

February 23, 1853

Pursuant to the Resolution of the Senate, and appointment by the Vice-President, the Farewell Address of George Washington, was read by me on the 23rd of February, the 22nd being Sunday.

I noted particularly these words:
"Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports."

and
"It, in the opinion of the people, the distribute or modification of the constituting power be in any particular way, let it be corrected by any amendment in the way which the Constitution designate - But let there be no change by usurpation - for though this, in one instance may be the instrument of good, it is the customary way by which free governments are destroyed."
