Aloha and Hau'oli la Maka Kanaka (Happy Holidays)!

Well, the summer has finally come to an end, "fall" is here, and we are all poised to embark on the holiday frenzy! And while we may be just a little jealous of our mainland family members as they bundle up and watch the leaves turn and fall, we can always just pull out the holiday print aloha attire and rake up the plumeria blossoms (or whatever other flowering tree is coloring your lawn!). This is, truly, my favorite time of year—the amazing outfits that show up for Halloween; the camaraderie of the Marine Corps birthday celebrations and balls; the gratitude we express at Thanksgiving for our blessings of family, community, and freedom; and the anticipation on the faces of children as the time for Santa draws near. We are more charitable and open to others—as Bill Murray so aptly stated in Scrooged, "It's the time of year when we become the type of person we always thought we could be."

Mrs. Mary Forde-February
HQSVCBN MFP
Key Volunteer Advisor

Now that the height of the PCS season has passed, we welcome the many new families who have joined the battalion, and look forward to connecting with you! Between section and battalion-sponsored holiday events, as well as scheduled activities from MCCS and the surrounding communities, there are many opportunities to get involved, and certainly no greater weather to play in, so get out of the house and join us!

This year Headquarters and Service Battalion will be coordinating an "Adopt-a-Family" program during the holiday season. We recognize that living in Hawaii is expensive, and we want to help make the holidays a bit happier for those in the command who are having a tough time making ends meet. Be on the lookout for details on how you, your family, and/or your section can participate! It's also time for the annual Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots drive, and this is just one more way to put a smile on the face of a child! Look for upcoming collection sites in the battalion headquarters and at local base exchanges.

As you probably know, the gift of time is one of the most valued of all, so I'll take this opportunity to ask that you consider contributing some of yours as a Key Volunteer. Did you know that we have over 450 families on the roles at Headquarters and Service Battalion? There are so many areas that we need help with! You could be a point of contact for your section's phone tree, or contribute to the newsletter, or do research on available resources, or welcome aboard new families, or help with mail-outs, or coordinate or help with HQSVCBN family day events—as much or as little time you can offer would be so appreciated, and you'll feel great knowing you're making a difference! We even reimburse for mileage and child care!

Of course, please also take time to be good to yourself. Cherish the child on your lap. Savor family dinners. Walk the neighborhood and look at the lights. Read, sew, quilt—whatever renews your spirit. And may the blessings you bestow on others return to you a hundredfold.

Don't Miss the HQSVCBN MFP Holiday Event!!!

Friday Dec., 19th 6:00 ~ 8:00 PM
Sunset Lanai at Camp H. M. Smith
(next to Bordelon Field)

There will be lots of food, music, kids activities, door prizes and photos with Santa. Families are encouraged to attend.

See you there!!

Greetings From Our Commanding Officer

Aloha,

"It's the most wonderful time of the year." It seems that everyone is singing this same chorus. The smiles and the singing could be attributed to the return of kids to school, the return of our Marines and Sailors from the long deployment in support of Operation Enduring Freedom and Iraqi Freedom, or possibly the anticipation of the holiday season. I think it is the combination of all of these factors that has beset us with this tune and ever-present grins.

Yes the holiday season is upon us. Some would say the season officially begins with Thanksgiving. I believe the season begins with the celebration of the Marine Corps birthday. This year we will gather for the enlisted ball on 7 November and the officer ball on 8 November. The traditions associated with the Marine Corps birthday should cause us to reflect on the past, to appreciate those with whom we serve, and to ask ourselves how can we make our Corps better. Ladies, you have 37 shopping days until the ball.

In the Febuary household, my wife would celebrate Christmas every day if given the opportunity. Come and visit our house on November 10th; you will see the "Marine tree" in the window. The outside lights usually have to wait until days after the ball as well as the many other items on the "honey do" list. The hurried pace of merrymaking can become overwhelming if we allow it to catch us unprepared. Here are three things to consider as you plan your holiday:

- Make time for yourself
- Adopt a Marine or Sailor
- Adopt a needy family

Taking care of yourself as well as taking care of others helps to rejuvenate the spirit and enhances our sense of purpose. The rest is up to you. Remember that every plan is only good until the first Christmas sale—keep your options open. Herald in the New Year by celebrating the homecoming of returning loved ones and, more importantly, the safe return of our Marines and Sailors. "It's the most wonderful time of the year!"

Mahalo!

A Word From Your Family Readiness Officer

Greetings to all!

The holiday season is finally here. We all have our traditions that we follow and as the years go by, you think back to previous holidays and recall many wonderful moments shared with family and friends. You look forward to adding another joyful season to your memory.

Family Readiness Officer CWO4 Lecia Negaard

to your heart or they will be traveling to see you. Whether you are traveling or not, start your planning now so that you can truly enjoy the season and those around you. Make time for others, take time for yourself and share your holiday spirit!

Have a safe and happy holiday season!

During this time of year many of you will be traveling to spend time with those close

Chaplain's Corner

As the Thanksgiving season is upon us soon, what will we focus on this year? What does Thanksgiving mean to us, whatever our religious background?

General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, writing in 1912 said this:

While women weep as they do now, I'll fight;
 While little children go hungry, as they do now, I'll fight;
 While men go to prison, in and out, in and out, as they do now, I'll fight;
 While there is a drunkard left,
 While there is a poor lost girl upon the streets,
 While there remains one dark soul without the light of god, I'll fight--I'll fight to the very end.

CDR Jeffrey Rhodes
 Chaplain, U S Navy

In Ezekiel 34, God says that God will personally do this by bandaging the hurt, strengthening the sick, leaving the healthy and strong to play, and giving them proper food. In this story from Ezekiel, some of the sheep are injured or wounded or hurt. God will bandage them and bind them up.

Then, after God has intervened to take care of the flock, the caring shepherding function will be carried on by God's beloved servant David, who now--blessed by God--has the potential to transform life.

Do we believe that we--blessed by God--have the potential to help transform life? Do we believe that we can make a difference to the sick, the injured, the hungry, the impoverished?

Maybe this Thanksgiving, that is what we really need to focus on. . . .

Key Volunteers provide a communications link between the commander and the families of the Marines and Sailors in each unit. . . . which is critical to maintaining family readiness at any give time.

 Key Volunteer Trainer,
 MCBH

The Key Volunteer Network is a command-sponsored group of spouses that assists the commander with a variety of family readiness objectives. Most commonly, Key Volunteers provide three distinct and closely related services: Key Volunteers provide a communications link between the commander and the families of the Marines and Sailors in each unit. Key Volunteers teach the families how to take their concerns back to the command when necessary. And finally, information and referral is what they do most. If you would like to be a part of this wonderfully fun and critically important organization within your section, please attend one of the upcoming trainings or refresher trainings.

Upcoming Training:

- Oct 28-30 5:30—9:00
- Nov 18-20 8:30-12:00
- Dec No Training

FRO training will be scheduled as needed. Just contact Misty Stelly to schedule. Refresher training is the 2nd day of class. If you needed only MCBH information please call and sign up for training but you will only need to come to the second day of class. Please contact Misty Stelly at 257-2410 or stellymm@mcbh.usmc.mil to sign up for training.

Cyber-News ~ Comm From The G-6

Greetings from the MFP G-6. Earlier this summer we welcomed home our Marines who were deployed in support of OEF/OIF. MFP G-6 is now winding down from the annual summer rotation of personnel and the demobilization of our Reserve Marines and is starting to settle back in to a pre-OIF hostilities state while continuing to prepare for future training exercises and contingencies throughout our Pacific Area of Responsibility (AOR).

To the families, thank you for your continued support, commitment, and patience. It is your loyal support that allows your Marine or family member to focus and concentrate on the mission at hand. Your daily commitment and patience reassured your loved one that while he or she serves their country they are not alone. Thank you.

Over the past couple of months we have had some great news:

Maj Mark Clester and his wife Chaplain Judy Malana welcomed a new son, Jonah Aaron, born 28 July 2003, weighing 4 lbs. 5 oz. and measuring in at 17.5 inches. He was nine weeks premature. Jonah had his reporting-in orders modified allowing him to check-in early to enjoy the Hawaiian paradise.

Our heartfelt wishes for successful diagnosis, hip/back therapy, and speedy recoveries for MGySgt Alfredo Bonilla.

Our warmest desires for a successful recovery from hip surgery and recovery for GySgt Dawneveti Lilley.

Sgt Kirk Goree and his wife Minerva welcomed a new daughter, Xaia Elizabeth, born 2:14 p.m., 22 August 2003, wearing pink shorts and weighing in at 6 lbs. 8oz. CONGRATULATIONS!

A Hearty WELCOME ABOARD to some new Marines and families at MFP G-6:

Maj Richard J. Bordonaro and his wife Jennifer.

Maj Pete Pike and his wife Marilyn, son Anthony, and grandsons Nicholas and Matthew.

Maj Paul L. Stokes and his wife Carmen.

HOMESCHOOLING ON OAHU!

Hawaii is such a wonderful place to live. We encourage all of you to make the most of your time here in Hawaii. For those of us with children, schooling is always an issue. Each of us wants the best for our kids, and Hawaii has some wonderful schools to make sure our children are getting the education they need. However, some families want options, and Hawaii has one of the largest homeschooling networks of any state. There are so many resources, groups, websites and field trips... too many to mention in one informational article. So here are a few to get you 'surfing' through the Hawaiian websites associated with Homeschooling.

For many families here on Oahu homeschooling is a very normal and exceptional way of life, all at the same time. It is a great way to teach your children about your family's values and educational directions, experimenting with real-life science each day. It also is exceptional in that you choose your direction... sometimes it is child-lead and other times it is text/or parent-lead.

So, homeschooling is not only one way of teaching a child...it is many and diverse.

Here are just a few of the websites to help you better understand all the groups and possibilities for homeschoolers.

www.hawaiihomeschoolassociation.org

(Hawaii Homeschool Association)

www.catholic-homeschool.com

(T.O.R.C.H. Traditions of Roman Catholic Homes)

www.gomilpitas.com/homeschooling/directory/Beginning.htm

(A to Z Home's Cool, Beginning to Homeschool)

www.hslda.org (Homeschool Legal Defense Association)

These are a few of the sites that have helped me sift through the possibilities for homeschooling while living on Oahu. I hope this gives you an idea of the amazing amount of information available about homeschooling and interests you enough to check it out. It is a wonderful way of life! And, as many educators would agree, take every opportunity you can to challenge your child each day to LOVE learning, and seize the day!
