements and has a certificate from the U.S. Department of Labor. You can contact us if you have questions about your paycheck. By law, your employer cannot fire or treat you differently for contacting us.

WE CAN:

Answer questions in person or by telephone about your rights and protections as a worker.

Investigate employers and get you wages you may be owed.

Help you find assistance with other work-related problems.

Make referrals to connect you with other resources.

Our services are free and private.
