

INTELLIGENCE

1. MILITARY INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence on any foreign military or military –related situation or activity, which is significant to military policy-making, the planning and conduct of military operations and activities, and readiness.

- 1.1. Ensure that all command interest in military intelligence activities receive attention.
- 1.2. Provide to the staff and other headquarters a single point of contact for coordination on military intelligence issues.
- 1.3. Function as the intelligence oversight proponent for the ATAG ARNG.
- 1.4. Represent the ATAG ARNG at meetings, seminars, planning events and force structure discussions that concern military intelligence issues.
- 1.5. Disseminate foreign intelligence to commanders and others users in support of mobilization requirements and readiness.
- 1.6. Collect, process, produce, and disseminate foreign intelligence through appropriate army sources/systems.
- 1.7. Request, receive, and process information and foreign intelligence from other intelligence sources to include adjacent units, higher echelons, and other services.
- 1.8. Exercise staff supervision over organic and attached collection management, dissemination and intelligence production elements.
- 1.9. Furnish the DCSOPS an assessment of operational procedures, orders, plans, and similar documents to identify friendly vulnerabilities in support of operations security (OPSEC).
- 1.10. Assist the DCSOPS in information operations, to include command and control warfare (C2W).
- 1.11. Supervise the command personnel security program.
- 1.12. Supervise the command information security program.
- 1.13. Review subordinate unit plans, orders, and sops for intelligence Procedures.
- 1.14. Prepare the intelligence portion of the command sop.
- 1.15. Prepare the intelligence portion of plans and orders, reports, Summaries, and studies.
- 1.16. Determine map requirements and manage the acquisition and Distribution of maps in coordination with the DCSOPS, who is Responsible for map product production.

2. INTELLIGENCE TRAINING: The area of intelligence training involves supervising this training of the command in coordination with the DCSOPS and the Commander.

- 2.1. Prepare the Command Intelligence training plan.

- 2.2. Prepare the threat portion of scenarios to include sequence of portrayed foreign enemy operations to support exercise objectives.
- 2.3. Make staff visits to and staff inspections of intelligence training activities.
- 2.4. Exercise staff supervision on MI support to the command's intelligence training.
- 2.5. Supervise the training of intelligence specialists who are assigned or attached to the ARNG staff.