Dear Chair Pallone and Ranking Member McMorris Rodgers:

We have come together to collectively and respectfully urge you to immediately move the Save America's Forgotten Equines (SAFE) Act (H.R. 3355/S. 2732) for a vote in order to protect the equine community in the United States. The funneling of American horses to slaughter for human consumption abroad is causing significant harm to the equine industry, adoption and rescue organizations, horse owners and enthusiasts, and the horses themselves. We all share the goal of advancing equine welfare and this is a critical moment for Congress to act to end a sad chapter of American history that has led to millions of horses being slaughtered.

The Final Stretch Alliance to End Horse Slaughter is an innovative effort by equine industry and animal welfare organizations to enact a ban on horse slaughter. Racing industry groups have demonstrated real leadership in committing resources for aftercare and career transition programs, instituting and enforcing track policies against sale to slaughter, and spearheading state and federal policies prohibiting horse slaughter. These programs are critical, but until the law shuts down the slaughter pipeline itself, no horse, no matter how beloved or decorated, will be truly safe. For this reason, we have joined forces to call on Congress to pass the SAFE Act now.

Horses have not been slaughtered in this country since 2007 thanks to yearly Congressional action to ensure that no federal funds are used on this cruel practice. The American public overwhelmingly opposes horse slaughter and wants to see our nation's equines protected and treated humanely. Polling released this year found that a massive bipartisan majority – 83% of Americans – opposes horse slaughter. Export for slaughter has been diminishing, but thousands of equines still continue to be shipped across our borders each year for this purpose while this broadly supported, commonsense legislation languishes.

We are proud of the equine community's leadership in developing retraining and rehoming programs for horses and establishing safety-net services for horse owners in need. We are doing our part, but without action from Congress, we are fighting a never-ending battle. Congress must close the loophole that allows our nation's horses to slip through the cracks. For the sake of our horses, their owners, and the health and well-being of the equine industry itself, Congress must take the crucial step to end this unnecessary and harmful practice for good. Please pass the SAFE Act – our future is counting on it.

Thank you for your consideration of this important issue. We stand ready to help.

Sincerely,
