

In these days, when the troubles of the mind and the conscience are multiplying, as we tend to turn more to the material and less to the spiritual for the solutions to them, it is correct that Americans pause to remember their basic sources of strength — these sources are carefully outlined in the documents left us by those wise men who, thru God, created our republic — It will forever be a source of pride that it fell my lot to read to my colleagues & thru them, the American people, the inspiring and thought provoking farewell message of George Washington on this 22nd day of Feb.

1957

Barry Caldwell
USS Arizona

The Past is Prologue — Study the Past