Markup of 24 Bills

September 21, 2022

Today, our Committee marks up 4 bipartisan health bills, two bipartisan consumer protection bills, and 18 Republican Resolutions of Inquiry.

I support the bipartisan package of health legislation that we'll mark up today. The four bills squarely address persistent problems that keep Americans from getting the quality care they deserve.

Unfortunately, most of the day will be spent on Resolutions of Inquiry that appear to be more about delaying and obstructing the work of this Committee and the House than about conducting proper oversight.

I urge my colleagues to move through these Resolutions quickly so we can return to the productive bipartisan work that historically drives this Committee.

Thank you and I yield back.
