

Frank Bedford Jones, Jr.
of Texas

Frank Bedford Jones, Jr., a farming industry appointee from Lubbock, Texas, is a producer of cotton, peanuts, milo and cattle. He has a BBA degree from the University of Texas and a MBA degree from Harvard University. He has professional experience in farming, ranching, and Federal farm policy.

Mr. Jones is an advisor to the National Cotton Council Board of Directors and is a past President of the Cotton Foundation. He is a member of the Texas Cattle Feeders and the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers. He also served as a Board member for the National Cotton Council, Chairman of the NCC's American Cotton Producers Committee and was President of the Plains Cotton Growers.