7TH DISTRICT COMMUNITY PROSECUTION UPDATE

WELCOME TO THE NEW U.S. ATTORNEY. Kenneth L. Wainstein was appointed interim United States Attorney for the District of Columbia on May 28, 2004. Prior to his appointment, he served as Chief of Staff to FBI Director Robert Mueller. Mr. Wainstein was a prosecutor in this office for nine years and handled a number of high profile cases, including the Starbucks murder case and a groundbreaking case that used the RICO statute against a robbery ring. As a line prosecutor and Deputy Chief of the Homicide Section between 1994 and 1999, he specialized in federal racketeering cases against violent street gangs. He also served as interim U.S. Attorney between April and August of 2001. "I look forward to working with residents to pro-actively address issues of crime and quality of life in communities across the city," said Mr. Wainstein. "We will continue to focus on the prosecution of violent criminals and others who threaten the peace and safety of our neighborhoods."

The COURT REPORT

Marcus Graham was convicted of the brutal November 2002, murder of a great-grandmother, Lucille Batchelor. (PSA 704; Case No. F-7516-02)

FACTS: According to the government's evidence, during the morning hours of Sunday, November 17, 2002, the defendant, Marcus Graham, 21, of 3432 25th Street, S.E., Washington, D.C., went to church with his family. While at church, the defendant became involved in an argument with his wife about money. After the defendant stormed out of the church he decided to rob one of his elderly neighbors, Ms. Lucille Batchelor. When he knocked on his neighbor's door, Ms. Batchelor (a mother of three children, grandmother to eleven grandchildren, and great grandmother to eight great grandchildren) invited him into her home. After she excused herself for a moment, the defendant began to go through her purse. As he was stealing her money and credit cards, Ms. Batchelor came back into the room and caught the defendant in the act of stealing her money. When she came toward him, the defendant tripped her, grabbed her walking cane and began to beat her in the head repeatedly. When Ms. Batchelor went to her knees, the defendant grabbed her body and repeatedly smashed her head against the edge of her dining room table. When the defendant finished, Ms. Batchelor fell to the floor. The defendant then went to Ms. Batchelor's kitchen, got a steak knife, and plunged the steak knife into Ms. Batchelor's still beating heart. The defendant subsequently attempted to use Ms. Batchelor's stolen credit cards to steal more money from her. After his arrest, the defendant offered to pay another person to come to court and provide him with a false alibi.

On May 7, 2004, defendant Graham was found guilty by a D.C. Superior Court jury of two counts of First Degree Felony Murder, Second Degree Murder, Armed Robbery of a Senior Citizen, First Degree Burglary, and Obstruction of Justice. Because the jury found that the victim, Ms. Lucille Batchelor, was especially vulnerable due to her age and her physical infirmity, Graham faces a sentence of up to life in prison without the possibility of parole when Judge John H. Bayly, Jr. sentences him on July 7, 2004.

Assistant United States Attorneys Karen L. Melnik and Stephen J. Pflieger prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Co-defendant Antoine Coleman was sentenced to 20 to 60 years in prison for his role in the execution of two teenagers, resulting from a dispute about broken car window. (PSA 706; Case No. F-2232-01 and F-1057-02)

FACTS: The evidence at trial showed that on July 14, 2000, at 4:00 a.m., defendant Antoine Coleman, and co-defendant Quincy Jones, 24, of the 1700 block of 19th Street, S.E., Washington, D.C., were in the Trenton Park housing complex in Southeast Washington. The defendants became angry when they learned that two teenagers from another neighborhood had broken into defendant Jones's car. In the parking lot near Jones's car, one of the defendants' friends held the two teenagers, Mylan Lucas, 17, and Hakim Williams, 19, at gunpoint with a shotgun. Meanwhile, Jones went to get an AK-47 assault rifle from inside the apartment of defendant Coleman. Defendant Jones returned to the parking lot, AK-47 assault rifle in hand, and pointed the gun at the teenagers. The teenagers begged for their lives and promised to pay for the broken rear vent window of defendant Jones's Oldsmobile. Defendant Jones handed the AK-47 assault rifle to defendant Coleman, who had followed him out to the parking lot. Defendant Jones then searched the pockets of the teenagers to see if they had any money to pay for the broken window. They did not. Defendant Coleman then asked Defendant Jones what he wanted to do. Defendant Jones said, "Fuck him." Defendant Coleman, at point-blank range, then fired the AK-47 repeatedly at Mylan Lucas. Four bullets struck Mylan Lucas in the head and several more in the back and torso, as defendant Coleman continued to fire after Lucas had fallen. When the other teenager, Hakim Williams, flinched, as if he was trying to run away, the man with the shotgun (Kevin Bowman, who plead guilty to two counts of Second Degree Murder While Armed) shot Williams in the chest and hand. Defendant Coleman then shot Hakim Williams, after he had already been shot in the chest with a shotgun, three times in the head with the AK-47. When the police arrived on the scene, the teenagers' faces had been partially blown off. There was brain matter and body parts on the ground nearby, next to defendant Jones's broken car window.

On February 18, 2004, Jones was convicted of two counts of Second Degree Murder while Armed and related weapons offenses for his role in the same incident. On May 3, 2004, he was sentenced by D.C. Superior Court Judge Robert I. Richter to a term of 20 to 60 years in prison for his role in murdering two teenagers with an AK-47 assault rifle. His co-defendant, Antoine Coleman, 24, of the 3500 block of Sixth Street, S.E., Washington, D.C., was also convicted of two counts of First Degree Premeditated Murder while Armed, Obstruction of Justice, and related weapons charges and sentenced on April 26, 2004, also by Judge Richter, to 71 years to life in prison, for murdering two teenagers with an AK-47 assault rifle.

Assistant United States Attorneys Jonathan Rosen, Douglas Klein, Tom Tourish, Amanda Haines, Catherine Motz, and former Assistant United States Attorney Ann Rosenfield all prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Antoino Johnson pled guilty to the vicious stabbing of a 58 year old man during a robbery. (PSA 102; Case No. F-2285 -04)

FACTS: According to the government's evidence, on August 20, 2002, at about 7:50 p.m., Antonio Johnson, 22, of the 3000 block of Stanton Road, S.E., Washington, D.C., and an associate, followed a 58-year-old complainant outside South Capitol Liquors, located at 4654 Livingston Road, S.E., after the man purchased a money order. Johnson approached the complainant from behind and demanded, "Give me what you got!" The complainant initially did not comply with this demand and a struggle ensued. Johnson overpowered the complainant and forced him to the ground. Johnson reached into complainant's pockets and found a wallet with identification cards, but no money. Johnson threatened, "If you don't give it up, I'll kill you!" Johnson then pulled out a knife and stabbed the complainant in the abdomen. The complainant also received a deep cut to his left hand during the assault. Johnson took the complainant's wallet and fled the scene.

The complainant suffered serious bodily injury from the wounds inflicted during the vicious assault. The police officers and paramedics who arrived on the scene observed part of the complainant's small intestine protruding from his body. The complainant's operative report stated that he was "eviscerated" or disemboweled. The complainant was taken to Howard University Hospital, where he immediately underwent surgery.

On May 15, 2004, Johnson pled guilty to Aggravated Assault While Armed. He will be sentenced by the D.C. Superior Court Judge Erik Christian on September 9, 2004. Johnson faces a maximum sentence of thirty years of imprisonment.

Assistant United States Attorney John Interrante prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Shanti A. Scott was sentenced to 15 years in prison for the non-fatal shooting following an argument. (PSA 707; Case No. F-6540-03)

FACTS: According to the government's evidence, on September 4, 2003, defendant Shanti A. Scott, 27, of the S.E. quadrant of Washington, D.C., approached Reginald Bailey in the 600 block of Atlantic St., S.E., and asked him if he wanted to make some money. When Mr. Bailey refused, the two became involved in a verbal argument. The defendant punched Mr. Bailey in the face and Mr. Bailey swung back but missed. The defendant then stepped back, took out a .40 caliber semi-automatic handgun, and shot Mr. Bailey in the leg. The bullet passed through Mr. Bailey's left leg and lodged in his right ankle. Mr. Bailey was eventually transported to Howard University Hospital where the bullet was removed from his ankle. The injury was not fatal, but placed Mr. Bailey in extreme physical pain. Detectives of the Metropolitan Police Department obtained an arrest warrant for the defendant, after Mr. Bailey identified him in a photo spread.

On October 21, 2003, officers of the Metropolitan Police Department stopped the defendant driving a car at 4th Street and Condon Terrace St., S.E. After confirming that there was an arrest warrant for the defendant, the police searched the car and found a .40 caliber semi-automatic handgun in the center console. The Metropolitan Police Department Firearms Examination Section confirmed that bullet recovered from Mr. Bailey's ankle was fired from the same gun recovered from the defendant.

On February 12, 2004, the defendant was convicted by a Superior Court jury of Aggravated Assault While Armed, Assault With a Dangerous Weapon, two counts of Possession of a Firearm During a Crime of Violence, Carrying a Pistol without a License, Possession of an Unregistered Firearm, and Unlawful Possession of Ammunition. On April 23, 2004, Scott was sentenced by the Honorable Wendell P. Gardner, Jr. to 20 years of incarceration, five years of which were suspended, for offenses arising from his shooting of Reginald Bailey in the leg on September 4, 2003.

Assistant United States Attorney John K. Han prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

John Dawkins was found guilty of drugs and firearms offenses by a D.C. Superior Court jury. (PSA 702; Case No. F-3742 -03)

FACTS: According to the evidence at trial, at about 7:30 a.m, on October 18, 2002, police officers executed a search warrant at the home John Dawkins, 21, shared with his mother in the 200 block of 37th Street, S.E., Washington, DC. Inside Mr. Dawkins' bedroom, officers found Mr. Dawkins sitting by a loaded semi-automatic handgun and crack cocaine. Detectives had obtained the warrant pursuant to an investigation into Mr. Dawkins' involvement in a drive-by shooting of six people in the 2700 block of Naylor Road, S.E., that occurred on September 19, 2002.

On March 8, 2004, a D.C. Superior Court jury found Dawkins guilty of Possession With Intent to Distribute Cocaine While Armed, Possession of a Firearm During a Crime of Violence, Possession of an Unregistered Firearm, and Unlawful Possession of Ammunition. On May 21, 2004, D.C. Superior Court Judge Thomas Motley sentenced him to a total of seven years of imprisonment.

Assistant United States Attorney Alessandra De Blasio prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Keith Jackson was sentenced to 25 years incarceration for Manslaughter and related weapons offenses. (PSA 702; Case No. F-2731-02)

FACTS: The government's evidence at trial showed that on May 1, 2002, defendant Keith Jackson, of 2633 Jasper Street, S.E., agreed to sell four tires to his friend for $100. The agreement between the defendant and his friend was for the friend to pay $50 that night and the remaining balance two days later. Shortly after 10:00 p.m., that same evening the defendant was with his friend, Clinton Hodges (also known by the nickname Black), and two other friends in the parking lot of Rockburne Estates Apartment Complex in the 2700 block of Shipley Terrace, S.E., Hodges and one of the friends were putting the tires on a car. The defendant began to argue with Hodges about whether their friend would pay the remaining balance for the tires. During the course of that argument Hodges had a tire wrench in his hand, but did not swing the wrench at the defendant, and did not hit him with it. Hodges told him that he would do to him like another person had done, referencing an earlier unrelated incident where a person had put out a cigarette on the defendant's face. The defendant stated "I'll bust you, I'll shoot you" to Hodges, and left the parking lot. As the defendant walked away, he said that it was not a game and he was going to get his gun. Moments later, one of the defendant's friends saw him walking back to the parking lot with an assault rifle and ran away. When the defendant reached the parking lot, he pointed his assault rifle at Hodges, said "What's up now Black," and immediately began to fire at Hodges. The defendant shot Hodges twice in the back and once in the upper left side of his face. One of the shots that struck Hodges in the back caused immediate paralysis from his arms down his entire body. The shot to the left side of Hodges' face exited the lower front part of his face, blowing off a good portion of his face. While calmly walking away, the defendant stepped over top of the Hodges' body.

Jackson was found guilty on January 29, 2004, by a D.C. Superior Court jury of Manslaughter, Possession of a Firearm During a Crime of Violence, Possession of a Prohibited Weapon (machine gun), Possession of an Unregistered Firearm, and Unlawful Possession of Ammunition in connection with the murder of Clinton R. Hodges on May 1, 2002. On May 26, 2004, Jackson was sentenced by the Honorable John H. Bayly, Jr. of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia to a term of imprisonment of 25 years for the May 1, 2002, shooting death of the decedent Clinton R. Hodges, and related weapons offenses.

Assistant United States Attorneys Karla-Dee Clark and John Han prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

A Grand Jury indicted Ralph A. Johnson of First Degree Murder While Armed for the murder of Andre Smith. (PSA 701; Case No. F-5147-03)

FACTS: On May 14, 2004, Ralph A. Johnson, 17, of the 300 block of 62nd Street, N.E., was indicted on charges of First Degree Murder, Possession of a Firearm During a Crime of Violence, and Carrying a Pistol Without a License, for the death of Andre Smith.

Assistant United States Attorney Blanche Bruce is prosecuting the case on behalf of the government.

Executor, Arthur Freeman, who withdrew over $300,000 from the estate of Nettie Banks, pled guilty to Felony Theft. (PSA 707; Case F-2829-04)

FACTS: On May 12, 2004, Arthur Freeman, 83, of the 1300 block of Upshur Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., pled guilty in D.C. Superior Court to one count of felony theft in connection with his theft of funds from the estate of Nettie Banks. Ms. Banks was a 94-year-old widow who died on June 23, 1997. When he is sentenced by the Honorable Erik Christian on July 30, 2004, Freeman will face up to ten years in prison.

According to the government's evidence, Freeman was appointed personal representative for the Estate of Nettie Banks. Between the period of the defendant's appointment until his removal as personal representative in October of 2003, the defendant failed to properly inventory and value the Estate's assets, failed to file tax returns, failed to disburse any of the bequests set forth in the will and failed to pay the bills of the Estate. The defendant knew that under the terms and conditions of the last will and testament of Ms. Banks, which he would receive all the assets of the Estate, which were not specifically bequeathed. Accordingly, the defendant knew that if he increased the assets of the Estate, he would increase the amount that he would receive from the estate. Freeman then withdrew more than three hundred thousand dollars from the Estate to make a series of unauthorized investments. The funds that the defendant withdrew from the Estate were never returned to the Estate.

Assistant United States Attorney John Carlin prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Reginald J. Earl was sentenced to 11 years for two separate convictions of Aggravated Assault on his girlfriend. (PSA 702; Case F-4939-03)

FACTS: In March 2004, a jury in the Superior Court for the District of Columbia found the Reginald J. Earl guilty of beating his girlfriend for several hours on July 9, 2003, and throwing her out of a second-story window on August 5, 2003.

The government's evidence demonstrated that Earl beat the victim on July 9, 2003, to such an extent that she fled her southeast Washington apartment at 5:00 a.m. with no shoes and ran for several blocks in search of a telephone to contact medical assistance. The victim was transported to Greater Southeast Community Hospital and treated for her injuries. Then, on August 5, 2003, the defendant again physically attacked the victim, ultimately throwing her from a second-story window, located in the 2800 block of Buena Vista Terrace, S.E. (PSA 702), breaking both her ankles. After the last attack, the defendant then fled the scene.

Assistant United States Attorney Mary G. Leary prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Willie Lawson was sentenced to 224 months in prison for an Armed Robbery of Riggs Bank on April 5, 2002. (PSA 710; Case No. 03-0282)

FACTS: On May 12, 2004, Willie Lawson 28, formerly of the 2300 block of Pomeroy Road, S.E., was sentenced to a total of more than 18 years of incarceration for his role in the armed bank robbery of a Riggs Bank branch, located at 4100 South Capitol Street, S.E., Washington, D.C. Judge Bates sentenced Lawson -- who is already serving sentences totaling more than 60 years, resulting from his convictions for armed bank robberies in Arlington, Virginia and Greenbelt, Maryland -- to a concurrent sentence of 140 months for armed bank robbery, and a consecutive sentence of 7 years for the unlawful use of a firearm during a crime of violence. Lawson was convicted on December 16, 2003, after a jury trial.

The evidence at trial established that on April 5, 2002, the defendant and a co-defendant who has not yet been arrested, entered the Riggs Bank shortly after 2:00 p.m. The co-defendant found the bank manager, put a Ruger 9mm pistol to his head and ordered him to open the door to the teller area. Meanwhile, Lawson stood beside a bank customer, showing a gun in the pocket of his "hoodie," and announced that this was a "stick up." Once the teller door was opened, Lawson went into the teller area and looted four teller drawers of more than $20,000 in cash and securities. Lawson and his co-defendant escaped the bank, but Lawson dropped his plastic bag full of cash (and two white latex gloves) in the middle of the street, a short distance from the bank, when four dye packs exploded. When FBI Special Agent Michael MacLean searched the plastic bag, he found a Rite-Aid receipt that reflected the purchase of white latex gloves and a Spartan brand stretch cap. Both robbers wore white latex gloves and the co-defendant wore a stretch cap during the robbery. Later during the investigation, the FBI found two white latex gloves and an empty wrapper for a stretch cap, with Lawson's fingerprints, in a car that Lawson sometimes drove. One Riggs Bank teller identified Lawson through a photo spread and in court.

The government also introduced evidence that the day after the Riggs Bank robbery, Lawson and his co-defendant robbed a SunTrust Bank in Rockville, MD. However, since both men wore masks over their faces they were not identifiable by face. Nevertheless, surveillance photographs from the Riggs Bank and SunTrust Bank robberies showed that the co-defendant was wearing the same clothing as the day before, and was carrying what appeared to be the same Ruger pistol during both robberies. On April 8, 2002, the FBI arrested Lawson in connection with a bank robbery in Virginia, for which he has already been convicted. They searched Lawson's apartment and found the Ruger pistol hidden in a pouch on top of a kitchen cabinet.

Assistant United States Attorney Frederick Yette, prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Daniel Barnes was sentenced to 37 years in prison for raping a 14-year-old and 16-year-old girl. (PSA 710; Case No. F-4609-03)

FACTS: May 14, 2004, Daniel Barnes, 29, formerly of the 600 block of Milwaukee Place, S.E., was sentenced today in D.C. Superior Court by the Honorable Ann O'Regan Keary to a term of 37 years in prison to be followed by five years of supervised release for kidnapping and raping a 14-year-old girl and a 16-year-old girl. Neither victim knew the defendant and both were taken from the street by knifepoint. Specifically, Barnes pled guilty in December 2003 to one count of First Degree Child Sexual Abuse, one count of First Degree Sexual Abuse while Armed, and one count of Kidnapping. Barnes will also be required to register as a sex offender for life.

According to the government's evidence, on April 21, 2003, a 14-year-old girl was walking in the 3300 block of Minnesota Ave., S.E., with a friend, when the defendant came out of the wooded area on the side of the street and approached them. They started to run, but the friend ran faster and got away. The defendant, who was wearing a black mask, grabbed the 14-year-old and took her into the woods. Once inside the wooded area, the suspect told the complainant to remove her clothes. The complainant started to take off her jacket, but the defendant told her not to and took her out of the woods. He then forced her into a burgundy four-door car parked across the street.

The defendant next drove down a side street nearby and parked. He ordered her to remove her clothes, but grew impatient with the time it was taking for the complainant to remove them. He then took off her pants and pulled the complainant down across the front seat. The complainant doesn't know what the suspect did with the knife because she closed her eyes as the suspect began having forcible sex with her. Next the defendant told her to put on her clothes as he drove her to another location where he dropped her off. She ran towards home and the defendant drove away. DNA analysis and examination confirmed that the defendant was the source of DNA recovered from the complainant.

In addition, on August 1, 2003, at approximately 2:00 a.m., the 16-year-old complainant was walking along Elmira Street, S.W., when the defendant, who was wearing a ski mask, a black pea coat and black gloves, approached her from behind. He had a hard object concealed in his pocket. He grabbed her by the neck and took her toward the rear of the building located at #8 Elmira Street. She attempted to get away from the defendant. Once behind the building, the defendant told the complainant to take off her clothes, to put her hands against the wall, and to bend over. The defendant then had forcible sex with the complainant. When the defendant was finished, he asked her how old she was, and where she lived. The complainant told him she was 16 and lived in the neighborhood. He told her to leave the area, and she did so; the defendant also left the rear of the building.

Meanwhile, an eyewitness had contacted the Metropolitan Police Department and directed them to the defendant, who was getting into a blue Chevy Celebrity station wagon. The eyewitness had observed the defendant put on the mask and abduct the complainant. He stayed on the phone with 911 until they came out from behind the building, and he was able to direct the police to the defendant. The defendant was stopped and the complainant was brought back to the scene where she positively identified him, by build and clothing, as her assailant. The eyewitness likewise identified the defendant. Police officers observed a black pea coat in the car. The ski mask, gloves, and knife were also recovered. After his arrest, the defendant gave a statement to MPD in which he said he had met the complainant on a chat line, and that they had agreed to meet on Elmira Street. He said that they had consensual intercourse behind the building. The defendant stated that he showed the complainant the knife and the mask. Eventually the defendant cooperated and told the police about four rapes that he had committed, the two above and two others against 14-year-old girls. DNA recovered from the 16-year-old girl matched the defendant's DNA profile.

Assistant United States Attorneys Carolyn Becker-Hromalik and Sharon Marcus-Kurn, prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.
