The records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Inc Angeles, disclosed that EXCHI BERTHOLD PRINCIPLE BEECHT was born at Augsburg. Germany on February 10, 1892, and that he arrived in the United States at the port of San Pedro on July 21, 1941 on the S.S. Annie Jackson from Helsingfore, Finland. Accompanying RECOM were his wife, HELEN WEIGHT and two children STEFAH and BIRBIRE, then eighteen and trelve years of age, respectively. The above records also revealed that BRECHT married in Berlin in 1928. Bracar declared Ms Aptention to become a citizen of the United States on December 1 1941, at Ios Angelos.

Subject registered as an enemy alien in February, 1942, receiving registration number 7624464. Information contained in his application for a registration certificate indicates that he was born in Germany in February 10, 1898; that he arrived in the United States in July, 1941; that his declaration of intention was made on December 8, 1941; that he was last a citizen of Germany, although superriated by that country. This application further states that Subject belongs to an author's organization known as the fen Club, and that he issided at 817 - 25th Street, Senta Ponica, at the time of application. (Since that date REFERIT gave notice that he was moving to 1063 - 25th Street, Santa Monica, where he presently resides.) In his application BEECHT gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. William Dieteria as persons who could vouch for his loyalty. Although the application in question is made out to Eugen Berthold Friedrich Brecht, Subject signed the oath in connection therewith as BERTOLT EUGEN FRIEDRICH BRECHT.

RECHT is described as follows:

Age 45
Height 5' 9"
Weight 130
Eyes Brown
Hair Dark brown

Complexion Dark

Scars and marks Scar on left cheek

On February 26, 1943, Source "A" advised that she knew it. and inc. BRECHT in Germany, where they were Communists. Source "A" stated that there was no doubt about their political attitude at that time, as it was evidenced in their activities, associations and in the writings of BRECHT, who is a post and author.

On March 5, 1943, Source "B" advised that he knew EMECHT by reputation in Germany, where he was considered a radical and an associate of persons with Communistic inclinations. Source "B" stated that he became acquainted with MECHT personally in the United States and found him still a radical and an absence of Capitalism. According to Source "B", BHECHT recently finished work on the moving picture entitled HANGHEN AISO DIE", in the production of which he seted as storywriter and Technical Adviser on Underground activity in Europe. The authenticity of "HANGHEN AISO DIE" is largely due, Source "B" stated, to the work of Subject, whose knowledge of the Underground was attained through personal accurate. Source "B" stated that Subject was imprisoned by the Nazis at one than and is believed to have been severely treated by them.

A copy of a book of poems written by HERTOLT ERECHT was obtained this effice. This book is entitled SVENDBORGER GEDICHTEN and is written forman language. It was published in 1937 by the Halik Publishing House, land, under the patronage of DIDEROT GESELLSCHAFT and the American forman Cultural Freedom. A number of poems and excerpts of moems contains book are set out below:

The following verse is contained on the title page and is dated

Fraking refuge under the Danish thatched roof, friends, occasionally send you a few words

Startled by bloody visions coming across sound and forest.
Use that which reaches you with caution!
Yellowed books and partial reports are my basis.

If we see each other again, I will gladly apprentice myself again."

A poem entitled "Song Against the War" is contained on Pages 22 and 23.

The proletarist is dispatched to the war
To fight bravely and without thought of self.
It is not told why and for whom,
But it is not for himself.

(Chorus) To hell with your war! Wage it yourself!

We will turn the guns around

And wage another war.

That will be the right one.

The Generals remain behind.

It may be that the proletariat too will find something to este

(Chorus) (Same as Verse I)

The proletariat builds the machines of war for poor pay so that they can kill with them Many a proleterian mother's son.

The proletariat pays for defeat;
The proletariat pays for victory.
Therefore, they will plan many a bloody war with the proletariat,

"Song of the United Front" is contained on Page 24.

Pecause man is human,

He wants something to eat, if you please.

Falk doesn't satisfy him,

Since it doesn't deliver any food.

(Chorus) Therefore to the left, two, three! Therefore two, three!

Where your place is comrade.

"Because man is human,
He doesn't like boots in his face
He doesn't like to see slaves under him,

"Because the proletariat is the proletariat,
No one else will free it.
The emancipation of the worker

"Resolution" is contained on Page 25.

You made laws to enslave us.

The laws will not be obeyed in the future,

In consideration of the fact that we no longer wish to be slaves.

(Chorus) In consideration of the fact that you then threaten us with guns and cannons,

We have decided to fear bad living more than death.

We want to establish once and for all that only panes of glass Separate us from good bread, which we lack.

In consideration of the fact that houses are empty while you leave us without shelter, we have decided to occupy them
Because the slums we live in do not suit us any longer.
(Chorus as above)

In consideration of the fact that there is too much coal the we freeze without it,

In consideration of the fact that we do not trust the Government No matter what it promises, We have decided to establish a good life for ourselves, now, Under our own leadership.

(Chorus as above)

"In consideration of the fact that you listen only to cannons-You can't understand any other language-We have to turn the cannons on you-Yes, that would do the trick."

The "Invincible Inscription" as found on Page 38.

MAT the time of the world war, in a cell of the Italian prison, San Carlo, full of arrested soldiers, drunks and thieves, a Socialist soldier scratched on the wall with a copying pencil: "Hail Lenin.

Way at the top in the half dark cell, hardly visible, but written in monstrous letters.

When the keeper saw it, they sent a painter with a pail of lime, and with a long handled brush he covered the threatening inscription. Since he, however, only traced the characters with the lime, There stood up in the cell, now in lime:

"Hail Lenin.

"I second painter painted over the whole thing with a broad brush, so that it couldn't be sean for hours, but toward morning, when the lime dried, the inscription again appeared:

Fail Lenin.

Then the keeper sent a mason with a chisel after the inscription, and he scratched out letter by letter, for an hour, and when he had finished, there stood high up in the cell, now colorless, but cut deep into the wall, the invincible inscription:
Whil Ienin
"How then remove the wall, said the soldier".

*Demolition of the Ship Oekawa by the Creat is contained on the beginning of the year 1922, I signed on the 6,000 ton steamer than, built four years previously for two million dollars by the ted States Shipping Board. He took on a cargo of champagne and the way in Hamburg for Rio. Since the pay was poor, we felt the need of drowning our sorrows in alcohol, so several cases of champagna found their way to the crew's quarters. But four days out of Hambu one could hear the clinking of glasses and the songs of carefred ligo in the officers' quarters and even on the bridge and in the hart room. Several times the ship left its course. But we rest if de Janeiro through all kinds of fortunate circumstances. Our counted one hundred cases less champagne when unloading. But sin couldn't find a better crew in Brazil, he had to get along further us. We took on over a thousand tons of frozen meat for Hamburg. few days at sea the worry about bad pay and uncertain old age overca us, and one of us in despair put much too much oil in the fire, which blazed out of the stack over the whole upper deck, so that boats, way bridge and chart room burned up. To keep from sinking, we took part in putting the fire out, in order to save much of the deck, but we grumbled about bad pay (uncertain future) and didn't exert ourselves too much. It would be easy to rebuild at some cost: they saved enough money on cur pay.

"Too much worry in the prime of life makes men age quickly and makes" them unfit for the struggle for life. So one fine day thedynamos burned out, because we had to save our strength. Dynamos require care which is not given by unhappy people. We were then without light. At first me used oil lamps to prevent colliding with other ships, but a tired mate, disheartened by the thoughts of his unhappy old age, threw the lamps over board to save work. About this time, a short distance from Wadeira, the meat in the refrigerator began to stink because of the failure of the dynamos. Unfortunately, a distraught seamen pumped nearly all the fresh water out instead of the bilge water. There was still enough to drink, but not enough for the boiler. Thus we had to take salt water. for steam, which caused the pipes to become stopped with salt. It took a lot of time to clean them out. We had to do that seven times. Then there was a breakdown in the engine room. Grinning, we repaired that. The Oskawa limbed slowly to Madeira. There were no parts there to make repairs of the proportion of those now necessary. We simply took on water, some lamps and a little oil for the lamps.

"It appears that the dynamos were completely ruined and as a result the cooling system didn't work and the stench of rotting meat became understand bearable for our exhausted nerves. The skipper went around with a revolver—a sign of insulting mistrust! One of us, beside himself because of this unworthy treatment, let steam into the pipes of the oding system so that the damned meat was at least cooked.

Con that afternoon, the entire crew sat and figured diligently what the cargo would cost the United States. Toward the end of the trip, we were even successful in improving our record: Off the coast of the cold gave out so that we had to be towed to Hamburg at great delining meat caused our skipper a great deal of worry. The to the graveyard. Any child, we thought, could thus see that was really too small."

the "Control Committee" when the four agitators return to give an account of their work and especially of the fact that they have been forced to kill a young Communist comrade whose intentions were good but whose death was deemed a necessity by the four agitators since his activity threatened to endanger the Communist movement among the Chinese.

In order to explain their position to the "Control Committee", the four agitators re-enact for that body their activity in likden.

In the first of these scenes, the four agitators explain that they were from Moscow, enroute to Mukden to spread propaganda and to support the Chinese party, and stated that they required the services of a guide and an automobile. The Young Comrade who explains that he is in favor of the measures of the Communist Party, consents to act as a guide for the four agitators who further explain to him their purpose as "bringing information about their situation to the uninformed; bringing class consciousness to the oppressed and the experience of the revolution to the class conscious."

Before he may go as a guide for the four agitators, the Young Comrade obtains permission to do so from his superior, the head of party headquarters at an outpost of the Soviet Union. This party head explains to the agitators and the Young Comrade that they will have to cross the border into Mikden in disguise and will have to remain simply unknown workers "in the interest of Communism" and "in agreement with the onward march of the proletarian masses of all countries approving world revolution".

When the four agitators and the Young Comrade went into Mikden, they instructed the Young Comrade to spread propaganda among the coolies towing a rice boat on the river. They specifically instructed the Young Comrade not to be overcome by sympathy for the coolies, thus being impelled to help them, but rather, to merely stir them up to demand better conditions of work. When the Young Comrade sees the sorry plight of the coolies, he cannot restrain himself, however, from assisting them, and he was immediately chased by the authorities.

The four agitators explained that this activity on the part of the Young Comrade endangered all of them, thereby endangering the movement.

を 100mm では、 100mm では、 100mm できる。 100mm できる 100mm できる

In the next scene, the four agitators explained that they founded cells in industries and instructed the first functionaries as to how to print forbidded literature secretly. When part of a textile factory went out on strike and the remainder of workers continued at their jobs, the four agitators instructed the Young Comrade to go to the factory gate and distribute pamphlets. This, the Young Comrade does with the result that he becomes involved in a brawl in which a pliceman was killed.

The four agitators consider this a mistake because the Young Comrade then had to flee instead of distributing pamphlets and the Folice Force was strengthened. The four agitators reasoned that the Young Comrade should have simply continued his task of spreading propaganda instead of involving himself in a fight, the purpose of which was to rectify some small injustice.

In the next scene, the four agitators explain that they taught the workers to transform their fight for better wages into a fight for power. They taught them to use weapons and demonstrations. They attempted to use to their own purposes a quarrel which had arisen between the British and the Manchurian authorities. It was hoped by the four agitators that the Manchurians would arm the workers in order to fight the English. They saw therein an opportunity for the workers to gain power through force of arms. The Young Comrade is sent to a rich employer to encourage him in arming the coolies. Since he cannot stand the employer's attitude, however, he leaves the latter's house before winning his point, thereby losing an opportunity for his party.

This, of course, was considered another mistake made by the Young Conrade.

In the next scene, the four agitators advised that there was a great deal of unrest in the city. The Young Comrade who was impressed by this unrest told the four agitators that the time was ripe for revolution and that he intended to leave the people in a revolt which would start with an attack on the City Hall. The Young Comrade explained that the leader of the unemployed group was a genuine socialist and that the unemployed had accepted the teachings of the Communists.

The four agitators stated that this was not enough, that the employed as well as the unemployed would first have to be incited to revolt. They also advised the Young Comrade that the leader of the unemployed, in whom he had faith, was merely a stooge of the employers. They told the Young Comrade further that they knew that the garrison at Mikden had been strengthened and that therefore, an attempted revolution would fail.

The Young Comrade would not be convinced, however, stating that he could wait no longer for revolution because the misery of the people demanded it. The four agitators indicate that the Communists are not in favor of helping every miserable person but are interested in organizing a truly successful revolution. The Young Comrade thereupon breaks with the four agitators, tearing off his disguise. When he heard the thunder of cannons, however, he realised his mistake and fled with the four agitators.

In the last scene, the four agitators decide on the proper measure to take in the critical situation in which they found themselves. They were being pursued by the authorities and were in danger of being found out because the identity of the Young Comrade was then known. They therefore, decided that the Young Comrade would have to die and his body would have to be destroyed in order to save the movement.

British Control of the Control of th

The Young Comrade by that time sees his mistake and consents to being killed. He is shot and thrown into a lime pit where his boy is destroyed. The Four Agitators then return to their work which was successful.

Between the various scenes of this play, the "Control Committee" indicates agreement with the action of the four agitators. In one instance they state, "He who fights for Communism must be able to fight and not to fight, to tell the truth and not to tell the truth, perform services and refuse to perform services, keep promises and fail to keep promises, to meet danger and to avoid danger, to be discernible and to be indiscernible. He who fights for Communism has only one virtue; that he fights for Communism.

In other places throughout the play, the "Control Committee" sings The Praise of the U.S.S.R., of the Communist Party and of illegal work. They conclude the play with the following addressed to the four agitators: "You are med the teachings of the Classicists, the ABC of Communism. To the uninformed you brought information about their situation, to the oppressed you brought class consciousness. To the class conscious you brought the experience of revolution. The revolution is also on the march there, and the ranks of the fighters are organized there also, and we are in agreement with you. Your report shows us how much is necessry to transform the world; anger and tenacity, knowledge and indignation, to strike quickly, to ponder deeply, cold patience, endless waiting, a grasp of individual detail and comprehension of the whole. We can only change reality when taught by reality."

In a letter dated May 12, 1950 at Berlin, which is published along with the foregoing play and which is signed by both EISLER and the Subject, the authors of "The Disciplinary Measure" defend this play and explain their intention in writing it. This letter objects to consorship of the "Disciplinary Measure" before its presentation. It specifically calls "The Disciplinary Measure" an educational play and suggests that its presentation be removed from all influences.

This letter further suggests that the play be presented by those for whom it was intended, and who alone have use for them: Workers choruses, groups of amateur players, school choruses, school orchestras.

In a note published together with the play, it is stated that "the players (singers and actors) have the task of teaching while they learn." This note further states: "However, attempts should not be made to derive recipes for political action from "The Disciplinary Measure" without a knowledge of the ABC of dialectic materialism. What Lenin said about morality applies to the several ethical concepts such as Justice, "Freedom, Humanity, etc., which appear in the play: "He draw our moral philosophy from the interest of the proletarian class struggle."

on March 13, 1943, Source A advised that Subject and EISLER were co-authors of a march known as the "Song of Solidarity" (Solidaritaets-Lied) which was written in about 1931. According to Source A this march was adopted with the permission of Subject and EISLER as the song of the Communist youth organization in Germany prior to Hitler's rise to power.

Re: BERTOLT EUGEN FRIEDRICH BRECHT, with aliases
ALIEN ENEMY CONTROL (G)

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the reports of Special Agent
Los Angeles, California, dated March 6, 1943 and March 30, 1943 in the above-entitled case, in which information is set out indicating that subject is a writer of Communist and revolutionary poetry and drama.
Reference reports also contain information to the effect that subject is a German alien.

The material reviewed as a basis for the above reports not only advocates overthrow of the Government by force of arms with the intent of founding a Communist state, but advocates the use of sabotage by labor as a means of accomplishing its ends. The poem entitled "Demolition of the Ship OSKAWA by the Crew", contained on Page 5 of reference report dated March 6, 1943, specifically refers to a United States Steamer which was destroyed by its crew since they were paid too small wages. It specifically refers to the expense to the United States of this act of sabotage. Furthermore, the author, and subject of this case, does not consider himself, according to his writings, an immigrant, but rather an exile from Germany, his native country. The poem entitled, On the Designation 'Emigrant's, found on Page 8 of reference report dated March 6, 1943, expresses this point of view.

It is therefore suggested that the Bureau may wish to submit the facts in this case to the Department in order to determine whether any action might be taken by this office looking toward the interrment of subject as an enemy alien. In the event that it is not deemed advisable to refer this matter to the Department, it is requested that this office be advised as to whether the facts should be referred to the United States Attorney at Los Angeles.

Whereas the writings of BRECHT set out in reference reports go back to approximately 1939 and prior thereto, investigation has disclosed that BRECHT is still inclined toward Communism and that his works are our rently regarded by German refugee Communists as an expression of opinion in which they concur. The April, 1943, issue of the German publication Freies Deutschland, carries an article about activities in New York which states that ERECHT and his works were honored in an evening's entertainment on March 6, 1943. BRECHT was supposed to be present on that occasion and some of the poems written by him were read by PETER LORRE and ELISABETH BERGNER. Investigation at Los Angeles has disclosed that some of the poems read by PETER LORRE are among those set out in reference reports.

Re: BERTOLT EUGEN FRIEDRICH BRECHT, WAS

An informant of this office alleges that BRECHT is looked upon by German Communists as their poet laureate. These latter facts are set out in greater detail in a report in the case entitled the investigation has been developed along extremely confidential lines, it is not desired that BRECHT'S present significance be presented to an enemy alien hearing board if this can be avoided, for fear of disclosing valuable sources of information thereby. If, therefore, it appears possible that an executive warrant be obtained without the use of this latter information, it is suggested that the same be withheld and only the information contained in reference reports be submitted for an opinion.

Source considered LION FEUCHTWANGER, BERTHOLD VIERTEL, ALEXANDER HACKENSCHMIED, HERBERT KLEIN, BORIS INGSTER, ALEXANDER GRAMACH and FRITZ/KORTHER as persons belonging to this group and having Communist tendencies. Source also advised that Subject is still in New York, but that he was expected to return to Los Angeles in the near future.

On February 8, 1943 Subject left by the Southern Pacific train, the Californian, for New York, after having duely applied for permission to travel, and after having received a permit from the United States Attorney at Ios Angeles. BRECHT stated in his application for this permit that he was going to New York for a period of eight weeks to attend to business of a theatrical nature. He said that he could be reached in New York through ERWIN PISCATOR, 66 West 12th Street, New York City. The New York Field Division was informed of BRECHT's travel to New York.

Relative to BRECHT's activity in New York, it is observed from the April, 1943, issue of FREIES DEUTSCHIAND that BRECHT's works are being read there and that an evening is being dedicated to him. This matter is written up by AIFREI KANTOROWICZ, who is referred to previously in this file as the author of the "New York Letter" carried monthly in FREIES DEUTSCHIAND. A portion of this article relative to BRECHT is translated as follows:

"The literary activity of the anti-Fascist German American circles in New York were stimulated by the arrival of BERT BRECHT in New York. The 'Tribune for Free German Art and Literature in America! took possession of the man and his new works. On Saturday, March 6, a BERT HRECHT evening will be held in the theater of the 'New School' in New York, directed by ERWIE PISCATOR. This occasion was initiated by the "Tribune" and is under the artistic direction of FRIEDRICH ALEXAN in the presence of the guest. The former (and one may well add the future) publisher of the German editions of HRECHT's works, WIKIAND HERZFEIDE, will open the program. One will hear phonograph records, some of the songs of BRECHT which are familiar and liked by all anti-Fascists in the world-for example, The Solidarity Song, whose refrain will certainly be humsed or sung by the audience: 'Forward, and do not forget the source of our strength'. LIESEL MEDIAMS will read new poetic prose written by BEACHT. The German actor PETER TORRE, who has become a star in Hollywood, will recite poems by BRECHT. And ELIZABETH BERGHER-it is unnecessary to explain her importance to German acting, everyone knows her-will reed HERT BRECHT's balled 'The Children's Crusade', which was first published in the German American periodical 'The Garman-American', which is well worth reading."

Confidential Mational Defense Informant advised this office at the Mane when PETER LORES returned to Los Angeles from New Yorks

This Informant learned through a friend of Mrs. LORRE that PETER LORRE had read some of ERECHT's works at a meeting in New York, which may be identical with the meeting mentioned in FRETES DEUTSCHIAND.

Shortly thereafter, Source obtained from PETER LORRE a typewritten program indicating the poems of BRECHT which he had read in New York. This program was exhibited to Confidential National Defense Informant and the writer. It contained, among other numbers, several poems from BRECHT's "SVENDBORGER GEDICHTE", which are of a revolutionary nature, such as "Schwierigkeit des Regierens", "An die Nachgeborenen", "Laotse" and "Ueber die Beseichnung Emigranten". Source also had the copy of "SVENDBORGER GEDICHTE" from which LORRE read and it was noted therein that the word emigration had been changed to exile in the poem antitled "Deber die Beseichnung Emigranten". This poem was set out in full in a prior report and the above is being mentioned simply to indicate that persons connected with Subject do not consider themselves immigrants here, but look upon themselves rather as exiles who wait to return to Europe.

In May 15, 1943, Confidential National Defense Informant furnished this office with two advertisements found in the May 7, 1943 and April 23, 1943 issues of "AUFBAU", refugee weekly published in New York. One of these advertisements is for a special program under the auspices of the "Tribune" at the Heckscher Theater, 1 East 104th Street, New York, on April 24, 1943 at 8:15 p.m. According to the advertisement, this program was sponsored by the Landeszentrale der Arbeiter-Krankankasse Von Amerika (The Central Office of the Workers Health Insurance Association of America), and the Mashington Heights Center (Branches 91, 92 and 410). The program to be offered was described as a BERTOLT ERRENT evening, at which Subject would read some of his new poems. Other persons participating in this program are listed as follows: ELISABETH BERGNER, HERTHA GIAZ, GRETA WILLELS, HERELET BERGHOF, WIELAND HERZFELDE. FRIEDRICH GEORGE ALFIAN was said to be responsible for directing the program, which was called a "closed" meeting, to which members of the above organizations were invited.

CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF T

The second advertisement was for a program to be held May 10, 1943 at the Studio Theater, 66 West 12th Street, New York, in honor of the 10th anxiversary of the burning of books on the same date in 1933. This advertisement lists Subject as one of the persons cooperating in putting on this program. Other persons in the same capacity are listed as follows: WILLIAM ROSE HENET, I. MAN/GOLL, OSKAR MARIA GRAF, ALFRED KANTORGKICZ, BASTKO FETVOVICE, EIMER/RICE, ANDRE SPIRE and GENEVIEVE TAGGARD DE WITT. Speakers for this affair are listed as follows: EVE DANIEL, JUY DAVIDMAN, RIGHERS NAME SOLDIES MARIONE. L. TERASPUISEY and CHARA JAKO are listed as soldies; ALFRED EXEMPERIORS is listed as chairman, and FRIEDRICH GEORGE ALFRED is listed as the person responsible for directing the program. It appears that the Joint Counties for the Restoration of Burned and Banished Books in Europe, The New School for Social Research, Die Tribuene fuer Freie Deutsche Literatur und Eunst and other organizations are considered sponsors for the program.

Since previous information reported in this case indicates the Communistic trend of BRECHT's literature, some of which is known to have been recently read in New York at programs similar to those advertised in the AUFRAU, the above is set out to indicate that BRECHT's activity in New York appears to be continuing.

business of a theatrical nature. BRECHT gave no specific address in New York to which he was going, but stated that he could be reached there through ERWIN PISCATOR, 66 West Twelfth Street, New York City.

Relative to Subject's activity in New York, it is observed from the April, 1943, issue of "FREIES DEUTSCHIAND", a German-language periodical published in Mexico, that BRECHT's works are being read there as part of a program dedicated to him. This matter was reported in the above publication under the caption "New York Letter", written by ALFRED KANTOROWICZ. A portion of this article relative to BRECHT is translated as follows:

The literary activity of the anti-Fascist German American circles in New York were stimulated by the arrival of BERT BRECHT in New York, The 'Tribune for Free German Art and Literature in America' took possession of the man and his new works. On Saturday, March 6. a BERT ERECHT evening will be held in the theater of the 'New School" in New York, directed by ERWIN PISCATOR. This occasion was initiated by the 'Tribune' and is under the artistic direction of FRIEDRICH MIRMAN in the presence of the guest. The former (and one may well add the future) publisher of the German editions of BRECHT's works, WIELAND MERZFELDE, will open the program. One will hear phonograph records, some of the songs of BRECHT which are familiar and liked by all anti-Fascists in the world-for example, the Solidarity Song, whose refrain will certainly be hummed or sung by the audiences 'Forward, and do not forget the source of our strength'. LIESEL NEUMANN will read new postic prose written by BRECHT. The German actor PETER LORRE, who has become a star in Hollywood, will recite poems by BRECHT. And KLIZABETH/BERCHER-it is unnecessary to explain her importance to German acting, everyone knows her-will read EERT BRECHT's ballad 'The Children's Crusade', which was first published in the German American periodical "The German-American", which is well worth reading."

It is noted that the above quotation makes reference to one WIEIAND HERZFEIDE, publisher of the German editions of ERECHT's works. A check of the edition of ERECHT's works containing the play entitled "Die Massnahme" (known in English as the "Expedient", or "The Disciplinary Measure") which has been previously reported on, indicates that WIEIAND HERZFEIDE's name appears on the copyright page, together with the name of the Malik-Verlag Publishing Company. Further reference to HERZFEIDE will be found later in this report.

It is also noted from the program quoted above that $\frac{1}{2}\text{CHT's "Solidarity Song" was to be heard at the meeting of March 6, 1983. Attention is directed to the information previously reported, to the effect that this song, which was written in about 1931, was adopted as the song of the Communist youth organisation in Germany, prior to HITLER's rise to power, with the permission of Subject, its author.

German-language newspaper, published in New York, contained advertisements which reflect Subject's activities there. One of these advertisements is for a special program held under the auspices of the "Tribune", at the Heckscher Theater, which is located at 1 East 104th Street, New York, on April 24, 1943, at 8:15 p.m. According to the advertisement, this program was sponsored by the FIANDESZENTRALE DER ARREITER-KRANKENKASSE VON AMERIKA" (Central Office of the Workers Health Insurance Association of America), and the Washington Heights Center, Branches 91, 92, and 410. The program offered is described in the advertisement as a Bertolt Brecht Evening, at which the Subject would read some of his own poems. Other persons participating in this program are listed as follows:

WIEIAND HERZFELDE HERBERT BERCHOF CRETA WILLELS HERTHA GLAZ ELIZABETH BERCHER

The program is said to be under the direction of FRIED-RICH GEORGE ALEXAN, and is described as a "closed" meeting, to which members of the sponsoring organizations are invited.

The second advertisement is for a program scheduled for May 10, 19h3, at the Studio Theater, 66 West 12th Street, New York, in honor of the tenth anniversary of the burning of books on the same date in 1933. This advertisement lists Subject as one of the persons cooperating in putting on this program. ALFRED/KANTOROWICZ and several others are listed in the same capacity. The following persons were scheduled to speak:

EVE DANIEL
JOY DAVIDMAN
RIEANORE VON MENDELSOHN
HUGHES MARLOWE

The program was to be under the direction of FRIEDRICH UEORUS AIRIAN; AIRIAN; RETHEORIG was to act as Chairman. The "Tribune", mentioned in the previous program, and other organizations, according to the advertisement, sponsored this program.

This office has recently been advised that Subject returned to his home in Santa Monica on about May 15, 1963.

RE: BERTHOLT EUGEN FRIEDRICH BRECHT, w.as.
ALLEN ENEMY CONTROL (G)

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated May 22, 1943 (100-190707) in the above entitled matter, instructing this office to present the facts in instant case to the United States Attorney at Los Angeles for his opinion as to whether or not subject should be apprehended as a dangerous alien energy. Referenced letter requested that the Bureau be immediately advised regarding the details of the opinion of the United States Attorney in order that the case might be promptly followed up with the Department at the Seat of Sovernment.

The facts in this case, as set out in the reports of Special agent Los Angeles, dated Earch 6, 1943, March 30, 1943, and June 8, 1943, were presented to Assistant United States Attorney ATTILIO districtant on June 14, 1943, upon his return to duty after a trip to Mashington, N. C. On the basis of the above mentioned reports, together with a translation of a play written by subject, known as Die Massnahmen, which has also been furnished to the Bureau, Assistant United States Attorney districtant without making any definite recommendations.

In submitting copies of the above mentioned reports and translation to the Department, the United States attorney at Los incoles advised the Department that subject, an alien enemy, appeared to be a proletarian, bordering on an anarchist, who, in his play "Die Hassnahme", expounded "Communism of the Soviet Russian ideology". The United States attorney went on to state that subject is opposed to capitalism in any form; that he advocates extreme violence to further the Communist cause as a whole rather than to relieve oppressed peoples. It therefore appeared that subject might be apprehended in time of war on the grounds that he is an alien enemy whose activities are dangerous to our national security.

RECORDER

The United States attorney also raised the issue of subject's status as a leader type who advocates violence for a cause opposed to haziam and which is compatible with the ideology of a government which is an ally of the United States. Therefore, if internment were based solely on the possibility of subject's giving aid and comfort to the enemies of this country, there would be no proper cause for his internment. BERT BRECHT registered as an alien enemy in February 1942 and was assigned Registration #7624464. In his application for a registration certificate he gave the same information as mentioned above concerning his birth date, arrival in the United States, and intention to become a United States citizen. He also stated that he was last a citizen of Germany, though he had been expatriated by that country. He asserted membership in an authors' organization known as the Pen Club, and he gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM DIETERIE as persons who could vouch for his loyalty. He gave his residence address at that time as 817 25th Street, Santa Monica, California, but subsequently gave notice of moving to 1063 26th Street, Santa Monica. It is to be noted that while the application for a registration certificate is made out in the name of EUGEN BERTHOLD FRIEDRICH BRECHT, he signed the oath in connection therewith as BERTOLT EUGEN FRIEDRICH BRECHT.

SOURCE

Through this source it was learned that on May 17, 1940, BRECHT, who was then in Helsingfors, Finland, entered the names of the members of his family on the American quota waiting list in Copenhagen, Demmark. He indicated the members of his family as follows:

"(BER)TOLT BRECHT, born February 10, 1898, in Augsburg, German passport, written in New York 1936, walld until January 1941.

"(HEL)ENE BRECHT, nee MEIGL, born May 12, 1900, in Vienna. Danish refugee papers written in Copenhagen, walld until August 1940.

"(STEFAN)? BRECHT, born November 3, 1924, in Berlin. Danish refugee certificate written in Copenhagen, valid until August 1940.

"BARBARA BRECHT, born October 28, 1930, in Berlin. Danish refugee certificate written in Copenhagen, valid until August 1940.

"My collaborator for many years, MARGARETE JUUL STEFFIN, born March 21, 1908, in Berlin (Danish citizen through marriage). Danish passport written in 1936 in Copenhagen, valid until August, 1941."

but that imasmuch as IANG was an unusually boastful individual she could not determine from his conversation whether he was telling the truth or not. This FRITZ LANG is not identical with the FRITZ LANG mentioned hereinafter. It might be noted that BERT BRECHT has never been interviewed concerning his possible relationship to this German espionage agent.

According to this source, advised during May 1944 that a Mrs. KARIN-MICHAELIS has been residing at the BRECHT home, 1063 26th Street, Santa Monica, for approximately eight months. It was his opinion that MICHAELIS is related to Mrs. BRECHT.

A recent mail cover reflects a letter postmarked August 23, 1944, Keene Valley, New York, from MICHAELIS, 205 West Fifth Avenue, New York City, to Miss LARSEN and Miss HANSEN, c/o Mrs. HELENE BRECHT. This, of course, indicates that KARIN MICHAELIS is presently in New York and that two other individuals are possibly residing in the BRECHT home at this time.

It is known to this office that KARIN HICHAELIS is a Danish writer who in November 1943 visited at the home of HANS EISLER, 1650 Amalfi Drive, Pacific Palisades, an associate of BRECHT. Further, it is known that she is on the Advisery Board of the Anti-Nazi Student Committee, 236 East 82d Street, New York City, a German Communist organization. The exact nature of MICHAELIS's activities in the BRECHT residence or the purpose of her living there is unknown.

This source furnished information from the book, "Twentieth Century Authors," published in 1942, which in part has the following to say about BRECHT:

"German poet, playwright and novelist, familiarly known as 'BERT' BRECHT! to the Germany-in-exile, was born in Augsburg, the capital of Bavarian Swabia... BRECHT's 'Ballad of the Dead Soldier', describing how they dug up a soldier, patched him up, and sent him back to the front, circulated by word of mouth throughout Germany, winning its author the undying hatred of the military. His writings and unremitting political activities -- he was a member of the Augsburg Revolutionary Committee -- earned him the honor of being fifth on the Basi list when Hitler's Beer Hall Butsch (November 1923) failed.

"After the Schiffbauerdam Theater of Berlin was offered to BRECHT for his productions, he trained actors who later became some of the finest in the world-among them-OSKAR_HCHOLKA, PETER-LORRE, HELENE WEIGEL, LOTTA LENIA, ALEXANDED GRAHACH, EREST BUSCH.... (Several of these individuals, who include HELENE WEIGEL, BRECHT's wife, will be mentioned later in this report.)

"In 1933 when BRECHT's dramatic version of Gorky's Mother was in its sixty-first performance in Berlin, the police mounted the stage and arrested the actors. The play, translated by PAUL FETERS, was staged by the Theater Union of New York in December 1935. After Hitler's rise to power, BRECHT was expelled from the Third Reich and has since lived in France, Norway, the Soviet Union, and now the United States.

"In exile BERTOLT BRECHT has written a novel, 'A Penny for the Poor,' (1934)...mercilessly exposing with mordant wit the faults and failures of the present age. For the theater he has created the vitriolic anti-Nazi satire, Round Heads, Peak Heads (1937), and an equally pungent sequence of plays on life in the Third Reich.... The most significant of his dramas, however, is the one act Senora Carrars Rifles (1938), dealing with the Spanish Lar.

"....Hated by the Nazis, BRECHT was fortunate to escape with his life and arrive in this country safely at last in 1941.... Hother Courage," an historical play of the Thirty Years War, has been tentatively announced for publication here."

This source furnished further information concerning BRECHT from the book entitled. "Germany: A Self Portrait." published in 1944 by the Oxford University Press, London, New York, Toronto. This book states that BRECHT was born, as previously indicated, of a lower middle class family. He was drafted into the German Army at the age of 17 and served through World War I as a medical orderly. The phenomenal success of his "Ballad of the Dead Soldier which was based on his experiences in Army hospitals, decided him on a writing career. He became the most important playwright of the younger generation. He was invited to join the staff of the Deutsches Theater in Berlin by the director, MAX REINHARDT. Later, seeking more freedom for experiments, he supervised his own productions at the Schiffbauerdam Theater, collaborating with the director, ERWIN-PISCATOR, and the composer, KURT/WEILL. The most notable production of this trio was an adaptation of JOHN GAY's "The Beggar's Opera," which in BRECHT's modern version became an acid satire on conditions in Weimar, Germany. BRECHT escaped from Germany when Hitler came to power and lived in exile in France, Denmark, Horway, and Soviet Russia before coming to the United States. He has written much in exile, and every line is directed against the rulers of present day Germany. His most recent book is a poetic play, "The Trial of Lucullus." His poem, "The Ballad of the German Soldier's Bride," has been beamed to Germany by the British Broadcasting Corporation.

SOURCE

This informant, has advised that from conversation overheard, BRECHT is supposed to have escaped from a concentration camp in Germany disguised as a woman.

SOURCE

According to this source, it was never established whether BERT BRECHT was technically a member of the German Communist Party in Germany, but it was nevertheless known that he was a member of various Communist front organizations and participated in many affairs sponsored by the German Communist Party. His plays were used by the Communist Party on many occasions, according to this source.

SOURCE

This source, who knew Mr. and Mrs. BRECHT in Germany, advised that they were Communists and that there was no doubt about their political attitude at that time, as it was evidenced in their activities and associations and in the writings of BRECHT.

This source advised that he knew BERT BRECHT by reputation in Germany, where he was considered a radical and an associate of persons with communistic inclinations. This source further stated that he has since become personally acquainted with BRECHT in the United States and has found him still to be a radical and an enemy of capitalism. According to this source, BRECHT had been imprisoned by the Nazis at one time and apparently had been severely treated by them.

This source has stated that he considers BERT BRECHT a Communist, though he was unable to furnish specific information. He spoke in generalities of the Communist tendencies of BRECHT, which will be indicated later.

According to this source, BERT BRECHT together with HANNS EISLER and S, DUDDN wrote an educational play entitled "Die Massnahme" (The Disciplinary Measure) in 1930, or possibly earlier. This play appears in the second volume of the collected works of BERTOLT BRECHT (BERTHOLD BRECHT, Gesammelte Werke, Band II), pages 329 to 363. This volume was published by the Malik-Verlag Publishing Company, London W.C. I, and was printed by HEINRICK MERCY SOHN, Prag, Czechoslovakia.

According to this source, "The Disciplinary Measure" is described as an "educational play" by its authors. It deals with the work of four Communist agitators who go from Moscow to Mukden, Manchuria, to spread propagands and support the Chinese Communists among the industries of Mukden. The action of the play takes place before the "Control Committee" when the four agitators return to give an account of their work and experience of the fact that they have been forced to kill a young Communist commade whose intentions were good but whose death was deemed a necessity by the four agitators since his activity threatened to endanger the Communist movement among the Chinese. In order to explain the position to the Control Committee, the four agitators reenact for that body their activity in Mukden. On the whole, the book advocates Communist world revolution by violent means.

This source reflects that a letter dated May 12, 1930, at Berlin, Germany, was published along with this play. It is signed by both HANNS EISLER and BERT BRECHT. It defends the play, explains the intention in writing it, objects to censorship before its presentation, and specifically calls it an educational play. It suggests that its presentation be removed from all influences. A complete translation of this play has previously been brought to the attention of the Bureau.

BOURCE .

This source advised that in about 1931 BERT BRECHT and HANNS EISLER were two-authors of a march known as the "Song of Solidarity" (Solidaritaets-Lied). This march was adopted with the permission of BRECHT and EISLER as the song of the Communist youth organization in Germany prior to Hitler's rise to power.

It may be noted here that HANNS EISLER is known to this office as a German refugee writer and musician with communistic tendencies, presently active with BRECHT in the Free German movement, which will be described later.

SOURCE TO

This source reflects that Confidential National Defense Informant who is acquainted with BRECHT personally, saw BRECHT in Moscow in 1932, at which time BRECHT was showing a picture with Communist tendencies entitled "Kuhlewampe." Informant stated that HANNS EISLER wrote the music accompanying this picture, but that he could not be positive that he had seen EISLER in Moscow at the time BRECHT was showing the picture. This picture had as its subject the unemployed who lived in a tent colony near Berlin, according to informant.

SOURCE

This source reflects that in 1935 a literary magazine entitled "Das Wort" (The Word) was published and it carried the signatures of BERT BRECHT, LION FEUCHTWANGER, and WILLY BREDEL as editors. This magazine was published by a group of political refugees who fled Germany after the Reichstag fire on February 27, 1933, to Russia. This group of political refugees included many Communist deputies and writers, some of whom were leaders in the Communist Party of Germany.

LION FEUCHTMANGER is known to this office as a German refugee writer with communistic sympathies, presently in the Los Angeles area and collaborating with BERT BRECHT and HANNS EISLER in the Free German movement.

Concerning WILLI BREDEL, available information reflects that in 1925 he participated in a Communist revolt in Hamburg, Germany, and in 1928 he became editor of the organ of the Communists in Hamburg, "Hamburg People's Newspaper." After Hitler came to power he was put into a concentration camp for a year or more. During the Spanish Civil War he fought in the International Brigade. He is presently a member of the Free German Committee in Moscow, and articles prepared by him appear in "Freies Deutschland," the official organ of the Free German movement emanating from Mexico.

This source reflects that BERT BR"CHT's play, "Die Mutter," was presented in New York City in 1935. A review of this play, which is contained in the book entitled "Bracht, Gessmelte Werke, Volume 2," discloses that it contains material favoring Communism, specifically those songs contained in this play entitled "Praise of Communism" and "Praise of the Revolutionary." Explanatory material published together with this play in the above-mentioned book reflects that the New York Daily Worker for November 22, 1935, stated in regard to "Die Mutter": "It was BRECHT's plan to have a spectacle presenting the dramatic story of the present day mass struggle which must culminate in the victory of the proletariat."

It might be noted that HANNS EISLER is known to have entered the United States at New York on September 25, 1935, and it is felt possible that he may have had some connection with the presentation of "Die Nutter."

SOURCE

According to this source, BERT BRECHT, address unknown, was in Los Angeles in the early part of 1936. This source described BRECHT as a Communist Party sympathizer and stated that BRECHT was one of the group that formed the German-Communist Modern Music Group, 764 Hoover Street, Los Angeles, on February 9, 1936, under the direction of Professor ELI JACOBSON, Soviet agent.

In this connection, it is to be noted that heretofore there has been no confirmation that BRECHT was in the United States in 1936. However, it will be remembered that his play was presented in New York in the latter part of 1935, and that in placing his name on the American quota waiting list, as mentioned above, he indicated that he possessed a German passport written in New York in 1936. It will also be recalled that HAMNS EISLER was here in the latter part of 1935.

SOURCE

This source advised that BERT BRECHT and LION FEUCRITARIGER had previously been in the United States, according to an issue of "Das Wort" dated April 1, 1939. It is believed that this is another reference to BRECHT's apparent presence in the United States during 1936.

SOURCE

This source advised that in various 1937 issues of "International Literature," published by the State Literary-Art Publishing House, Hoscow, Russia, there appeared articles by BERT BRECHT. One issue, namely Ho. 5, for May 1937, contained an article about BRECHT by SERGEL TRETYAKOV.

This publication, "International Literature," is published by the same group of German political refugees which includes many Communists, has published the magazine "Das Wort," referred to above.

According to this source, the April 5 and 11, 1939, issues of the "Abendpost," a German language newspaper in the Chicago area, carried advertisements of "Das Wort" (The Word) and reflected it to be still edited by BERT ERBCHT, LION FEUCHTANICER, and WILLI BERDEL. This advertisement indicated that subscriptions to "Das Wort" could be purchased in New York and Chicago and also from Meshdumarodnaja Kniga, Kuznetski Host, 18, Noscow, M.S.S.R.

SOURCE CONTRACT

In 1939 a collection of poems written by BERT BRECHT was published under the title "Svendborger Gedichte" by the Halik Publishing House, London, England. These poems were examined, according to this source, and found to advocate overthrow of capitalism, establishment of a Communist state, and use of sabotage by labor to attain its ends.

SOURCE

Source | made available certain documents reflecting that in 1939
prior to his arrival in the United States, REECHT was furnished funds by FRITZ LANG of Hollywood, California. This FRITZ LANG, who is not identical with the FRITZ LANG of Lisbon, Portugal, mentioned previously, is known to this office as a Communist Party sympathizer and supporter, and as a close friend of OTTO EATZ, alleged OGPU agent presently in Mexico, where he is very active in the Free German movement. OTTO KATZ has been active in Berlin, Moscow, Paris, London, New York, and Mexico, and is believed to have been involved in political murders while in France. EATZ was aware of LANG's activities in furnishing funds to BRECHT.

The naterial made available through this source reflects that FRITZ LANG collected donations for the benefit of BERT BRECHT and paid ERECHT the sum of $80 per month from July 1939 to July 1940 from this fund. A list of the persons who donated sums to LANG for the benefit of BRECHT, together with the amounts of their respective donations, has previously been brought to the Bursau's attention and will not be repeated here.

In connection with this matter, a letter dated August 10, apparently 1939, from OTTO KATZ to FRITZ LANG states as follows: "That which you are doing for BRECHT and KISCH is simply wonderful...." KISCH undoubtedly is EGON ERRIN KISCH, who is known to be presently active in the Free German movement emenating from Mexico.

On August 27, 1939, BRECHT wrote to FRITZ LANG from Loustigen 1.

Lidingo, Sweden. He states: "I have received your second money order.

Eany thanks for your friendly action; it really helps me to work on in independence. The difficulty is that for instance, the small political plays

...which are now being played in mearly all the capitals in the civilized world don't naturally bring in a penny because they are never undertaken for connercial purposes. After the "ocnquest" of Prague, my dramas were printed for the second time and stamped out for the second time. I have therefore no difficulty is accepting the money. However, I will take the liberty of sending you from time to time a number of copies of my new works.

Another letter made available through this source from H VASEN, 255 Central Park West, New York City, dated October 22, 1939, indicates that A. SKANACH interested VASEN in contributing on behalf of BRECHT and KISCH.

Early in 1940 (exact date obliterated), BRECHT wrote from Helsingfors, Finland, to LILLI LATTE, girl friend of FRITZ LANG, stating: "Hany thanks for your letter of October 11 and for the draft. I was very glad that you sent me dollars, as I get a good price here for dollars. One of these days I hope to finish my new play, "The Good Man from Seguan," and I wonder if I can send some copies to you and ask you to give them to my friends there."

As has been mentioned previously on May 17, 1940, BRECHT wrote from Helsingfors, Finland, advising that he had entered the names of members of his family on the American quota waiting list in Copenhagen, Denmark.

This source explained the above message by advising that the sender, is a famous Swedish lawyer in Stockholm, Sweden, who is acting on behalf of a Finnish lawyer inasmuch as Finland cannot communicate directly with the United States. Ers. HZLLA MUOLIJOKI is a Finnish playwright and was a friend of Mr. and Mrs. BERT BRECHT when they were in Helsingfors a year before coming to the United States in July 1941. Mrs. WUOLIJOKI had relations with Russia and a Russian named TERENTJEFF during peacetime, and because of these relations she was on trial and had to explain their nature. MARGUERITE STEFFIN, now dead, was a former collaborator of BERT BRECHT in the translation of the memoirs of one ANDERSEN NEXCE, a great Danish novelist. This translation was sold to a publishing house in Moscow. Just prior to the time BRECHT, his wife, and MARGUERITE STEFFIH were about to depart for the United States, the Russian Consulate made difficulties about paying remittances from the Russian publisher, and inasmuch as EARGUERITE STEFFIN needed money before she could leave Pinland, BRECHT suggested that she complain to TERRUTJEFF, who was a commercial expert with the Russian Consulate in Helsingfors and a friend of Mrs. WUOLIJOKI. TERENTJEFF immediately proposed to advance SIEFFIN 8,000 Finnmarks and then collect this advance from the Russian Consulate. Mrs. WUOLIJOKI also arranged contracts between Russian and Finnish economic experts and diplomats in the form of dinners at the request of TERENTJEFF. For one of these dinners TERENTJEFF promised to obtain Caucasian or Russian wine, but did not do so and Mrs. WUOLIJOKI was forced to buy expensive Franch wine for the dinner.

This source further advised in regard to this matter that on September 3, 1943, Stockholm, Sweden, received a message stating that the Swedish Vice Consulate had seen notarized statements, by Mr. and Mrs. BERT BRECHT to the effect that TERENTJEFF borrowed the translation fee from Mrs. WUCLIJOXI and had promised to pay her for the dinner wines.

Again on Hovember 26, 1943, according to this source, was the recipient of a message stating that friends of Mrs. WUOLIJOKI were anxious to learn of her fate. This message was signed, "American writer HANUIL ECHROFF. Swedish-American writer EDITA-HORRIS," and requested that wire news concerning Mrs. WUOLIJOEI to HUTH-MERIAU, 124 East 57th Street, New York City, a known associate of BERT BRECHT.

On December 9, 1943, addressed a message to BERIAU stating that lirs. WUOLIJOKI was still under trial before a war tribunal and that any moral support would be highly appreciated.

As has been set forth above in this report, BERT BRECHT and his family arrived in the United States at the Port of San Pedro on July 21, 1941, on the SS Annie Jackson from Helsingfors, Finland.

FREIES DEUTSCHLAND
Copies available to Los Angeles Field Division

The available issues of the magazine, "Freies Deutschland," reflected that BERT BRECHT contributed an article to the December 1941 issue. It also appears that BRECHT contributed articles to the Harch 1942 issue.

This magazine is known to this office as the official publication of the Free German Committee, Hexico, D. F. This Committee operates El Libro Libre (The Free Book), a publishing house in Mexico which gets out this megazine.

It is further known that the Free German movement has as its aim the establishment of a postwar German government favorable to Soviet Russia. It is conducted by various well known Communists or persons with Communist inclinations, including OTTO KATZ, mentioned above as an alleged OGFU agent. The Free German Committee in Nexico is the fountainhead of the movement in the Western Hemisphere. It has recently been learned that some of the individuals active in this movement have indicated a desire to return to Europe or Germany as soon as possible, where they will no doubt carry on their activity at closer range. As will be seen later, BERT BRECHT is one of the individuals who has indicated an intention to leave the United States for Europe. In Los Angeles, BRECHT is associated with LION FEUCHT ANGER, HEINRICH MANKS, and HANKS ZISLER, German refugee writers with Communist inclinations in the Free German movement.

ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES, 1942

SOURCE SE

This source reflects that on Harch 19, 1942, BERT BRECHT was pictured in an Associated Press photograph appearing in the Los Angeles Examiner with LICE FEUCHTHANGER. This picture shows them to be studying a manifesto which they wrote together with HEINRICH MANN as an appeal to the German people "to force Hitler to abdicate and thus accomplish in this eleventh hour the only thing you are free to do and the only thing which can save Germany." The caption below this picture goes on to state that the manifesto will be broadcast by short wave and dropped in leaflets from planes over Germany.

It might be noted here in connection with this manifesto that according to Source mentioned above, this early manifesto of March 1942, prepared by BRECHT, FEUCHTHANGER, and MANN, is quite identical with the Moscow manifesto published by the Free German Committee in Moscow during July 1945, as will be seen later. Source further points out that it is nearly identical with a radio speech of one Mr. FRANKENFELD, a war prisoner in Moscow, also made later during August 1945.

SOURCE (

According to this source, HANNS EISLER was in telephonic contact with BERT BRECHT during the period from April to August 1942.

SOURCE!

This source advised that on August 13, 1942, BERT BRECET was written a letter by "exico, D. F., which is known to this office as the address of El Libro Libre, the publishing house operated by the Free German Committee in Mexico. Is known to be an officer of this Committee. In this letter advises BRECHT that an anti-Nazi book fund called "The Free Book" has been started in Mexico, and that KISCH was the author of the first book published.; requested BRECHT to help them in getting people interested, especially in Hollywood and New York. She also desires BRECHT to collaborate with them and send an anti-Nazi play that he wrote, called "Kinety-nine," as well as some of his newer works.

This source also advised that on August 16, 1942, BERT BRECHT was mentioned in a letter from in Mexico to the Libro Libro has published Monica, California. This letter reflects that El Libro Libro has published a book entitled "Nazi Terror." This book is indicated to be composed of chapters each of which is written by a different author. BERT BRECHT contributed the chapter entitled "Gestapo."

*FREJES DEUTSCHLAND, September 1942 issue

This magazine contains an article entitled "Brecht in der Tribume," BERTHOLD VIERTEL.

RERTHOLD VIERTEL is known to this office as a refugee writer from Nazi Germany. He was born on June 28, 1885, at Vienna, Austria, and claims Austrian citizenship. He entered the United States in San Ysidro in March 1942, but has spent very little time in this country from then until May 1939. He is an acquaintance of FRITZ LANG, and OTTO KATZ, and is said to have assisted KATZ in German underground work in the summer of 1939 by making anti-Nazi recordings with LANG and others. From 1933 to 1939 he contributed articles to "International Literature" and "Das Wort," which magazines were published in kussia by a group of German exiles, including many Communists. He was stage manager of "The Tribeune," described as a Communist propaganda theater in New York City. His wife, SALKA VIERTEL, contributes to "New Masses" and is said to have once contributed to an alleged secret collection for Stalin in 1936 or 1939.

SOURCE TO

During the latter part of 1942, according to this source, BERT BRECHT, HANNS BISLER, and FRITZ LANG were working together on a film entitled "Unconquered." BRECHT was the author of this story, LANG the director, and BISLER the music writer. The name of this story, however, was later changed to "Hangmen Also Die."

SOURCE TO THE

According to this source, "Hangmen Also Die" is a war melodrama that was produced by ARNOLD PRESSBURGER, directed by FRITZ LANG, and adapted from the original story by BERT BRECHT and FRITZ LANG. This source described the producer, PRESSBURGER, as a sympathizer with the Hollywood Communist element and stated that critics claim this film to be Communist propagands.

BOURCE

This source has advised that BRECHT finished work on the picture, "Hangmen Also Die," in the early part of 1943, and that he had worked in the production of this picture as a story writer and a technical adviser on underground activity in Europe. The authenticity of this film, according to this source, was largely due to the work of BRECHT, whose knowledge of the underground was obtained through personal experience.

SOURCE

This source advised that the picture, "Hangmen Also Die," dealt primarily with the workings of the underground in Czechoslovakia, which was instrumental in effecting the assassination of HEYDRICH, Gestapo chief. effect of the picture was that it emphasized the importance of underground work, the sacrifice necessary thereto, and the methods used by the underground. When viewed in the light of previous writings of BERT BRECHT, "Hangmen Also Die" takes on something of the complexion of RRECHT's educational plays in that it emphasizes the conduct required of persons working in an underground movement and tends to instruct those who are or may be involved in such a movement. Specific examples of the type of thing taught are seen in the fact that heroic characters never tell the police anything; that they establish alibis so as to fool the police; that they work very secretly and are on their guard against informers; and that they lay aside personal interest for the sake of the interest of the central group. Although the term, "Communist Party," is never used, the underground organisation nevertheless on one occasion refers to the central committee. In general, the individuals in the story are made to see that their position and even their safety and the safety of their families is completely subordinate to the work of the underground movement. This principle is that which BRECHT in his play, "The Disciplinary Measure," mentioned previously, emphasized.

It might be noted here that FRITZ LANG, with whom BRECHT worked on this picture, is reportedly unfriendly with BRECHT at the present time because of some personal dispute. It has been stated that because of this difference between BRECHT and LANG, LANG has not been active in the Free German movement.

It will be recalled that this individual was mentioned above as having received a message from GEORG BRANTING, Stockholm, Sweden, concerning the .: WULLIJOKI of Finland. Furthermore, BERIAU is known to this office as a Danish writer using the pen name of MARIA/STEN. She is alleged to have been active as a member of the Communist Party and as a writer for a Communist paper while living in Copenhagen, Denmark. She has also been said to be critical of the United States' policy and to advocate communism in this security.

SOURCE TO S

According to this source, confidential National Defense Informant reported that on January 30, 1945, BRECHT was seen with WILLIAM DIETERIE, with whom he is intimate, at the Filmarte Theater. The showing on that date was for a restricted group who were extended invitations, and while informant was unable to determine the exact nature of the picture shown, it was his knowledge that on previous occasions Russian films had been shown there under similar circumstances. WILLIAM DIETERLE is known to this office as a person with alleged Communist sympathies. In the past he has assisted numerous refugees in entering the United States. His wife, CHARLOTTE DIETERLE, is known to be a contact of GREGORI MHEIFETS.

This source reflects surveillance information indicating that on February 8, 1943, BERT BRECHT departed on the Southern Pacific train, The Californian, for New York City. It was later ascertained from who had charge of reservations for S.P., that BRECHT, in making his reservations, had left two telephone numbers, one of which was his home phone and the other Santa Honica 51402. This latter telephone is listed to LICH PSUCHTWANGER.

Prior to departing for New York, BRECHT had obtained a travel permit from the United States Attorney at Los angeles, in which he stated that he desired to remain in New York for about eight weeks on theater business. He said that his address in New York would be uncertain but that he could be reached through BRWIN PISCATOR, 66 West 12th Street. He further indicated that the theater work in which he would engage would involve ELIZABETH BERGNER and PAUL CZINNER.

SOURCE

This source advised that on February 12, 1943, BERT BRECHT arrived in New York City, and upon arrival went to an apartment house located at 124 East 57th Street, which was ascertained to be rented by RUTE BERLAU, previously mentioned, and IDA BACHMAN, who were then both employed by the Office of War Information.

SOURCE

This source advised that on March 6, 1945, according to an article written by ALPRED_MANTOROWICZ, appearing in the April 1945 issue of "Preies Deutschland," BERT BRECHT's works were read at an evening entertainment dedicated to him. This article read in part as follows:

"The Titerary activity of the anti-Fascist German-American circles in New York were stimulated by the arrival of BERT BRECHT in New York. The 'Tribune for Free German Art and Literature in America' took possession of the man and his new works. On Saturday, March 6, a Bert Brecht evening will be held in the theater of the 'New School' in New York, directed by ERWIN PISCATOR. This occasion was initiated by the Tribune and is under the artistic direction of FRIEDRICE ALEXAN in the presence of the guests. The former (and one might well add the future) publisher of the German editions of BRECHT's work, WIELAND MERZFELDE, will open the program. One will hear phonograph records, some of the songs of BRECHT which are familiar and liked by all anti-Fascists in the world--for example, the Solidarity Song, whose refrain will certainly be hummed or sung by the audience, and "Forward, and "Do Not Forget the Source of Our Strength." LIBSEL NEUMANN will read two poetic selections written by BRECHT. The German actor, PETER LORRE, who has become a star in Hollywood, will recite poems by BRECHT, and ELIZABETH BERGNER-it is unnecessary to explain her importance to German acting, everyone knows her--will read BERT BRECHT's ballad, "The Children's Crusade," which was first published in the German-American periodical, "The German-American," which is well worth reading."

This source made available a list of BRECHT's poems read by PETER LORRE in New York. It contained among other numbers several poems from BRECHT's "Svendborger Gedichte," which are of a revolutionary nature, such as "Schwierigkeit des Regierens," "An die Machgeborenen," "Laotse," and "Ueber die Beseichnung Emigranten."

This source also had the copy of "Svendborger Gedichte," from which LORRE read, and it was noted that the word "emigration" had been changed to "exile" in the poem entitled "Ueber die Beseichnung Emigranten." This peem has previously been brought to the attention of the Bureau in full. It is believed that the substitution of the word "exile" for "Emigration" is an indication that persons connected with BRECHT do not consider themselves immigrants here, but look upon themselves rather as exiles who wait to return to Europe.

This source advised that on April 23, 1943, a BERTOLT BRECHT evening was given in New York under the auspices of the Tribune, according to the April 23, 1943, issue of "Aufbau," a refugee weekly published in New York. This advertisement describes a special program under the auspices of the Tribune at the Heckscher Theater, 1 Bast 104th Street, New York, on April 34, 1945. The program was sponsored by the Central Office of the Workers Health Association of America and the Washington Heights Center (Branches 91, 92, and 410). The program was described as a BERTOLT BRECHT evening at which BRECHT would render some of his new poems. Other persons participating with BRECHT were listed as: ELIZABETH BERGNER, HERTHA GLAZ, GRETA-WILLELS, HERBERT BERGHOF, WIELAND HERZFELDE. FRIEDRICH GEORGE ALEXAN was to direct the program, which was described as a "closed" meeting to which members of the above organizations were invited.

Source also advised that on May 10, 1943, BERT BRECHT cooperated in putting on a program in honor of the tenth anniversary of the burning of books on the same date in 1933, according to another advertisement appearing in the May 7, 1943, issue of "Aufbau." According to this advertisement, the program was held at the Studio Theater, 66 West 12th Street, New York. Other persons cooperating in this program are not being repeated here. This program was also under the direction of FRIEDHICH GEORGE ALEXAE, and it appears that the Joint Committee for the Restoration of Burned and Banished Books in Europe, the New School for Social Research, Die Tribune Fuer Freie Deutsche Literatur und Kunst, and other organizations were sponsors of the program.

SOURCE

This source advised that on about May 15, 1943, BERT BRECHT returned to Santa Honica, California, from New York City. This source reflects that in May 1943 telephone calls made from the BRECHT residence for the previous three months had been ascertained. It will be noted that this period coincides with that during which BRECHT was in New York. Among the persons called from the BRECHT residence during this time were PETER LORRE, ALEXANDER GRANACE, Mrs. HEINRICH MANN, LUDWIG MARCUSE, WILLIAM DIETERLE, and OSCAR HOWOLK.

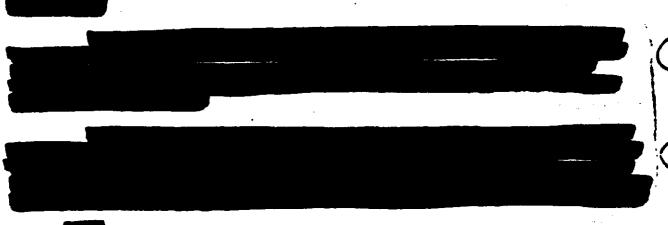

SOURCE

This source reflects information from Confidential National Defense Informant to the effect that on the evening of May 29, 1943, a meeting, the nature of which was unknown, was held at the residence of BERT BRECHT.

According to this source, FRITZ KORTNER was present at this meeting.

PRITZ KORTHER is known to this office as a person who has expressed enthusiasm over the Free German Committee in Moscow and the manifesto issued by it, and has indicated himself as being in favor of supplanting the Mari government with a Communist government. He is also known to be a friend of OTTO KATZ, but reportedly broke with KATZ politically in March 1940. His name appeared in the notebook of GREGORI KHEIFETS, who will be described hereafter. The automobile registered to his wife, JOHANHA KORTKER.

Angeles County Communist Party and has also been observed in the vicinity of: the home of LYDIA MARCUS, a Communist Party member and delegate when a meeting was being held at the MARCUS home.

SOURCE

This source reflects information from to the effect that as of June 16, 1943, BRECHT was supposed to have written a new play in collaboration with HANS WINGE. With respect to this play, informant advised that he had heard that someone had advised BRECHT that he could not produce a play of that type on Broadway, and that BRECHT replied to this, "I am writing this for Germany." Informant pointed out that the tendency on the part of the Free German movement in Mexico is to prepare for the day when refugees could return to Germany. He added that it appeared that BRECHT was also doing work in advance for that occasion.

HAMS WINGE has been reported to this office as a very close associate of BERT BRECHT but not a Communist inasmuch as he does not approve of force and violence. WINGE has been described as a Socialist.

Source also reported that on June 7, 1943, the automobile of RUTH BERIAU was observed parked in front of the residence of HANNS EISLER. At that time it was ascertained that BERIAU's automobile was registered to her at 1063 26th Street, Santa Honica, California, and it will be recalled that this is the address of BERT BRECHT. It is not known, however, whether BERIAU resided at the BRECHT residence.

According to surveillance information reported by Source BISLER, previously mentioned, was observed on the evening of June 12, 1943, the visit the residence of BERT BRECHT. At that time the automobiles registers to

This source reflects information that in about July 1943, BERT BRECHT attended a social gathering at which a young Russian lady journalist spoke. This information was obtained by this source from a letter dated July 20, 1943, from CHARLOTTE DIETERIE, mentioned above, to Dr. BKUHO PREISTADT, 312 Calles Drive, Jimenes, Nexico, D.F., in which Mrs. DIETERIE writes: "At present we have here a young kussian lady journalist from whom much information can be had of a kind which would be of much interest to you there. Recently there was a big social gathering at D's, where she spoke at a very interesting international gathering (THOMAS MANN, PEUCHTMANGER, BRECHT, BRUNO FRANK, EISLER, DE KOBRA, LUBITSCH)."

SOURCE

This source reflects that on July 2, BERT BRECHT had applied to the United States Attorney at Los angeles for permission to travel to Arrowhead, California, for the purpose of visiting PITER LORRE. He indicated that he desired to leave July 3 and return July 6, 1943. In this connection, Source reflects that the had previously advised that LORRE, who was collaborating with BRECHT on a play, had advised friends that he spends time at Arrowhead, where he takes part "in important conversations."

SOURCE TO THE

During July or August 1945, according to this source, BERT BRECHT attended a meeting for the purpose of endorsing the loscow manifesto issued by the Mational Committee for Free Germany in Moscow during July. The information furnished by this source was to the effect that on August 9, 1943, LICH FRICHTWANGER had advised that TASS, the Russian news agency, had requested him and THOMAS MANN, brother of HEINRICH LANN, to express their opinions on a certain matter. FRUCHT-NANGER claimed that he convinced MANN that he should accent TASS's request only after a long discussion, and that thereafter a meeting was held at the home of BERTHOLD and SALKA VIERTEL, 165 Maberg Road, Santa Monica, California, who have been mentioned previously, for the purpose of drawing up a statement. Persons present at the VITRIEL home and first agreed to sign such a statement, according to FEUCHT ANGER, were THOMAS TAKE, BRUNG-REAME, LUIA-IG HARCUSE, BERTHOLD VIERTEL, BERT HRECHT, probably manufactured to the state of the state FIGURE, and a professor whose name could not be recalled by this source. However, on the following day THOMAS MANN, BRUHO FRANK, LUDWIG MARCUSE the professor withdraw their names.

when speaking of this, PEUCHTWANGER expressed himself as considering BERT ERECHT the focal point toward whom a great many radicals hook. He advised that ERECHT has fanatical supporters and that all of his writings are of a political nature. He added that ERECHT's songs are sung by the hed Army.

SOURCE

Concerning this same matter, this source related information furnished by who advised that the above-mentioned meeting at the VIZATEL residence was for the purpose of drawing up a statement endorsing the Maccow Manifesto issued by the National Committee for Free Germans in Moscow.

Source also advised that TROMAS MANN had stated with respect to the above-mentioned meeting that it had originally been intended to get writers, scientists, and artists of the refugee group to back the Koscow Manifesto in a statement to be published in American papers, but that he himself had refused to sign it, and that the statement was never released.

SOURCE TO THE

This source reflects information from to the effect that as of October 1943 ROBERT THORREN, a refugee writer employed at M-G-M Studios, was soliciting donations in the amount of $25 per week for six months in order to raise a fund for BERT BRECHT and HARNS EISLER. Likewise informant advised that LILLIF LATTE, girl friend of FRITZ LANG, was also soliciting donations for BRECHT and BISLER.

This source also furnished information from to the effect that on October 7, 1943, HANNS FISLER was anxious to get in touch with BERT BRECHT since there was to be a dinner at Lucy's (possibly the rest-aurant across the street from R-K-O Studios), where "special" people were to be present. It was known to informant that CLIFFORD ODETS had invited BISLER to a dinner at Lucy's on October 7. ODETS has been reported to this office as being considered a leader in the Communist writing field for the past ten years, and it is known that he was contacted on one occasion by OREGORI KHEIFETS.

Informant also advised, according to this source, that on October 7, 1943, BERT BRECHT visited with HANNS FISLER. At that time BISLER inquired of BRECHT as to whether he had heard anything from SYLVIA SIDNEY, and BRECHT replied that while he had heard nothing from her himself, he knew that she was coming to Los Angeles.

SOURCE TO

This source reflects surveillance information to the effect that an October 25, 1943, GREGORI KHEIFETS, described above, visited the residence of BERT BRECHT from approximately 1:45 p.n. to 3:05 p.m. It might be noted that this visit was made almost immediately after a visit by KHEIFETS to the residence of HEINRICH MARN. Furthermore, at the time of this visit the automobile of RUTH BERLAU was parked in front of the BRECHT residence.

This source also advised that on November 7, 1943, BERT BRECHT and his wife attended a reception given by the Soviet Consulate at Los /ngeles.

SOURCE

This source furnished information from that after the reception at the Soviet Consulate on November 7 the EISLERS;

BRECHTS, and KORTNERS were seen at a party, and at this time they all appeared very much encouraged and reassured. According to this source, Observed these persons at the party.

This same source reflects that on November 15, 1943,

That BERT BRECHT had stated that BRARS, nephew of the leader of the Czech government in exile, had told him that refugees now in the United States had already been listed by the government for purposes of custodial detention after the war. BRECHT is alleged to have stated that in view of this, he would escape from the United States with a Czechoslovakian passport which he could secure through BENES. These remarks of BRECHT were made to one WHATT (or MCHATY), the collaborator with the Czech government in exile. As will be seen later, BRECHT has made efforts to obtain the Czech passport from BENES.

SOURCE

Reflects that according to the records of the United States Attorney at Los Angeles, BRECHT departed from Los 'ngeles for New York City inasmuch as he made application to travel to New York on that date. At the time he indicated that he desired to remain in New York until December 31, 1943.

SOURCE

According to this source, advised that BRECHI, on his trip to New York, was believed to be engaged in staging a play Which he had written and which is based on a well known Czech novel entitled "Schwejk" by HASEK.

This source also advised that according to had consulted with one GUSTAY ACHATY on several occasions relative to life and conditions in Czechoslovakia, since this information was necessary to BRECHT in the writing of a play entitled "Schwejk." According to this informant, it was his understanding that BRECHT had obtained the rights to "Schwejk" through BENES, nephew of EDUARD BENES, Fresident of Czechoslovakia. The BENES with whom BRECHT had contact is said to be the Czech Consul in San Francisco and a personal acquaintance of "ACHATY.

ACTIVITIES IN THE UNITED STATES, 1944

This source furnished information reflecting that as of January 1944 BERT BRECHT allowed the use of certain of his material to an unknown individual associated with HANNS BISLER. It was known to this informant that on January 18, 1944, an unidentified man discussed with BISLER a long distance telephone call made to BERT BRECHT in New York and advised BISLER that BRECHT had agreed to allow the use of certain material. It appeared that BISLER and the inidentified man were planning some sort of stage production for which they would need $10,000. KIEMPERER, possibly OTTO KIEMPERER, 1546 Calmar Court, was mentioned as having some connection with this matter.

This source also furnished information that during January 1944, one of BRECHT's plays was apparently being rewritten by HANNS EISLER, BERTHOLD VIEHTEL, and FRITZ KORTNER. EISLER remarked several times that the play was considered very good, true to life, and evidently pertinent to the current political and social situation. It was believed that BRECHT had given tentative approval to the use of his material for the proposed play, although some agreement in written form would have to be arrived at later. It is possible that this relates to the matter mentioned in the previous paragraph.

SOURCE

This source reflects that on January 17, 1944, BERT ERECHT was residing at the apartment of RUTH BERLAU and IDA BACH ANN, 124 East 57th Street, New York City. It appears that BRECHT has sublet a part of this apartment ever since his arrival in New York in November 1943. On January 17, 1944, according to this source, GERHARD SISLER, an alleged Comintern agent and brother of HANNS EISLER, visited the apartment occupied by BRECHT and remained for approximately one hour and a quarter.

degarding the information in the previous paragraph, it is to be noted that this source reflects information to the effect that during the first six months of 1944, activities of the Free Germany movement in New York City had been increased considerably, and that there was a strong coalition at work to establish a Free German organization in New York. It was stated that all efforts of the German Communists in New York were being directed toward obtaining sufficient numbers of German Social Democrats, liberals, and trade unionists who have not been apenly identified with the Communist Party so that a Pree German organization, if established, would be considered as a united German front rather than a Communist organization. The leading functionaries moving to establish this Pree German movement were listed as Dr. FAUL TILLICH, FAUL HAGEN, and J. 2008 HAICHER. The persons active in attempting to organize the Free German Committee were listed as BERT BEDCHT, Nr. FLIX SOCHED, ALEX T. EFA. ANTONO ICZ, and HERINARCA.

SOURCE

As of further interest in connection with the foregoing activities of BERT RECORD in New York City, this source advised that on May 3, 1944, an organisation known as the Council for Democratic Germany was introduced through the press. This source advised that BERT BERCHT was one of the organizers of this council, the head of which is Mar FAULTILLICA. The personnel of the Council for Democratic Germany appears to identify it with the alleged Pressure movement being established in New York, as related above by Source Concerning the Council for Democratic Germany in the activities of BR (T BRUCHT, this source states that during the winter of 1943-1944 BRIT RETUIT was in New York and participated in the preliminary conferences for the founding of the new council. TILLICH also said that BRECHT had definite instructions from the Council to enlist as many famous writers as possible on the West Coast after he returned to Los Angeles during the spring of 1944. It might be noted that the Council for Democratic Germany includes many representatives of known Communist background, which would further seem to identify the with the organisation mentioned above by Source which was to be campuflaged as a German front rather than a Communist organization.

Apparently in the latter part of Earch or the early part of April, 1944, ETHT PRECENT returned to Los Angeles, inasmuch as this source reflects that on January 31, 1944, BRECENT wrote to the United States Attorney at Los Angeles requesting permission to remain in New York for approximately two months longer.

This source reflects surveillance information to the effect that on April 27, 1944, GREGORI EMPIFETS, described above, visited the home of BERT BECHT from 3 to 5 p.a. The purpose of this call or the nature of the conversation taking place at that time is unknown.

SOURCE

This source reported surveillance information to the effect that on June 16 GREGOKI KHEIFETS, previously described, visited the residence of BURT BRECHT from 2 to 3:50 p.m. What transpired during this visit is unknown.

C.N.D.I.

This source advised on June 6 that BERT BRECHT and HARRIS RISLER had conversed with BERES (first name believed to be 30HUS), then Czechoslovakian Consul at San Francisco about the possibility of obtaining Czechoslovakian passports. This informant advised that BRECHT and SISLER are already concerning themselves with an early return to Europe. They apparently believe that possession of Czech passports will facilitate their travel, particularly their departure from this country. As a result of this conversation, it appeared that Czechoslovakian passports would be issued to BRECHT and RISLER once a decision to that effect had been made by the Czechoslovakian Government, and that such a decision would depend on the ability of BRECHT and RISLER to show that they would be an asset perhaps in a cultural way to the future Czechoslovakia.

This informant subsequently advised reporting agent that at the time of this conversation between BRUCHT, WISLYR, and BUMPS, BRECHT and WISLYR, in response to a suggestion that possibly they would have to get exit visas from the United States Government, indicated astonishment at this and then remarked, "Well, the border is close by."

FAIL COVER

A recent mail cover placed on the residence of BERT BRECHT reflected that BRECHT received an insured package postmarked August 3, 1944, sent by RUTH BERLAU, 124 East 57th Street, New York City. This cover also reflected that BRECHT received two letters from 34 Pryor Lane, Larchmont, New York. The postmarks on these letters were unknown, but one of them was received by BRECHT on August 4 and the other is known to have been an air mail special delivery letter.

C.11. 1.1.

On August 12 and July 28, 1944, this informant advised that a "girl friend of BERT BRECHT" had recently arrived from New York City and was staying with PETER LORRE.

BRECHT, of course, is presently married and living with his wife and two children. Informant later ascertained that this girl friend had moved from LORRE's to an unknown address near Wilshire Boulevard. He stated that he had heard that BRECHT and his friends had engaged in political discussions at the LORRE residence while this girl friend was located there. Informant felt that these discussions might also be continued at the girl's new address. The identity of this girl friend is unknown, and it might be noted that the mail cover mentioned above reflects that UTH BERLAU was in NewYork as late as August 3, 1944. This would seem to eliminate her as being the girl friend referred to.

II

On ray 18 and 20, the name of BERT BRECHT was placed on both the mational and local censorship watch lists for a period of ninety days. It might be noted that BRECHT's name had previously been placed on the national censorship watch list on January 19, 1944.

By letter of July 18 a sixty-day mail cover was placed on the residence of SERT BRECHT. It might be noted that previously prosecution of BRECHT for infractions of the alien enemy travel regulations was declined by the United States Attorney at Los Angeles. Furthermore, on July 26 the United States Attorney's office at Los Angeles advised that a Presidential warrant for subject's apprehension as an alien enemy would not be authorized as of that date. It was suggested, however, that periodic checks of subject's activities be made.

The following description of BERT BRECHT was obtained from the records of the Immigration and Maturalisation Service:

N what appears, to a linguistic reviewer, as an exceptionally smooth translation. the original documentary play offers plausible hints for the resuscitation of Broadway. Brecht, poet and exiled dramatist of Ber-In's revolutionary theatre, presents as his tragic hero, Germany: time, 1933-38. Poetic talent kis happily used not for rhetsoric (the dialogue is witty, naturalistic) but for the tight construction of seventeen scenes and for the plastic values indicated in the stage directions.

The scene of two frightened physicists, receiving a formula smuggled from Einstein, depends on a visual effect—the nervous gesture, the conspiratorial tip-toe -natural to ballet and to vaudeville but absent from the "wellmade" Broadway play. Again, in a twelve-line scene, "the prisoners walk round in a circle. Each time they pass, two bakers speak to each other: What did they get you for? Look out!" Because I didn't put bran . . in the bread. And you?' Because I didput bran in the bread." Improperly staged, og out of context, this is vaudeville blackout, but as one of many touches building up the character of Nazi Germany it is effective drama.

Except for a few aridities suggesting the schoolroom rather than the barricades, the play is intensely dramatic, even though addressed to the critical intelligence-rather than the emotions -of the average audience. Brecht is hardly to blame if the average faudience's preference for thrills and sentimental catharais has driven him to some high-minded expedients, explosive in the hands of loss gifted imitators.

To prevent any sentimental identification with his characters, Brecht changes them with every scene; the only constant prop is a panner which rumbles offstage and occasionally appears, holding twelve chalk-taced soldiers. This not duringly but for "inter-calculated to jolt the LIFE OF THE MASTER- "The Jewish Wife," or the boy "Informer," whose parents fear he will betray them, is moving in the old-fashioned way, but this effect is subordinated to the whole and meant to inspire action rather than pity.

To eliminate the spoon-fed excitements of "plot," Brecht involves the whole German people in his action, so that suspense is automatically "raised" to the level of society rather than individuals. While I understand that Thomas Mann and others have suggested "lowered" as a better word, Brecht's assumption is at least a precondition for political change.

Anyhow, plot or no plot, suspense mounts from the early betrayals of worker by worker, wife by husband, parents by children, until it becomes obvious to the dullest that nazism has cut loose like a brainless machine, and is devouring its supporters impartially with its enemies. Brecht is at his best in the horrible comedy of "Justice." Judge A, about to sentence a Jew for provoking some SA men to rob him, discovers that the Jew's partner is highly influential in the SS. There is no justice any more," he confides to his friend, Judge B, who promptly reports him to the authorities.

N the end the workers discover happy 1940!) that they might as well die resisting as acquiescing, and the chalk-faced soldiers in the panser, now stalled and fromen on the Eastern stoppes, come alive. Dressed in women's furs and underclothing, "they beat their arms against their bodies to keep WELTHL" To the tune of "Horst Wessel" they sing "At times we fear we have made too long a journey." Nevertheless, Brotht has managed to keep Propa-C ganda subservient to art. There are no Hollywood villains, and even his workers are human. The play, nearly perfect in form, is full of the grotosque touches of art. But our political scriptwriters seem to have been most impressed by Brecht's betweento verses and declarations which at least in tran pear highly dispus

This request is made in view of the fact that. BRECHT, who is prominent in Loc Angeles in the Free Jerman movement, carries on correspondence with members of the Tree German Committee, Mexico, D.F. attender 2001/2 6 516/2.

This same source of information gave the following facts concerning the Subject, HRECHT:

MERTOLACHECHT, born in Germany on February 10, 1898, is a well-known playwright. He became famous when he wrote the "Dreigroschenoper" (Three-Penny Opera), a revolutionary play which was very famous in Berlin in pre-Hitler days. Recordings of the opera are available in this country. Other plays are "Baal", "Trosseln in Der Nacht" (Drums in the Night").

BRECHT emigrated from Germany to the United States some years ago and settled in Los Angeles. During the winter, 1943-1944, he was in New York City and participated in the preliminary conferences for the founding of the New Council. The chairman of the Council, PAUN THLICH, regards BRECHT as one of the "almost Communist " representatives. THLICH said literally "We have two and one half Communist representatives in the Council; the half is HERRY BRECHT".

THILICH also said that BRECHT haddefinite instructions from the Council to enlist as many famous writers as possible on the West Coast after he returned to Los Angeles in the spring of 1944. Whether or not PRECHT was technically a member of the German Communist Party in Germany could never be established. However, it was known that he was a member of various Communist-front organisations and participated in many affairs sponsored by the German-Communist Party. He was editor of Pass Wort, Moscow.

A COLOR DE LA COLO

On the West Coast, HRECHT has contacts with the Hisler family, with the actors FRITZ KORTHER, OSCAR HOMOLKA and PETER-LORRE and with the writers HEINRICH MANN and BERTHOLD VIERTEL.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION INFORMATION

On November 14, 1944 the records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at Los angeles were examined to determine the present status of subject's naturalization. It was ascertained that no action has been taken in this matter since the filing of a "Statement of facts to be used in making declaration of intention" on October 16, 1941.

The Immigration and Maturalisation file was also examined for any indication that BERT BRECHT had been in the United States in 1936, as is indicated in reference report. This inquiry met with negative results.

It is interesting to note that according to this file BRECET gave his last place of residence as Helsinfors, Finland and the place where he boarded the ship as Vladivostok, Russia. He indicated that he was destined to HILLIAN DISTERIE and stated that Mrs. RUTH BERIAU was another passenger aboard the ship.

For possible future reference it is to be noted that the Alien Enemy Registration certificate of BERT BRECET is in possession of this office and contains a photograph of subject.

FREE GERMAN ACTIVITIES

On September 30, 1944, advised that he had talked with BERT BRICHT, and in response to direct questions, BRECHT stated he was not connected with the Free German movement in Moxico City, nor was he connected with the Free German movement in Moscow, his only connection being with the Louncil for a Democratic Germany, in New York. BRECHT also stated that there is no Free German organisation in Los Angeles and that none is contemplated. He also stated that no meetings are ever held in this area which have to do with the postwar government in Germany.

Source remarked that he personally believed BRECHT to be stating the truth in regard to the activity of the Free German movement in Los angeles because he said if there was any organization of that nature in Los angeles, BRECHT, LION TEUCHTANIGEN and THOMAS MANN would have solicited his aid in the formation of such an organization because they know that he likes Germany as Germany without Maxism, and that he is not a Communist. They thus would desire his aid as a "front".

THE STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PERSON OF T

Source Continued that he asked BRECHT what the purpose of the Proc German movement was and what his reasons were in helping it.

BRECHT replied, according to Source that the purposes of the Proc German organisation and his reasons for joining the Committee for a Democratic Germany were one and the same, and that they were: (1) to see that no person who is a member of the German military clique is placed in a responsible governmental position in the postwar German government; (2) to see that no person who is a member of, or sympathetic to the Nazi Party in Germany is placed in a responsible governmental position in the postwar German government.

Source Explained that BRECET said that his mothod of preventing such persons from gaining prominent positions in the postwar government in Germany was by articles prepared by himself and other anti-Nazi authors warning the Allied Governments of all such persons in Germany who aspired to control the postwar government in that country. ERECHT remarked during this conversation with Source that his efforts in this regard were not necessarily pro-Communistic or pro-democratic. He merely wanted to be certain that no persons who belonged to the German military clique or the Nazi Party were able to gain any power in the German Government after the war and whether the democratic governments or Russia dominate postwar Germany made no difference to him as long as the persons who belonged to the above mentioned groups gained no power.

Source also reported that BRECHT remarked to him that he, BRECHT, intended to return to Germany after the war, and Source at that time asked him if he was desirous of returning to Germany because he thought that he could obtain a position in the postwar German government. BRECHT's reply to this was, according to Source and that he had no desire to obtain any governmental position in Germany after the war; all he wanted to do was to return to his work in Germany. Source remarked that in his opinion BRECHT was probably stating the truth because he does not think that BRECHT has any political aspirations. Source described BRECHT as an artist and writer and definitely not a politician.

Source stated that as far as he could learn from BRECHT only the following persons residing in this area are interested in the Free German movement: LION FEUCHTANGER, FRITZ KORTHER, and HEINRICH MANN. Source described BRECHT as "certainly a leftist" but said that he could not state definitely that BRECHT was a Communist. He said he did not think HEINRICH MANN or FRITZ KORTHER were Communists, but did say that in his opinion LION FEUCHTWARGER is definitely a Communist.

On October 16, 1944, C.N.D.I. advised that according to an intimate of BERT BRECHT, BRECHT was not a member of the Communist Party even though he was spreading Communist gospel through his writings. Informant described BERT BRECHT and his type of intellectual leftist writers as cynics and anarchists who would be as much opposed to the Soviet Union if they lived there as they are today against democratic government. Informant differentiated between BRECHT and OTTO AATZ whom she described as an idealist who would die for Communism, if necessary.

On December 7, 1944, informent C.M.D.I. was again contacted for information concerning BRECHT's activities, with negative results.

VIADIMIR POESNER

C.N.D.I. has recently furnished information conterning association between BLRT BR_CHT and VLADIMIR FORSHER, who is known to this effice as a frequent contact of GREGORI. LIFETS and as reportedly being active as a G.P.U. agent. For example, in example that on august 19, 1944, Mrs. PORSMER accepted an invitation for the POESMERS to visit the BRECHTS for a quiet evening again on September 26, 1944 POESMER was advised by an unknown woman that BRECHT had been in conversation with the woman whereupon POESMER remarked that that was interesting and that he would see the woman and talk matters over.

C.N.D.I. related that en October 16, 1944, POESNER and BRECHT were in touch with one enother concerning a scenario. At that time POESNER made detailed criticisms on three points of a script, apparently propared by BRECHT. This script involved a character by the name of ALMETTE and has as its final scene a trial in court. At the close of this contact POESNER inquired of BRECHT whether or not BRECHT was coming to the "rendezvous". BRECHT advised he was not coming as he had too much to do and would be no good there whereupon POESNER stated that he would go with a friend and would let BRECET know about it afterwards.

On October 17, 1944, according to C.H.D.I. an unknown woman was in touch with POESFER and remarked that it was her understanding that she was to have a table at the Russian war Relief, with POESFER and BRECHT. POESFER advised however, that he was not going to attend this function.

C.K.D.I. further related that on October 17, 1944 BRECHT, POISTER and an unidentified women, possibly Salka VIERTEL, who is collaborating with POESTER, conversed about a manuscript. POESTER advised

The state of the s

おいながれたを下に使りませんという。 は BRECKE on this occasion that he had just returned from a conference concerning the manuscript and that the person considering it was werried about the "Underground" matter. He had however that he had pointed out to this individual that the "underground" matter came up only once and could be easily disposed of. POESMER related that an individual named WALLACE was present at this conference.

CONTLCTS WITH THE SOVIET VICE CONSULATE

Source advised that the BRECHT automobile was observed at the Soviet Vice Consulate in Los angeles on the night of October 14, 1944 at which time a farewell party was being given for MIKHAIL MALATOZOV, fermor Russian film representative. GREGORY ALSPAROV, successor of GREGORY ALSPAROV, successor of GREGORY ALSPAROV, and AFDREL VASSILIEV are known to have come from Scn Francisco to Les angeles and to have attended this party.

C.N.D.I. reported that on October 30, 1944 MIKHAIL NAVILOV, Soviet Vice Consul at Les angules, contacted BERT BRECHT for the address of HEINRICH MANN.

PUBLICATIONS

according to a book roviou in the New York Times of December 17, 1944, BERT BRECHT published a book entitled "The Frivate Life of the Master Rece". This work was translated, with an essay, by ERIC RUSSELL BERTLEY. It was published by New Directions, Norfolk, Connecticut. The review states that in this work BRECHT presents as his tragic here the nation of Germany during the period from 1933 to 1938. It is said that the plan is intensely dramatic even though addressed to the critical intelligence—rather than the emotions—of the average audience.

With reference to particular opisodes, the review states that their independent effect is subordinated to the whole and meant to inspire action rather than pity. It is said that in this book BRECHT involves the whole German people in his action, so that suspense is automatically "raised" to the level of society rather than individuals. The reviewer states that while it is his understanding that others suggested "levered" as a better word than "raised", BRECHT's assumption is at least a precondition for political change. The review concludes "ERECHT has managed to keep Propaganda subservient to art....The play, nearly perfect in form, is full of grotesque touches of art. But our political scripturitors saom to have been most impressed by ERECET's between-scene verses and declarations which, at least in translation, appear highly dispensable."

RUTH BERLAU

On December 8, 1944, Source advised that RUTH BERLAU, who is mentioned in the first part of this report as having accompanied BRECHT to this country, is now residing above the garage at the BERTHOLD and SHALL VILLE residence, 165 hayborry Read, Santa Lonica, and is autompting to learn microfilm copy work.

According to this source, she recently engaged MILLIAN SALVI, 1639 Oak Street, Santa honica, a emermen employed by the Mitchell Comera Corporation, 665 North Robertson, Boverly Hills, to teach her this work at a salary of $5.00 per hour. However, she felt that SALVI did not know very much and therefore engaged RICHARD ERICHSON, a 16 year old boy, to assist her at $2.00 per hour. ERICHSON resides with his mother, DORCTEM ERICHSON, 726 Richto, Venice, California, and works at the Mitchell Comera Corporation with SalvI, who apparently referred BERLAU to ERICESON.

ERICKSON, who states that BERLAU has all kinds of war pictures and even pictures of HITLER, apparently interested BERLAU in emrolling in a photographic laboratory course at the Venice High School, Venice, California, inasmuch as he attends this class, and almost the night after his contact with BERLAU she emrolled in the course.

Source stated that BERLAU is studying photography in order to make .35 mm. mapies of a German language manuscript consisting of about 190 pages of prose and poetry written by people born in another country. She plans to photograph each page of this menuscript and then make about ton enlargements of the various pages, size 4 x 5 or 5 x 7 inches.

be bound in book form and sont to Germany after the war.

Source advised that BERT BRECHT is interested in these activities of BERLIU for BERLIU has used BRECHT's automobile in attending the above mentioned classes. Furthermore, on the night of December 12, 1944, BRECHT accompanied BERLIU to the school and assisted her, and on December 18, 1944, when BERLIU berrowed an enlarger from the school for about two weeks in order to work on the manuscript at her home, the school was given a $20.00 check drawn by BERT BRECHT on the Security-First Fational Bank, South honica Branch, 401 Santa monica Boulevard, as a deposit on the equipment.

according to this source, another person interested in this matter is Professor REICEMBLCH. He has supplied BERLU with information concerning exposures and has visited BERLU's room two or three times for apparent purpose of assisting her in this work.

marked in motors, which she claims to have brought from Germany. Source is inclined to doubt this however, pointing out it is brand new in appearance and that it is known to him that BERLIU has been dealing with the firm of Spindler and Sauppe, Los angeles, in obtaining copying equipment. BERLIU also has a contact which she states she used in Mow York, and in this regard it is interesting to note that when BERLIU borrowed the enlarger, as above mentioned, she remarked that it was not the kind she had borrowed in New York. BERLIU also claims to have recently obtained from someone a.16 mm. movie camera. She is endeavoring to obtain film for this camera, stating that she wants to take indoor pictures of an actor.

On December 25, 1944, according to Source DERLU returned to the Venico high School the borrowed enlarging equipment. At that time the made the complaint that it was out of order. She also remarked that she had used the laboratory of the Craftsman Shop, 1205 hilshire Boulevard, Santa monica. She indicated she was contemplating buying a .35 mm. printing box from this establishment.

Source concluded stating that EERLU's work on this manuscript is still in the experimental stage and that she has not yet obtained proficiency in photographic work. He stated she is presently trying to buy .35 mm. film and callarging paper. She recently obtained fifty foot of .35 mm. film and one gross of calarging paper, but requires several more gross of the latter. Source mentioned this as indicative of the scope of BERLU's project.

The indices of the los angeles field Division failed to reflect any information concerning william salad or RICEARD and DOROTHY ARTICKSON.

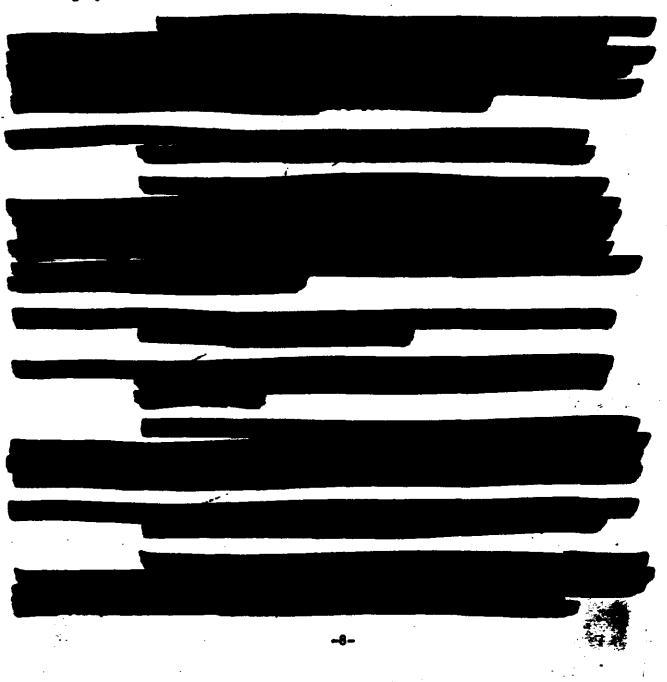

Concerning Professor REICHERBACH, it is interesting to note that this office has a record of Hars REICHERBACH, 469-17th Street, Santa Monica, professor of philosophy at U.C.L.A. He was born in lamburg, Germany on September 26, 1391 and entered the United States in 1959. He is said to be a friend of ABBET EINSTEIN. His son, HANS CALLAR REICHERBACH, apparently lived with BLADING MAINTERN who is known to be an associate of MRIPRICH MAN, and to have been present at the Many residence during a visit by GREGORI MEINETS. It is not known whether Professor HANS REICHEMBACH is identical with the Professor REICHEMBACH referred to by Source T.
