8. Pursuant to 10 CFR 1004.8, the Director, Office of Hearings and Appeals, is the person responsible for reviewing all FOIA appeals submitted to the Department. With respect to denials of access pursuant to Exemption 1, the Director, Office of Security Affairs, has been designated as the official responsible for the review of information at the appellate level. The adjudicatory aspects of such appeals are processed by the Department's Office of Hearings and Appeals.
9. There have been no proceedings instituted under the authority of subsection (a)(4)(F).

10. Department of Energy regulations implementing the Freedom of Information Act, issued on December 29, 1978, became effective on January 1, 1979, and were published on January 8, 1979, in Vol. 44, Federal Register, page 1908.

A change to the regulations regarding the Freedom of Information Reading Room fee schedule was published on March 9, 1982, in Vol. 47, Federal Register, page 9995.

To comply with the Freedom of Information Reform Act of 1986, the Department of Energy published a final rule on the Uniform Fee Schedule and Administrative Guidelines on May 3, 1988, in Vol. 53, No. 85, Federal Register, page 15660.

The Department also amended its regulations on Department policy relating to ownership of records generated by DOE contractors on December 12, 1994, in Vol. 59, Federal Register, page 63882.

11. Fee schedule: Photoduplication - $.05 per page for paper to paper copies and $.10 per page for microform to paper copies. Pursuant to Section 1004.9 of the final rule (see Section 10 above), fees for search and review will be charged to recoup the full allowable direct cost incurred, i.e., salary rate(s) of the employee(s) performing the search and/or review. Fees are not charged for a request or a series of related requests where they would amount, in the aggregate, to $15.00 or less. The approximate amount of fees collected by the Department of Energy was $31,562.48.
12. Additional report information:
  - a. Availability of Records: New categories or segregable portions of records are being released upon request. These include documents declassified after October 1, 1994, for Open-Net, human experimentation records, and draft documents. In compliance with the new Executive Order (12958) the Department has declassified and made publicly available thousands of additional documents.
  - b. The Department of Energy incurred costs of approximately $5,124,366.27 in administering the Freedom of Information Act in 1995. This figure includes the cost of services of Departmental personnel including salary and fringe benefits, litigation proceedings, overhead costs of such services (i.e., training, travel, subscriptions, printing, duplicating, and mailing), and other associated expenses for all program areas and field operation activities related to administering the Freedom of Information Act.

- c. There were 294 instances in which a formal 10-day extension of time was sought. The reasons for the extensions are as follow:
- 1) The need to search for and collect requested records from field facilities or other establishments that are separate from the office processing the request: 82
  - 2) The need to search for, collect, and appropriately examine a voluminous number of separate and distinct records which are demanded in a single request: 159
  - 3) The need for consultation with another agency having a substantial interest in the determination of the request or between two or more components of the agency having substantial subject-matter interest therein: 53
- d. There were 3 instances in which a court appeal was taken on the basis of exhaustion of administrative procedures because the Department was unable to comply with the requests within the applicable time limits.
- e. There were no instances in which a court ruled on the issue of additional time upon a showing of exceptional circumstances.
