COVER

Contractors always have played significant roles in Army operations, primarily by providing base operations support on an as-needed basis. The increasing need for contractors on the battlefield presents new issues for the Army in determining when and where to employ civilians. Articles beginning on pages 11 and 14 address the need for doctrine to guide the Army in using contractors to augment military operations. (Photo courtesy of Brown and Root Services Corporation.)

This medium is approved for the official dissemination of material designed to keep individuals within the Army knowledgeable of current and emerging developments within their areas of expertise for the purpose of enhancing their professional development.

By Order of the Secretary of the Army:
