

Feb 22, 1956 -

The privilege of being permitted to read George Washington's farewell address is an inspiring experience and singular honor. Every American should study this memorable message. It gives one a renewed sense of pride in our republic. It arouses those wholesome and creative emotions of patriotism and love of country. The message is as important and enduring as the life and deeds of our first president.

Hubert H. Humphrey
U. S. S. Minn.