FOREWORD

PURPOSE: The Consolidated Cataloging Data Distribution List (CCDDL) is compiled and maintained by the Directorate of Customer Products and Services (DLIS-V), a Directorate at the Defense Logistics Information Service (DLIS) located in Battle Creek, Michigan. It serves primarily as an address list for distribution of data, information, instructions and operational guidance concerning the Federal Catalog System. It also serves as an address list for communication between the activities which participate in the Federal Cataloging Program.

This consolidated list provides a single, ready reference for cataloging contact points, to show the kinds and quantity of cataloging data distributed by the Directorate of Logistics Information Management (DLIS-S), and reduce time and effort required to maintain multiple lists. The listings referenced in this publication are shown below.

Compliance with this procedure facilitates the maintenance of this list and increases its effectiveness.

(c) Unless absolutely necessary, names of individuals should not be included in any "Attention" line or address.

TELEPHONES:

When telephone communication is necessary for collaboration, exchange, or transmittal of cataloging information, the appropriate area code, telephone numbers, and office extensions are included for that specific office indicated by the "Attention" line in the activity's address. Persons utilizing long distance telephone service should consider the time differentials when calls are made between activities located in different time zones or on different time standards.

CHANGES:

Send all requests for additions, deletions, or changes to the information on this list by letter, FAX or E-Mail in the same format shown on this list. Direct through appropriate channels prescribed by applicable agreements, instructions, and regulations.
