Recruiting Program

The U. S. Army Recruiting Command (USAREC) is responsible for recruiting applicants and determining their eligibility and qualifications for enlistment. Enlistment is permitted only after applicants meet the qualification standards.

Enlistment Agreement

Soldiers sign an enlistment contract when they enlist or reenlist. The purpose of the contract is to ensure that guarantees promised by the Army are upheld in return for service rendered by the soldier. These guarantees include such options as station of choice, training of choice, and enlistment incentives (education and monetary bonuses).

The Army recruiter explains the nature and availability of enlistment options to an applicant so the applicant is aware of what the commitment involves. The availability of enlistment options is dependent on current Army requirements and is subject to change at any time. The Army guidance counselor, located at the Military Entrance Processing Station (MEPS), determines whether the applicant is qualified for the desired enlistment option. Eligibility is determined by the applicant's qualifications based upon aptitude test scores, education level, moral qualifications, and a medical examination. If the applicant is determined qualified, the enlistment agreement is completed and signed.

When a soldier believes the Army has not met the provisions of the enlistment agreement, a claim of unfulfilled enlistment commitment/erroneous enlistment should be forwarded through his/her chain of command to:

Commander U. S. Army Human Resources Command (HRC) ATTN: TAPC-EPT-S 2461 Eisenhower Avenue Alexandria, VA 22331-0400

The basic enlistment criteria are outlined in Army Regulation 601-210, "Regular Army and Army Reserve Enlistment Program." The basic eligibility criteria for non-prior service applicants are as follows:

Age:

(1) Not less than 17 years of age, but has not reached 18 years of age (with parental consent).

Non-Prior Service Enlistment Standards (2) 18 years of age, but has not reached 35 years of age (age limitation is governed by Title 10, United States Code, section 505a).

Citizenship:

- (1) Citizen of the United States.
- (2) Alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.
- (3) National of the United States.
- (4) Naturalized citizen of the United States.

Test:

Achieve qualifying scores on the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery, which includes the Armed Forces Qualification Test. This test will determine basic eligibility to enlist and specific options/training available to an individual.

Education:

(1) High school diploma graduate.

(2) College graduate.

(3) High school senior.

(4) Home study diploma (if accompanied by State

Certification and transcripts)

(5) Alternate High School Credentials (GED Certificate,

Occupational Program Certificate of Attendance,

Correspondence School Diploma). There are limited openings for non-high school graduates and alternate credential holders.

Physical:

Applicant must meet procurement physical fitness standards of Army Regulation 40-501, Chapter 2.

Medical:

Meet procurement medical fitness standards and any additional medical requirements of the specific option for which enlisting.

Dependents:

- (1) Without a spouse and with no dependents.
- (2) Married, and in addition to the spouse, has two or less dependents.
- (3) Waiver may be considered on dependents pending further screening and interview with recruiter.

Moral:

Recruiter will interview applicant on any records of arrest, charges, juvenile court adjudications, traffic violations, probation periods, dismissed or pending charges or convictions, including those which have been expunged or sealed, to determine eligibility. Waivers may be considered in some cases. Applicants concealing or withholding information will be released from the Delayed Entry Program (DEP) and incur a six-month waiting period to reapply for enlistment. Applicants who depart for active duty/training with concealed charges will be discharged from military service and incur a two-year wait before they can be considered for reentry.

Tattoo policy:

Tattoos or brands that will be visible in a Class A uniform are prohibited. Tattoos or brands that are extremist, indecent, sexist or racist are prohibited, regardless of location on the body, as they are prejudicial to good order and discipline within units. Waivers are not authorized.

The reentry eligibility criteria complement the active duty reenlistment programs by identifying individuals to fill skills and grades required.

Age:

Between the ages of 18 and 35 (17 with signed parental consent). However, age minus the applicant's number of years of prior active federal service may not exceed the age of 35.

Citizenship:

Be a citizen, national, or alien who is lawfully admitted to the U. S. for permanent residence. Must be a United States citizen to go beyond eight years of service.

Test:

Meet aptitude area requirements of three scores of 85 or above on the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery.

Education:

Possess a high school diploma or GED Certificate obtained during or prior to initial service. Prior service non-high school graduates are not eligible for enlistment.

Medical:

Meet retention standards if separated for less than six months. If separated more than six months, meet procurement standards (except that weight must meet retention weight standards).

Prior Service Enlistment Standards

Dependents:

Regardless of the number of dependents, a waiver is not required for enlistment in the Regular Army or Army Reserve for an applicant with a spouse whose entry pay grade will be E-4 or higher. For enlistment in the Regular Army, an applicant with a spouse is qualified without a waiver if entry pay grade will be E-5 or higher, or E-4 if the applicant has at least two years of previous active military service. Additionally, if the entry pay grade is E-3 or below and the applicant is married, the applicant is eligible if there are three or less dependents in addition to the spouse. If the entry paygrade is E-2 or below and the applicant is married, the applicant is eligible if there are two or less dependents in addition to the spouse. All other applicants must have their eligibility determined by recruiting officials. Waiver requests are considered in some cases. Any applicant for the Army Reserve who previously served in the U.S. Armed Forces on active duty and became a single parent while on active duty, will not be disqualified for enlistment based on this fact, if the person is otherwise qualified for enlistment and the person's status as a single parent was not a factor in the discharge or release from active duty.

Enlisted personnel separated from any Regular Component of the Services (Army, Navy, Marines, or Air Force), and those separated from the Army Reserve and Army National Guard (ARNG) are assigned RE codes to indicate their eligibility to reenter the branch of service from which separated. The Army cannot change or explain why another Service assigns a particular code. Questions concerning the assignment of a code should be addressed to the discharging Service. The Army has three types of RE codes: fully qualifying; disqualifying (waivable); and disqualifying (not waivable).

The RE code will not be changed unless it was in error at the time of separation/discharge. If an individual feels that his/her RE code was assigned incorrectly, he/she should submit a letter requesting a determination of the RE code, with a copy of his/her DD Form 214, to:

Commander U. S. Army Human Resources Command (HRC) ATTN: TAPC-EPR-P 2461 Eisenhower Avenue Alexandria, VA 22331-0451

Reentry Eligibility Code (RE Code)

	Upon receipt, his/her official military records will be evaluated and he/she will be advised of the appropriate RE code. If recruiting officials are unable to determine an enlistment eligibility or the reason a soldier was assigned the specific RE code, they may write to the above address.
Delayed Entry Program (DEP)	The DEP provides for recruitment of applicants up to 365 days prior to actual entry on active duty. Enlistment in the Army's DEP constitutes a legally binding contract between the Army and the individual. However, members of the DEP may be discharged for exceptional reasons such as family hardship, acceptance of a college scholarship, or failure to remain qualified for enlistment. To be considered for discharge from the DEP, applicants must submit a detailed statement of their reason for requesting discharge to their recruiter. Current regulations require an interview be conducted by a commissioned officer. Members of the U. S. Army Reserve (USAR) do not enter the DEP, they become members of a USAR unit. The USAR unit is the separation authority and these issues need to be addressed by the U. S. Army Reserve Command.
Waivers to Enlist	Recruiting personnel are responsible for initially determining whether an individual meets enlistment criteria and if waiver consideration is appropriate. The individual should contact the nearest Army recruiting station for assistance in determining his/her current eligibility for enlistment in the Army. Applicants should bring all discharge papers, specifically, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, DD Form 214. No action on a request for a waiver can be taken unless it is submitted by a recruiting official. Recruiters have been delegated the authority to determine, from personal interview and examination, whether an individual is qualified for enlistment and whether a case is sufficiently meritorious to be considered for a waiver.
Enlistment of Women	Current national and Army assignment policies limit the assignment of women to positions having a low probability of direct involvement in combat. Consequently, the Army enlists fewer women than men. At this time, we are able to meet the Army's requirements for female accessions by accepting only those applicants who have both a higher probability of completing their initial enlistment, as indicated by a high school diploma or its equivalent, and the required aptitude for service based on an individual's Armed Forces Qualification Test score.

Educational Credentials

For Army enlistment purposes, the following educational credentials are defined as Tier 1, equivalent to a high school diploma:

- (1) A diploma issued to an individual who has attended and completed a 12-year or grade day program of classroom instruction. The diploma must be issued from the school where the individual completed the program requirements.
- (2) A secondary school diploma awarded on the basis of attending and completing an adult education or external diploma program, regardless of whether the diploma was issued by a secondary or postsecondary educational institution. The diploma must have been issued as a result of attendance, not issued solely on the basis of a test. Accordingly, a GED certificate is not considered equivalent for Army enlistment purposes; it is considered Tier 2.
- (3) Successful completion of at least 15 semester hours (or 22 quarter hours, or 675 clock hours) of college-level credit from an educational institution that maintains accreditation in the current Accredited Institutions of Postsecondary Education book. Credit that is earned through testing or for the pursuit of high school completion is considered Tier 2.
- (4) Home School Diplomas are Tier 1, provided transcripts accompany them and they are certified by the State Education Department or the local school district.
- (5) GED certificates earned through the National Guard Youth Challenge Program (NGYCP), or accredited state Job Corps Centers, are considered Tier 1 if accompanied by the NGYCP certificate or Job Corps Center completion certificate.

The Army's recruiting and enlistment policies seek to provide the best quality Army, at the least possible cost, by enlisting those men and women who have the greatest aptitude for military service and the highest probability of successfully completing an enlistment. Soldiers who are not high school graduates (including those who possess GED certificates) fail to complete their initial term of enlistment at a rate nearly twice that of high school graduates. At the same time, the Armed Forces Qualification Test is the primary indicator of aptitude for military training, and applicants must score 50 or higher on this test.

Officer Accessions

United States Military Academy (USMA), West Point The Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel is responsible for the accession of Army officers onto active duty. With the exception of Medical, Judge Advocate General's and Chaplain's Corps, the Commander, U. S. Army Human Resource Comm is responsible for management of accession programs.

Admission to West Point is gained through a unique system of nomination, qualification and selection. A nomination is the legal authority for the Military Academy to consider a candidate for admission. Those authorized to nominate individuals for appointment to USMA include the Vice President; Members of Congress; the delegate to the House of Representatives from Washington, DC; Resident Representative of Northern Mariana Islands; the Commissioners-Governors of Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands; and the Department of the Army. Each Member of Congress may have five enrolled cadets at the Military Academy. They may nominate up to ten candidates to compete for each vacancy. Candidates found fully qualified for admission but not selected for the specified vacancy for which they were originally nominated are placed on a national waiting list. Each year several hundred candidates are offered admission from this list. Applicants for West Point must meet certain basic requirements specified by public law. Each will also be evaluated for qualifications in three areas: academics, physical aptitude, and medical. Briefly, these are:

Basic Requirements:

Applicant must be a citizen of the United States, at least 17 and not yet 23 years of age on July 1st of the year they seek admission. Applicant must not be married, pregnant, nor have any legal obligation to support a child or children.

Academic Requirements:

Applicant must provide complete scholastic transcripts (to include college) and extracurricular records, the results of their ACT or SAT and the recommendations of their high school faculty. Leadership, community, extracurricular, and athletic involvement are also considered in the overall evaluation.

Physical Aptitude Qualifications:

A Physical Aptitude examination is required. This, along with an applicant's extracurricular record and recommendations, are used to determine physical aptitude qualifications.

Medical Qualifications: Applicant must complete a Department of Defense qualifying medical examination, which is administered by the Department of Defense Medical Examination Review Board (DODMERB). Once a candidate has contacted the DODMERB and scheduled a qualifying medical examination, they can verify their status by visiting the following website: https://dodmerb.tricare.osd.mil. Qualified, nominated, outstanding candidates will be offered admission as their records become complete. Admission files must be completed by mid-March of the year of application. Students generally report in late June. Upon graduation, students will be awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission in the U.S. Army. USMA graduates are obligated to serve five years on active duty and three years in an inactive reserve status. USMA uses a pre-application system. Interested parties should begin in at least their junior year of high school and may obtain more information by visiting the West Point Admissions home page at http://www.usma.edu/admissions or by contacting:

> Directorate of Admissions Building 606 West Point, NY 10996-1905 (845) 938-4041

Army ROTC offers a program of instruction at over 300 colleges and universities throughout the United States and its territories. The program is designed to parallel the academic instruction at the university and, upon completion of a baccalaureate degree, the student may receive a commission in the U. S. Army. Not all ROTC graduates will receive active duty. Some ROTC students may receive Reserve Forces Duty with the U. S. Army Reserve or Army National Guard.

During the Basic Course (freshman and sophomore years), any student may take Army ROTC as an additional academic course. To participate in the Advanced Course (junior and senior years), qualified applicants must contract with ROTC and pass a medical examination. Three and four-year scholarship recipients must successfully complete those courses. Advanced Course students must attend a six-week summer camp. Persons desiring to enter ROTC after their freshman year may be required to attend a six-week Basic Camp to learn the skills taught in the Basic Course. Upon entering the Advanced Course, all contract students (scholarship and non-scholarship) will receive a monthly stipend.

U. S. Army Senior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) The Army ROTC Scholarship Program offers awards in the form of two, three, and four-year scholarships. Recipients receive tuition assistance, certain educational fees, and a flat rate for the purchase of books, supplies, and equipment. Additionally, a subsistence allowance is granted for each academic year the scholarship is in effect.

Four-year scholarships are awarded to qualified high school seniors who will be attending college full-time and to current college freshmen in five-year degree programs. Selection is based on a whole person score comprised of the student's college board scores, school officials' evaluations, leadership, extracurricular and athletic activities, and results of a personal interview and selection board conducted by the Professor of Military Science (PMS).

Two and three-year ROTC scholarships are awarded to advancing college freshmen and sophomores. Selection is based on such factors as college board scores, college academic achievement, extracurricular and athletic activities, results of a personal interview, and selection board conducted by the PMS. For additional information, constituents may contact:

Headquarters, Cadet Command 55 Patch Road, Building 56 Fort Monroe, VA 23651 (757) 788-4571

Qualified enlisted active duty soldiers may also compete for Army ROTC scholarships through the "Green to Gold" program. You may get additional information on this program through http://www.rotc.monroe.army.mil/scholarships/green, or by contacting:

Headquarters, Cadet Command 55 Patch Road, Building 56 Fort Monroe, VA 23651 (757) 788-4571

OCS is a 14-week officers training program taught at Fort Benning, Georgia. It is primarily designed to provide a means for highly-qualified active duty soldiers to receive a commission; however, up to 140 civilian personnel a year may be recruited for the OCS College Option Program. The College Option Program enables civilians with a four-year degree to enlist in the Army for OCS. Selectees must complete Basic Training prior to attending OCS.

The Enlisted In-Service Program allows active Army warrant

Officer Candidate School (OCS)

	 officers and enlisted members who have completed Advanced Individual Training (AIT) to apply. A selection panel at the U. S. Army Human Resources Command reviews applications. Both of the above programs require an individual to meet these minimum requirements:
	 U. S. Citizen 90 semester hours of college (Enlisted In-service Program) or Baccalaureate Degree (College Option Program). At least 18 years old but less than 30 years old. Possess a General Technical (GT) score of 110 or higher. Achieved a minimum score on the ACT or 700 SAT (test date is immaterial). Pass the Army Physical Fitness Test (APFT). Be of good moral character. Have a favorable security records review. Meet medical standards for officer candidates. Meet Army height/weight standards.
Direct Appointment	Direct Appointment is primarily used as a means to access highly-qualified professionals such as those with health care, legal, and chaplain specialties into the Army. An individual must have completed an advanced academic degree in a field needed by the Army. Grade/rank of appointment will depend upon the experience and education of the individual. Varrant Officer Appointments	Warrant officers are appointed through a combination of in- service programs and recruitment of civilians according to the needs of the Army. All technical specialists (non-aviation specialties) are selected from within the Army enlisted ranks. Aviation warrant officers are selected from approximately 60- percent in-service and 40-percent civilian enlistments. The U. S. Army Recruiting Command has total responsibility for warrant officer recruiting with the exception of U. S. Army Reserve Technical Warrant Officer positions. These positions are handled by the Office of the Chief, Army Reserve.
	Warrant officer candidates must attend a six-week Warrant Officer Candidate School (WOCS) at Fort Rucker, Alabama. Upon completion of WOCS, the individual is appointed a warrant officer, grade W-1, then sent to attend a Warrant Officer Basic Course for his/her particular specialty. This course provides functional training and reinforces the leadership training provided in WOCS.
	Warrant Officer Flight Training applicants must be at least high school diploma graduates and preferably have two years of college. They must undergo a complete Class I flight physical and must not be over 76 inches, or less than 63 inches in height (sitting height not to exceed 40 inches). Additionally, they must successfully complete all aptitude tests. Applicants must be evaluated by the Army Recruiting Command review board prior to their 29th birthday. Waivers, while not normally approved, will be considered for exceptional circumstances.
Army Health Professions Scholarship Program	The Army Health Professions Scholarship Program offers financial support to students in the health professions and permits them to be commissioned as an officer in the Army Reserve. While completing school, the recipient receives tuition, books, and a stipend for ten and one-half months each year, plus the pay and allowances of a second lieutenant during an annual 45-day active duty for training period. The School of Medicine's principal emphasis is on training medical officers for the Army, Navy, and Air Force. Students are selected with the understanding that they will be trained for service to the Nation, including assignments abroad or at sea. Dedication to the idea of service to country must be foremost among an applicant's reasons for attending the School.

The School of Medicine is a tuition-free institution. In addition, books and instruments are furnished to students either without charge or on a loan basis. While enrolled in the School of Medicine, students serve on active duty as Reserve commissioned officers with full pay and allowances as a first lieutenant. Both civilian and uniformed services personnel are eligible for admission. The term "uniformed services personnel" means individuals who are currently on active duty for a period of 90 days or more in any of the seven components making up the uniformed services. Applicants must be at least 18 years old at the time of matriculation, but no older than 30 as of June 30th in the year of admission (civilians and enlisted personnel). Applicants older than 30 years of age may apply to the School of Medicine. If they are recommended for a position by the Admissions Committee and approved by the Dean, an age waiver will be requested from the Office of the Secretary of Defense (Health Affairs), prior to extending an offer. The age limits for entrance parallel those governing appointment in the Regular medical corps of the armed forces (section 532, Title 10, United States Code). However, the age of any student who has served on active duty as a commissioned officer in the uniformed services may exceed the age limit by a period equal to the time served on active duty, provided the student is no older than 35 as of June 30th in the year of admission.

Each fall the School of Medicine matriculates a class consisting of 165 students (63-Army, 51-Navy, 51-Air Force). After successfully completing the M.D. program, students are obligated to serve no less than seven years active duty, exclusive of internship, residency, or other service obligations. The graduate programs of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) School of Medicine offer training leading to Doctor of Philosophy degrees in the biomedical sciences. Doctor of Public Health, Master of Public Health, Master of Science in Public Health, and Master of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene are offered in Preventive Medicine and Biometrics. A Master of Medical History is offered to uniformed members. The University offers a number of stipend positions on a competitive basis and tuition remission. Salary ranges from $14,500 to $15,500, and are comparable with the support provided to graduate students at other universities in the geographic area. Additionally, there are a limited number of Dean's Special Fellowships that supplement student stipends. USUHS is a federal institution. Tuition and fees are waived for civilian students. Active duty military personnel accepted to study at USUHS must have the consent and sponsorship of their parent service and incur a Service obligation at the completion of their studies. Civilian students do not incur a service obligation to the U.S. government after the completion of their graduate training program. Applications for admission are due by January 15th and applicants must apply directly to the university. Each applicant must complete a baccalaureate degree program from an accredited institution prior to matriculation at USUHS. There is no application fee.

The mission of the Graduate School of Nursing (GSN), Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, is to

Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) School of Medicine

Graduate School of Nursing prepare advanced practice nurses to deliver primary care, including anesthesia services, to active duty members of the uniformed services, their families, and all other eligible beneficiaries.

Applicants for the GSN must be commissioned officers in one of the uniformed services. A commitment to the Nation must be paramount in the applicant's decision to attend the School. Graduates will be prepared to deliver care in a wide variety of settings and communities, both nationally and internationally. Major emphasis is on the nursing perspective of health promotion and disease prevention within the context of primary care.

The GSN's two programs, Family Nurse Practitioner and Nurse Anesthesia, are targeted for current and future shortages in health care, those of primary care and anesthesia. Graduates receive the Master of Science in Nursing degree and qualify for certification in their specialties. They are prepared to contribute to the uniformed services' peacetime health care delivery systems and to military medicine and Public Health Service characterized by support to combat operations, civil disaster and humanitarian missions.

Assignments

The needs of the Army are the main consideration in selecting soldiers for assignment. Consistent with these needs, an attempt will be made to assign soldiers to their area of preference.

Compassionate Requests

When illness, death, or extreme and unusual circumstances necessitate a soldier's presence with his/her family and no other possibility exists for resolution of family difficulties, the soldier may be authorized worldwide reassignment to the installation nearest his/her family, provided a valid grade/military occupational specialty requirement exists there. Approval authority for reassignment when extreme family problems are a factor rests with the U. S. Army Human Resources Command (HRC). Commanders who have General Court Martial Convening Authority have been delegated the authority to disapprove requests when they clearly do not meet the prerequisites for reassignment.

If the problem involves a family member, the soldier must be related. A family member includes spouse, child, parent, minor brother or sister, person in loco parentis, or the only living blood relative of the soldier. Other persons, including parents-in-law, may also be considered, provided they are documented as authorized family members and there are no other family members of the spouse's family to help solve the problem. Normally, approval is not granted to those requests where the conditions existed at the time of the soldier's latest entry on active duty; if the problem is chronic in nature and cannot be resolved within a reasonable period of time (normally a year); or if the problem can be resolved through the use of leave, correspondence, power of attorney, or through the help of family members or other parties.

Problems concerning compassionate reassignments must normally be resolvable within one year. The following conditions normally warrant consideration:

Recent death of the soldier's spouse or child.

Terminal illness of a family member (life expectancy less than one year).

Prolonged hospitalization of a family member (90 days or more).

	Severe psychotic condition involving temporary hospitalization of a spouse or child.
	Adoption cases in which the home study has been completed and the child is scheduled to be placed in the soldier's home within 90 days. Adoption normally must have been initiated prior to assignment instructions being received.
	Soldier's minor children are being made wards of the court, or placed in an orphanage or foster home as a result of family separation.
	The following conditions do not normally warrant approval:
	Death of a family member other than spouse or child.
	Divorce or separation resulting from family separation because of military service.
	Psychoneurosis of a family member resulting from family separation due to military requirements.
	Pregnancies involving threatened miscarriage, breech birth, cesarean section, or RH incompatibility.
	Minor allergies of family members due to climatic conditions.
	Problems relating to home ownership.
	Financial problems resulting from mismanagement.
	The recent award of custody of a child to the soldier.
	Chronic problems relating to parents or parents-in-law.
Attachment	Soldiers in an emergency leave status can apply for a compassionate reassignment/permissive attachment at the nearest Army installation or activity. Soldiers should present documentation showing the problem exists. If the soldier is attached, he/she will remain attached until the request has been considered (normally 15 days).
Pregnancy Deferment	When a wife is in the eighth month of pregnancy on the date the soldier is scheduled to depart for overseas duty, the installation commander can approve a pregnancy deferment. Pregnant soldiers are ineligible for overseas assignment unless an exception is approved.

Married Army Couples Program	Under the Married Army Couples Program, both soldiers will be considered for a joint assignment at the time either of the two is nominated for reassignment. Soldiers must be enrolled in the program prior to receipt of assignment instructions. Enrollment is a simple process of verifying that two soldiers are married to one another, and then ensuring the information is forwarded to HRC. Enrollment must be accomplished at the soldier's servicing Army personnel office. Once either of the soldiers is nominated for assignment, the other soldier is automatically considered for assignment to the same location. Requests will normally be approved when there is a need for the military skills of both soldiers in one area, career progression of both soldiers is not adversely affected, and the soldiers are eligible for the assignment.
Sole Parents	Sole parents or dual-service couples with children are considered deployable and are expected to be available for duty as assigned. They are expected to plan for the care of their family in the event of their absence. A soldier may be involuntarily separated from the Army if he/she is unable to perform prescribed duties, is repeatedly absent from work, or is not available for worldwide assignment because of parenthood.
Homebase/ Advance Assignment Program	Soldiers being assigned to a 12-month dependent-restricted short-tour area will be notified of their homebase/advance assignment prior to departure from their current duty station. This applies to all soldiers in the rank of specialist/corporal (promotable), or specialists/corporals on a second or subsequent enlistment through the rank of master sergeant; as well as officers up to the rank of lieutenant colonel.
Army Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP)	This program enables the Army to recognize the exceptional family members of soldiers and consider their special needs during assignment selection. The program is mandatory. Enrollment data is revalidated every three years. Soldiers enroll in the program through their local Army medical treatment facility. When a soldier becomes eligible for assignment overseas, all his/her family members will be screened and, if required, enrolled in the EFMP. Once enrolled, the soldier's assignment is coordinated with the gaining command to determine if the required educational and/or medical services are available. Family travel decisions outside the continental United States will not be finalized for soldiers indicating their family members require special needs unless the soldier is enrolled in the EFMP, or the gaining command is notified of these needs.

When the needed services are not available at the gaining command, an alternate assignment will be considered based on existing assignment priorities. However, enrollment in the program does not guarantee a soldier will always receive an assignment compatible with the special needs of his/her family members. In addition, deletions and deferments from assignment instructions will not be granted solely for the purpose of enrolling in the EFMP.

Soldiers may be assured HRC maintains information provided on the EFMP questionnaires in a secure manner. Assignment managers only know that the soldier is in the EFMP and not the specific educational/medical problem.

All soldiers being assigned to an overseas area where family members are authorized to reside may make application for concurrent travel and command sponsorship of their family members. Normally, application should be made immediately after notification of reassignment. Overseas commanders control the entry of family members into their commands. They authorize travel of family members to their commands either on a concurrent or deferred travel basis depending upon the availability of government or economy housing.

If housing will be available within 60 days, concurrent travel is authorized. If housing will be available from 61 to 140 days, deferred travel will be authorized. When suitable housing has been secured either on the local economy or in government quarters, and the overseas commander approves, transportation for the family members in a deferred status is granted. Relocation of families and unaccompanied baggage to a designated place is not authorized at government expense.

Family member travel will be disapproved if housing will not be available within 140 days after the soldier's arrival in the overseas command. In such cases, the family members and household goods are authorized to be moved to a "designated location" in the continental United States. Once housing becomes available, family travel will be authorized to the overseas command.

Soldiers who bring their family members into an overseas command and who receive command sponsorship serve a "With Dependents" tour. Those electing to serve overseas without their family members serve an "All Others" tour which is shorter in length, for example, 24 months rather than 36 months (except Hawaii and Alaska). Those required to serve an unaccompanied tour, serve a "Restricted" tour where tour lengths are normally

Overseas Travel of Family Members

	12 months. Under certain conditions, soldiers are authorized to change their tour status. The overseas commander can approve requests for changes from the "With Dependents" to an "All Others" tour, provided that family members have not traveled in conjunction with the Permanent Change of Station (PCS) orders. A change from an "All Others" tour to a "With Dependents" tour, when family members and household goods have previously been moved to a designated location, can be approved only for extreme hardship reasons as an exception to policy. Generally, soldiers are required to serve an "In Place Consecutive Overseas Tour" to be eligible for a second Government paid move.
Passports	All soldiers and Department of the Army civilians traveling overseas on official business to a country requiring a passport, and all command-sponsored family members, must obtain separate no-fee passports.
	A no-fee passport identifies the bearer as an official traveler, is issued for a specific purpose, and is normally issued for no longer than five years. A no-fee passport may not be used for personal travel from the U. S. to a foreign country. Procuring passports as early as possible is extremely important. To avoid delays, soldiers must follow the procedures outlined by their military personnel office and passport agent. Passport/visa applications must be completed in accordance with Department of Defense Regulation 1000.21, "Passport and Passport Agent Service Regulation", and the Department of State "Passport Agent's Manual." Soldiers whose family members are foreign nationals are personally responsible for obtaining and maintaining family members' passports.
	The Army is not able to assist in procuring foreign passports or U. S. passports for foreign nationals. The Department of State is the approval authority for all passport applications.

Army Family Programs

Army Family Programs are critical to the readiness of our soldiers, particularly during times of deployment. The Army continues to invest in family well-being, which is also a strong recruiting and retention tool. The challenge is to provide flexible programs and services that encourage selfreliance and remain responsive to the changing needs of soldiers and their families in an environment where high operational tempo, frequent deployments, and long separations create increased stress. Army Family Programs enhance mission readiness, and promote soldier and family wellness.

Information, Referral, and Follow-up Program

> Financial Readiness Program

Family Advocacy Program (FAP) This program provides commanders, soldiers and families information regarding community resources. It links soldiers and families with available and appropriate resources at the lowest cost and without duplication of effort.

This program uses a three-pronged approach in providing training and counseling for soldiers and their families. The Financial Readiness Program assists commanders in establishing educational and counseling programs in personal financial affairs. The program teaches soldiers self-sufficiency; reduces indebtedness; and reduces high demands for emergency financial assistance through classes on money management, credit, financial planning, insurance, and consumer issues. Services provided include: Mandatory Financial Readiness Training for first-term soldiers; basic education (prevention), which includes money management classes for soldiers and families on banking, checkbook management, debt liquidation, credit, obligations, budget development, and record keeping. Financial Counseling and Assistance includes: debt management; debt liquidation; financial counseling; budget development; and financial planning for the future. Consumer Complaint Resolution assists soldiers and their families in resolving consumer complaint problems and issues. Consumer and financial education materials are provided to the military community through printed and electronic media. Partnerships with the Better Business Bureau (BBB) and the Consumer Credit Counseling Service (CCCS) are additional resources for soldiers and families.

This program is responsible for the prevention of and response to allegations and incidents of child abuse, neglect, and spousal abuse. Services offered include: community and command education and awareness; prevention efforts to support good parenting and family communication; crisis intervention; emergency shelter; collaboration with commanders; installation and community resources; and counseling. The FAP staff at the medical treatment facility, commanders, Army lawyers, military police, chaplains, other installation staff such as the community health nurse, and civilian agencies such as the local child protective services, civilian law enforcement, and the courts, work together to ensure the delivery of needed services and the safety of military family members.

Employment Readiness	This is a military spouse employment program that affords every spouse the opportunity to develop a career or become employed. Employment Readiness provides information and referral services in the areas of employment, education, training, transition, and volunteer opportunities to give soldiers and their family members the competitive edge necessary to secure employment and minimize the employment problems associated with relocations. It also provides information on job skills training resources, a job bank containing vacancies in the private, Federal and State sector, and individual job/career counseling.
Relocation Assistance Program (RAP)	This program helps soldiers, civilian employees, retirees, and their families deal with the stress of relocation. Services offered include: pre/post-move briefings, orientations and workshops; overseas orientations; cross-cultural training and cultural adaptation for bi-cultural families; guidance and counseling focusing on extensive preparation and planning before the move, during the actual transfer and while settling in; on-line information services on relocation related topics/issues to assist relocatees to make well-informed decisions that lead to a successful move; identification, counseling, and advocacy for families separated from the sponsor due to mission requirements; and the loan of household items for a limited period.
Deployment and Mobilization Assistance	During mobilization, deployments, contingency operations, and in emergencies (mass casualties, evacuations, and natural disasters) family support services are provided to eligible family members at or near their hometown or home installation. Assistance provided includes information and referral, emergency financial assistance, emergency food and shelter and crisis intervention. Army Community Service (ACS) personnel conduct pre-deployment briefings as part of Family Readiness Processing, interview soldiers during Soldier Readiness Processing and conduct training for Rear Detachments, Family Readiness Groups leaders, and Family Assistance Team members. Family Assistance Centers, Family Readiness Groups and Rear Detachments at the installation provide assistance to family members, coordinate with state and local human service agencies, identify families with problems requiring additional support, provide orientations for Reserve component units and their families, and shift to a 24-hour family assistance operation if demand warrants. With the increase in security measures due to the War on Terrorism, installation staff must coordinate with local communities to provide safe, secure locations for Family Assistance Centers should the need arise. ACS Centers have video-teleconferencing equipment and Internet accessible computers making it easier and less costly for family members to communicate with soldiers during deployments.

In operation since 1984, the AFAP is a key resource that provides leaders information on standard-of-living concerns, satisfactions and expectations of Army constituents. The AFAP solicits wellbeing issues from Active and Reserve component soldiers, retirees, family members, and civilian employees via conferences convened annually at installation, Major Command/Region, and Headquarters, Department of the Army levels. The issues are worked toward resolution at each level, or are forwarded to the next level of authority as applicable. This tri-level filter effects a process of continuous community improvement at local levels and provides a broad representative sample of delegates at the Headquarters' conference to determine issues of greatest concern to the Army as a whole. A General Officer Steering Committee (GOSC) chaired by the Vice Chief of Staff, meets semi-annually to review the progress of active AFAP issues. The GOSC is the final deciding authority for issues to be closed as resolved or unattainable.

AFTB is a comprehensive educational program whose primary objective is to improve the overall readiness of the force by teaching and promoting personal and family readiness through standardized, progressive and sequential education of family members. This program may also be used flexibly to meet the needs of the individual audience.

The goal of AFTB is to help families transition into the unique Army lifestyle when they are new to the Army, develop a better understanding of the military environment and way of life, develop realistic expectations of the Army as an institution, access and use available community resources, develop leadership and life-coping skills, prepare for participation and assumption of leadership roles in their soldiers' unit and their community, and become self-reliant and self-sufficient families.

Army Family Action Plan (AFAP)

Army Family Team Building (AFTB) The AFTB program is available for implementation at Army installations and Army communities worldwide. AFTB, as a volunteer program, was designed and written by and for volunteer family members, and is managed by volunteers to the greatest extent possible. The program uses volunteers in a proven train-the-trainer approach to deliver training at the local level. The Community and Family Support Center provides extensive Program Manager and Instructor training to Master Trainers. They, in turn, are responsible for conducting training for local volunteer instructors, who will, in turn, train the family members.

CYS Programs consist of Army Child Development Services (CDS), School Age Services (SAS), Youth Services (YS) and Child and Youth Liaison, Education, and Outreach Services (CYLEOS). This seamless delivery of predictable and consistent services to children and youth (ages 4 weeks to 18 years) is a direct, mission-related necessity to an Army that is 55 percent married and has an additional 7.7 percent composed of single parent families. The challenge is to facilitate family self-reliance and reinforce Army values by providing quality programs that are available and affordable to Army families. Fees charged are governed by annual DOD directive and are based on family income.

CYS provides a variety of age-appropriate programs. It serves infants and young children in the CDS program, school-age children in the SAS program, youth and teens in the YS program, and the entire age spectrum through CYLEOS. CYS offers a safe and constructive environment that contributes to the well-being of the Army family.

Child and Youth Services (CYS) Programs

Inspector General Action Process

Active and retired Department of the Army military and civilian personnel and their family members have the right to register complaints or seek the assistance of an Inspector General (IG) in person or in writing. Army regulations strictly prohibit any type of disciplinary or other adverse action against an individual for registering a complaint or cooperating with an Inspector General.

> In accordance with Army Regulation 20-1, the IG action process is used to address all matters of concern presented or referred for IG action. Anyone may submit a complaint, allegation or request for assistance directly to any Army IG concerning matters of Army interest. Matters of concern presented or referred to IGs are carefully analyzed to determine if they are appropriate for IG involvement. By policy, IGs do not circumvent the chain of command or intervene in grievances if applicable redress procedures are established and available.

> Individuals frequently seek relief from adverse legal and administrative action for which a specific means of redress or remedy is provided by law or regulation. In such cases, Army IGs will not intervene until the individual has first attempted to resolve the matter by means provided by law or regulation. Additionally, IGs do not normally conduct duplicate or redundant investigations, or intervene in matters where appropriate resolution action is ongoing but incomplete. If after using the appropriate redress procedures, the individual still desires IG assistance, and if the redress process available to him/her has been exhausted, then IG involvement will be directed toward examining the procedures and actions accomplished to ensure that the individual was afforded due process and that his/her rights were protected as intended by law and regulation.

Matters for which specific redress, remedy, or appeal procedures exist include, but are not limited to, the following:

Court-Martial Actions Nonjudicial Punishment Officer Evaluation Reports Noncommissioned Officer Evaluation Reports Enlisted Reductions Reports of Survey Complaints that a Soldier has been wronged by Commanding Officer Types of Discharge Received Pending or Requested Discharge Relief for Cause Adverse Information filed in Personnel Records Claims

For Department of the Army-level IG assistance, individuals may call: (800) 752-9747.

Medical and Health Care

All active duty soldiers, their family members and survivors receive health care benefits. There are limits and rules they must follow to obtain care. The Health Benefits Advisor (HBA) and/or Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinator (BCAC) at each uniformed service hospital or clinic, and local TRICARE Service Center staff provide information on health care procedures and requirements. Debt Collection Assistance Officers (DCAOs) located in military medical treatment facilities (MTFs) provide assistance regarding claims issues.

Eligibility Active duty soldiers, their family members, military retirees and their family members, surviving family members of deceased active or retired soldiers, and some former spouses of active or retired soldiers who meet certain length-of-marriage rules and other requirements, are eligible for health care. Family members must be enrolled in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System's (DEERS) computerized database as being eligible for military health care benefits. Family members must document their child's birth and marital status in DEERS in order to receive care in service hospitals. Sponsors are responsible to ensure their family members are enrolled in DEERS through the nearest military personnel office. For information about DEERS enrollment, contact the DEERS Telephone Center from 5:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Pacific time, Monday through Friday, at the following numbers:

TRICARE Prime is an HMO type program under which enrollees are assigned to a primary care manager (PCM). All active duty soldiers are enrolled in TRICARE Prime and continue to receive most of their care from military medical personnel. Family members of active duty soldiers must complete an enrollment form, but they do not pay a premium or co-payments. The Pointof-Service option, which includes higher co-payments, allows Prime enrollees the freedom to receive non-emergency services without a referral from their PCM, but at a significantly increased cost.

TPR provides health care through civilian providers for those active duty soldiers on remote assignment, and includes those who both live and work more than 50 miles from the nearest MTF. TPR provides no cost healthcare for active duty soldiers. The Military Medical Support Office (MMSO) provides support services for remotely located active duty soldiers. The toll free number for MMSO is (800) 876-1131.

TPR for Active Duty Family Members (ADFMs)	The fiscal year 2001 (FY01) National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) legislated TPR for ADFMs who reside with their military sponsors in TPR zip code areas. The FY01 NDAA also authorized a waiver of cost shares, deductibles and co-payments up to the start-up of TPR for ADFMs who reside with their TPR eligible active duty sponsors.
TRICARE Extra	Extra is the TRICARE PPO that permits selection of doctors, hospitals and other providers listed in the TRICARE provider directory. Any TRICARE eligible person, except those enrolled in TRICARE Prime, may use TRICARE Extra and receive a five percent discount on TRICARE Standard cost shares. TRICARE Extra users have no deductibles and generally do not have to file claims.
TRICARE Standard	TRICARE Standard was previously called CHAMPUS. Under this plan, beneficiaries can see the authorized provider of their choice. TRICARE Standard shares most of the costs of care from civilian hospitals and healthcare providers. It recognizes different categories of eligible persons for whom available benefits and costs vary. TRICARE Standard pays part of the medical costs and there are special rules or limits on certain care; however, some care is not covered. HBAs and/or BCACs at each MTF or clinic and local TRICARE Service Centers can provide information on health benefits, procedures and requirements for all military family members. Some people are not eligible for TRICARE Standard, such as active duty soldiers and parents/ parents-in-law.
TRICARE for Life (TFL)	TFL, legislated by the FY01 NDAA, provides senior pharmacy and comprehensive health care coverage for beneficiaries age 65 and over who are eligible for Medicare Part A and enrolled in Medicare Part B. Under TFL, TRICARE is second payer to Medicare. There are no deductibles/premiums, except beneficiaries must pay the monthly Medicare Part B premium to remain eligible for the program. Claims are filed automatically to Medicare first and then forwarded to TRICARE second.
TRICARE Plus (TPlus)	TPlus, a primary care enrollment program initiated on October 1, 2001, is offered at selected MTFs up to their predetermined capacity limits. All military beneficiaries eligible for care in MTFs can seek enrollment in TPlus where available, excluding TRICARE Prime enrollees and others enrolled in civilian or Medicare HMOs. Enrollees use their MTF PCMs as the principal source of care. Specialty care/services may be referred to local providers depending on availability, and enrollees can obtain care from civilian sector/Medicare providers. TRICARE and Medicare payment rules apply for services obtained locally. For TFL eligibles, Medicare pays first and TRICARE pays second.

TRICARE Overseas	TRICARE Overseas covers beneficiaries outside the continental United States (OCONUS). It blends many features of the CONUS TRICARE program, while allowing for differences unique to foreign countries. The three overseas regions include TRICARE Europe, TRICARE Pacific/Latin America and Canada. The overseas program is a dual option benefit consisting of TRICARE Overseas Prime and TRICARE Overseas Standard. Retirees are not currently eligible for enrollment in TRICARE Prime in Europe. Overseas TRICARE Standard is identical to the CONUS TRICARE Standard option. Retirees over 65 years of age eligible for Medicare and enrolled in Medicare Part B are covered under the TRICARE Standard overseas program.
Coverage	Active duty soldiers can obtain health care at any uniformed service hospital or clinic. They are now required to enroll in TRICARE Prime and be assigned to a PCM who will manage their primary and specialty health care needs. In non- emergencies, PCM or commander approval is required before obtaining health care services. Active duty soldiers must contact their PCM, commander, or MMSO (under TPR) as soon as possible after emergency services are obtained. Military hospitals provide inpatient/outpatient care for most medical conditions. There is no charge for outpatient care. A daily fee is charged, except for active duty family members and retired enlisted personnel, for inpatient care. Each TRICARE region's contractor operates a toll-free telephone line to ensure health care/benefit information is available to all military beneficiaries located within the Region.
Deductibles/ Premiums	Active duty soldiers do not pay TRICARE Standard deductibles, cost shares or co-payments. Active duty soldiers and their families do not pay premiums or co-payments when enrolled in TRICARE Prime. Retirees and family members pay annual premiums of $230 for individuals or $460 for families and make co-payments for civilian health care. TRICARE Standard deductibles and cost shares apply to the TRICARE Standard and Extra programs. They are in place for active duty family members and retirees/family members and are based on the pay grade of the sponsor. Annual deductibles for family members of active duty E-4s and below are $50 for an individual and $100 for the entire family. The annual deductibles for others are $150 for an individual and $300 for a family. TRICARE Service Center staff, HBAs and/or BCACs are available at MTFs to provide all beneficiary information on TRICARE benefits and services. It is important for TRICARE Prime enrollees to adhere to program requirements in order to avoid increased program charges.

Third Party Collection Program	Title 10, U. S. Code, Chapter 55, Section 1095 allows MTFs to collect for inpatient/outpatient services provided to medically insured family members and retirees. The money collected through this program is retained by the MTF to be used to enhance Third Party Collection Program operations, and to enhance and expand medical services.
Access to Records	Army medical records are the property of the U. S. government. Health and civilian employee records are retired at the time of separation. Outpatient treatment records are retired three years following the last treatment. Upon request to the facility maintaining the record, a patient may be provided a copy of his/ her record. If a physician or dentist determines that releasing the record could adversely affect a patient's physical or mental health, a copy may be released to another physician or dentist named by the patient.
Illnesses Among Veterans of the Gulf War (Operations Desert Shield/ Desert Storm)	Concerns about illnesses among veterans of the Gulf War arose initially through reports of unusual or unexplained symptoms in individuals and units that served in the war. The Department of Defense (DOD) and the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) established programs through which Gulf War veterans who were ill, or who were concerned about their health could receive detailed medical evaluations and treatment if necessary. Each program provided more extensive examinations at regional medical centers if the initial evaluations were inconclusive. The DOD program, called the Comprehensive Clinical Evaluation Program (CCEP), began in June 1994 and was modeled on the VA registry program. Reviews of the VA and DOD registry programs by the National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine in 1998 and 2000 recommended that post-deployment health care be refocused to the primary care level. In response to these reviews, the DOD and the VA developed the clinical practice guidelines (CPG) with the help of experienced multi-disciplinary groups and independent organizations (including the RAND Corporation and the Institute of Medicine). All Gulf War veterans are eligible to receive these evaluations and are encouraged to do so if they are ill, or if they have concerns about potential exposures. Active duty soldiers and their family members who wish to undergo an examination using the CPG can enroll by calling (800) 796-9699. Veterans can sign up for the VA evaluation at (800) 749-8387.

In addition to the above programs for medical examinations and care, the two departments have underwritten extensive research efforts to look for possible causes of illness among Gulf War veterans. Some of these studies have been completed and the results have been published in peer-reviewed medical journals. Large-scale studies have compared Gulf War veterans to other soldiers who did not deploy to the Gulf War theater. These studies have shown that Gulf War veterans report more symptoms than the comparison group; however, Gulf War veterans remaining on active duty have not been hospitalized more frequently since the war. In the first few years following the Gulf War, veterans experienced higher rates of death due to motor vehicle accidents; that trend is no longer observed. Gulf War veterans have lower rates of death from natural causes when compared with non-Gulf War veterans. Both deployed and non-deployed soldiers had about half the death rate of the general population. The offspring of Gulf War veterans born in military hospitals have the same rates of birth defects as do the children of those who did not deploy. Information on these and other federally funded research studies about Gulf War veterans' health is available on Medsearch, a tri-agency (Centers for Disease Control, DOD, and VA) library of Gulf War-related research projects. It is available at: http://www.gulflink.osd.mil/medsearch.

Much of the research supports investigations of possible causes of unexplained illness among Gulf War veterans. Unexplained illnesses are varying combinations of symptoms for which the extensive evaluations described above fail to achieve diagnoses to explain the symptoms. The research portfolio is funded by the DOD, VA and the Department of Health and Human Services, and most are conducted at academic medical centers around the country. Although a variety of possible causes are being investigated, many studies are still under way, and to date, establish no definite link to factors in the Gulf War. At this time, theories that unexplained illnesses have been caused by such things as chemical warfare agents, depleted uranium, vaccines, pyridostigmine bromide, pesticides, insect repellents, smoke from oil well fires, sand, and infections have not been verified. The DOD established the Office of the Special Assistant for Gulf War Illnesses (OSAGWI) in November 1996. In August 2000, it was renamed the Office of the Special Assistant for Gulf War Illnesses, Medical Readiness, and Military Support. The mission was expanded to include all deployments. In May 2002, the office was formally designated the Deployment Health Support

Directorate (DHSD). This Directorate supports the Special Assistant and continues the mission of assisting Gulf War veterans, facilitates force health protection initiatives, and coordinates health-related deployment issues between the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Health Affairs) and the Services. The Directorate is committed to developing and disseminating information in a relevant and timely manner to incorporate lessons from previous deployments. Individuals with information about the possible exposure of soldiers to chemical agents or other deployment health concerns may call the DHSD at (800) 497-6261. More information is also available on-line at http://deploymentlink.osd.mil/ and http://www.gulflink.osd.mil

Emergency Situations

The primary next of kin and secondary next of kin, as designated on the soldier's Record of Emergency Data Card (DD Form 93), are notified as soon as possible when an emergency situation occurs such as:

Death Missing Very Seriously III/Injured (VSI) Seriously III/Injured (SI) Special Category - when the soldier has sustained injury such as loss of sight, limb, extensive disfigurement or psychotic condition

Hospitalized Soldiers	If a soldier is hospitalized in the continental United States (CONUS) and the primary next of kin resides in CONUS, or both are in an overseas area, the hospital commander notifies the primary next of kin or designated person. If the soldier is hospitalized in an overseas area and the primary next of kin resides in CONUS, the Casualty Operations Center, U. S. Army Human Resources Command (HRC), will make notification by telephone or mailgram.
Next of Kin Travel Authorization	An Invitational Travel Order (ITO) may be extended to the primary next of kin and one other family member when the attending physician and the commander of a medical treatment facility consider their presence necessary for the recovery of a VSI or SI soldier. The Casualty Operations Center, HRC, approves and processes overseas ITOs. The CONUS Casualty Area Commands approve and process CONUS ITOs.
Death/Missing	When death occurs or when a soldier is listed as missing, a Casualty Assistance Officer is appointed to help the primary next of kin by providing guidance and assistance with such matters as memorial services/burial arrangements, claims for dependent benefits, and any special financial or legal problems.
Emergency Leave	Soldiers may be authorized emergency leave up to 30 days for emergency situations within the immediate family. For a person in loco parentis, the soldier must sign a statement verifying loco parentis. The immediate family includes the following family members of either the soldier or the soldier's spouse: parents, including stepparents; spouse; children, including stepchildren; sisters, including stepsisters; brothers, including stepbrothers; or an only living blood relative. A person in loco parentis is one who stood in place of a parent to the soldier or the soldier's spouse for 24 hours a day, for a five-year period before the soldier or the soldier's spouse became 21 years of age. The person must have provided a home, food, clothing, medical care, and other necessities, as well as furnished moral and disciplinary guidance and affection. A grandparent or other person normally is not considered to have stood in place when the parent also lived at the same residence. A person is not considered in loco parentis for performing baby-sitting or providing day care services.

A soldier granted emergency leave while stationed outside CONUS is authorized "space required" travel on military-owned or chartered aircraft at Government expense between the overseas military departure terminal and the air terminal of entry into the United States, and return to the overseas command. The soldier's spouse traveling for such an emergency is authorized to travel on a "space required" basis also. Roundtrip commercial transportation is granted when the installation transportation officer determines that "space required" Government-procured transportation is not reasonably available. All expenses incident to travel from the air terminal of entry into the United States to the leave destination must be borne by the soldier. Members performing temporary duty in or outside the United States may be authorized emergency leave travel for situations involving the immediate family. Travel is from the location of the soldier at the time of notification to his/her duty station.

A soldier granted emergency leave while stationed in CONUS defrays expenses incident to the travel. In this connection, soldiers are authorized travel by military aircraft on a "space available" basis; but this method of travel is generally unpredictable and often involves long waiting periods at military air terminals with no assurance of eventual flights. For the soldier who has an emergency outside CONUS, "space required" government-procured transportation is provided, if available. If the soldier's domicile is outside CONUS, round-trip commercial transportation is provided when "space required" governmentprocured transportation is not reasonably available.

Spouses and other family members are not authorized "space available" travel in CONUS. However, they are authorized "space available" transportation to an area outside CONUS. Spouses and other family members are authorized "space required" government-procured transportation, or funded commercial transportation if "space required" transportation is not reasonably available.

Soldiers Stationed Overseas

Soldiers Stationed in the United States

Red Cross Assistance	When a death or serious illness occurs, a member of the soldier's family should contact the local Red Cross or the nearest Army recruiting station immediately. The Red Cross will assist in confirming the requirement for emergency leave. However, Red Cross verification of an emergency condition is not a mandatory requirement for the commander to grant emergency leave. Upon notification of an emergency condition, the commander will acknowledge the soldier's intentions, including estimated departure and arrival times, if appropriate.
Leave Extensions	When a soldier requires additional leave, an extension of his/her original leave must be approved by the soldier's commanding officer. If the soldier is due to return overseas upon completion of leave, and if sufficient time is available, the Red Cross or the nearest Army recruiting station will assist in contacting the overseas commander. If time is of the essence, the soldier should be directed to contact the Army Travelers' Assistance Center at (800) 582-5552.
Army Travelers' Assistance Center (ATAC)	The ATAC exists to help soldiers and family members traveling to and from overseas. The ATAC can assist in extending leaves, changing travel arrangements, and work with soldiers to help resolve personal emergencies that may prevent the soldier or family from complying with their travel orders. The ATAC can be contacted 24 hours a day by calling (800) 582-5552. Callers should be advised to listen carefully to the recording prior to selecting one of the options. The ATAC is staffed between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday - Friday. After normal duty hours, calls are tracked by an automated system. If a caller telephones after normal duty hours and has an emergency that requires the immediate attention of the duty officer, the call will be returned within 30 minutes regardless of the time of day or night. Callers having an emergency requiring immediate attention should be advised to listen carefully and follow the recorded instructions.
Threat to Life	The Army authorizes an immediate change of duty station for a soldier when a confirmed threat to life exists for him/her, or an immediate family member. Appropriate precautionary measures, as determined by the commander, will be provided to the soldier pending the outcome of an investigation. If it is determined that a valid threat exists, the soldier will be transferred expeditiously to another locale.

Military Justice

A military criminal case begins when a soldier is suspected or accused of violating a punitive article of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). If an investigation determines there is sufficient evidence to support the allegations, the commander may decide to take no action, take or initiate administrative action subject to regulations of the Secretary concerned, offer the soldier nonjudicial punishment, or, if the case warrants, prefer court-martial charges.

Nonjudicial Punishment Article 15 of the UCMJ authorizes a commander to impose nonjudicial punishment upon a soldier who has committed a minor offense. Nonjudicial punishment under Article 15 is intended to be primarily corrective in nature, i.e., restriction to specified limits, reduction in grade, limited forfeiture of pay, performance of extra duties, and oral/written admonition or oral/ written reprimand.

If a commander offers nonjudicial punishment (an Article 15) to a soldier, the soldier may agree to proceedings pursuant to the Article 15 or demand trial by court-martial. Acceptance of the Article 15 proceedings does not indicate guilt or innocence. The recipient of a formal Article 15 must be afforded an opportunity to consult with legal counsel. If the soldier accepts nonjudicial punishment proceedings, the commander determines whether the soldier committed the offense and if necessary, determines the appropriate punishment. The soldier may appeal these determinations to the next higher commander. An Article 15 is not a court-martial conviction. However, depending upon the rank of the soldier, the record of punishment may be placed in the soldier's Official Military Personnel File where it could be used to judge the character of service for purposes of promotion, reenlistment, and any subsequent administrative proceeding or court-martial. In lieu of formal proceedings, a commander may elect to use summarized proceedings under Article 15. The maximum punishment at such proceedings is extra duties for 14 days, restriction for 14 days, an oral reprimand, or any combination thereof. Because of the nature of limited punishment, a soldier has no right to counsel when offered a Summarized Article 15. The records of summarized proceedings under Article 15 are maintained locally and destroyed after two years, or upon a soldier's transfer from the unit to another General Court-Martial Convening Authority.

Courts- Martial	If the commander concludes that trial by court-martial is appropriate, formal charges, supporting documents, and the commander's recommendations are forwarded through the chain of command to the officer authorized to convene a court-martial appropriate for the offense charged. This officer is called the convening authority. Each commander reviews the charges and supporting documents and makes an independent recommendation as to the appropriate disposition of the case. Officers in command perform a quasi-judicial function in administering military justice. The discretionary decision whether to prosecute is vested in the appropriate commander, who receives legal advice prior to exercising that discretion. Superior authority may not interfere with the commander's exercise of his/her discretion. The three levels of courts-martial are: summary court-martial, special court-martial, and general court-martial.
Summary Court-Martial	This is the lowest level of court-martial and is composed of one commissioned officer, who need not be an attorney. The convening authority for a summary court-martial is normally a battalion commander (lieutenant colonel). Only soldiers who consent to trial at this level may be tried by summary court- martial. The soldier may be represented by civilian counsel at his/her own expense, but has no right to representation by a military attorney at the court-martial. Prior to trial, each soldier is afforded the opportunity to consult with military counsel from the U. S. Army Trial Defense Service (USATDS). Unless directed by the convening authority, a verbatim record of the proceeding is not prepared. Authorized punishments for soldiers in the grades of E-1 through E-4 may include confinement for 30 days, forfeiture of two-thirds pay per month for one month, and reduction to the lowest pay grade. For soldiers above E-4, summary courts-martial may not adjudge confinement or reduction except to the next pay grade. Officers may not be tried by summary courts-martial.
Special Court-Martial	The intermediate level of trial, a special court-martial, is composed of a military judge who is an attorney and no fewer than three members, including at least one-third enlisted soldiers, if an enlisted accused so requests. The members are the equivalent of a soldier "jury". The soldier may also request trial by military judge alone. There are two types of special courts- martial: special court-martial, and special court-martial empowered to adjudge a bad conduct discharge. The convening authority for a special court-martial is normally a brigade commander (colonel). The convening authority for a special court-martial empowered to adjudge a bad conduct discharge is normally a general officer commanding a division or post.

Any soldier, regardless of rank, may be tried by special courtmartial. Soldiers are entitled to representation by military counsel from USATDS, at no expense to the soldier, and to civilian counsel at his/her own expense. A verbatim record of the proceedings is not prepared except when directed by the convening authority, or in those cases where the court has imposed a punitive discharge.

Authorized punishments include confinement for one year, reduction to the lowest pay grade, forfeiture of two-thirds pay per month for one year, and, a bad conduct discharge. However, a special court-martial cannot sentence a commissioned or warrant officer or cadet to be confined, reduced in rank, or to be dismissed from the Service.

The highest level of court-martial, a general court-martial, is composed of a military judge and not less than five members, including at least one-third enlisted members if the enlisted accused so requests. As in the case of a special court-martial, the soldier may request trial by military judge alone. The convening authority for a general court-martial is normally a general officer commanding a division or post. A soldier tried by general courtmartial is entitled to representation by military counsel from USATDS at no expense to the soldier, and by civilian counsel at no expense to the Government. Prior to the convening authority deciding whether to refer a case to general court-martial, an investigation under Article 32, UCMJ, is conducted unless waived by the accused. A verbatim record of trial is prepared if the court adjudges a punitive discharge in excess of six months confinement, forfeiture of pay greater than two-thirds pay per month, and forfeiture of pay for more than six months or any other punishment that exceeds the maximum that can be imposed by a special court-martial. Authorized punishments for general court-martial exceed those for any lesser court-martial and may include, in appropriate cases: death; confinement for periods up to life; a dishonorable discharge (enlisted), or dismissal (officer); and forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and in some cases a fine.

A commander may order a soldier into pretrial confinement if he/ she has reasonable grounds to believe that an offense triable by court-martial has been committed; that the soldier concerned committed it; and confinement is necessary either to ensure the soldier's presence at trial, or because it is foreseeable that the soldier will engage in additional serious criminal misconduct. The commander must also have reason to believe that less severe forms of restraint are inadequate. Not later than 48 hours after the soldier has entered into pretrial confinement, the soldier's case must be reviewed by a neutral and detached officer and a decision made whether pretrial confinement should continue. If pretrial confinement is to continue, the commander must prepare a written memorandum detailing the reasons for continuing confinement. A legally qualified military defense counsel will consult with the soldier concerning the pretrial confinement. A Judge Advocate, appointed as a military magistrate, will review the legality of pretrial confinement. This review must be accomplished within seven days from the time the soldier enters pretrial confinement, and continues periodically until the soldier is released or tried. The magistrate is empowered to direct the release of soldiers from pretrial confinement.

General Court-Martial

Action by the Convening Authority	In addition to convening the court-martial, the convening authority is responsible for reviewing the findings and sentence in each case. The convening authority may never increase the severity of the sentence, but may approve, set aside, modify, or reduce any part of the findings and sentence. In the case of a general court-martial or special court-martial, which includes a bad conduct discharge sentence, the convening authority may not act until advice is received from the senior legal adviser and the counsel representing the soldier has had an opportunity to comment.
Appellate Review	After the convening authority has taken action, each case is reviewed to ensure that the findings and sentence are legally proper and correct. Only an appellate authority listed below has the lawful power to overturn a court-martial conviction. The soldier's appellate defense counsel is the proper person to bring any legal issues to the attention of the appellate courts. If a court-martial sentence does not include a discharge or at least one-year confinement, initial review will be by a Judge Advocate. Thereafter, even if there is no appeal, the soldier may petition The Judge Advocate General for relief under the provisions of Article 69, UCMJ. The Judge Advocate General may vacate or modify in part, the findings or sentence, or both, of a court-martial. If the convening authority approves a sentence including a punitive discharge or confinement for one year or more, and the soldier has not waived or withdrawn appellate review, the U. S. Army Court of Criminal Appeals (USACCA) will automatically consider the case. The USACCA is composed of experienced senior military judges. If the Court of Criminal Appeals affirms any portion of the sentence or on good cause shown, a soldier may petition the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces. This court is composed of five civilian judges. If the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces considers a case but denies relief, the soldier may petition the U. S. Supreme Court. Review by either the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces or the United States Supreme Court is discretionary. General court-martial convictions resulting in sentences that do not include a discharge or confinement for more than one year, must be examined for error by the Office of The Judge Advocate General, unless the accused waives this review.

In addition to the appellate review described above, the soldier may seek other extra-judicial relief. Within two years of the approved court-martial sentence, the soldier may petition The Judge Advocate General for a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence or fraud on the court. Further, at any time after action by the convening authority, the soldier may petition the Secretary of the Army for clemency on the unexecuted portion of the sentence under Article 74, UCMJ. Attorneys from the USATDS are available on a case-by-case basis to assist the soldier with these actions.

The ACPB automatically reviews the cases of all soldiers whose court-martial sentence includes confinement of at least 12 months. The ACPB considers eligible individuals for clemency no later than a date set by regulation depending upon the length of the approved sentence and at least annually thereafter. The review is conducted to determine whether parole or sentence reduction and other forms of clemency are appropriate.

Other Review and Clemency Actions

Army Clemency and Parole Board (ACPB)

Identification and Privilege Card

The Department of Defense (DOD) issues the Uniformed Services Identification and Privilege (ID) Card to identify individuals eligible for benefits and privileges administered by the military, i.e., medical care, commissary, exchange, and theaters. It is the responsibility of the soldier to apply for family member ID cards. Application form,
DD Form 1172, and additional information concerning specific procedures are available at all military installation personnel offices. The application form, when executed, serves to enroll or update eligible beneficiaries in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS). This allows soldiers and their families to receive proper medical care at all DOD medical facilities. In situations where eligibility is being initially established or the individual is not enrolled in DEERS, documentation (originals or certified true copies) will be required, i.e., marriage certificates, retirement orders, birth certificates, etc. This requirement is not waivable.

Financial Entitlements

There are various types of pay allowances that a soldier may receive. The most frequently used types of pay are listed below.

Basic Pay	An amount paid to soldiers according to rank and years of service.
Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH)	A monthly payment replacing separate payments of Variable Housing Allowance (VHA) and Basic Allowance for Quarters (BAQ), that is based on private sector surveys of market rental prices for each pay grade, dependency status, and location.
Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS)	An amount paid to all soldiers for subsistence.
Family Separation Allowance	An amount payable when, due to military orders, a soldier is separated from his/her family for at least 30 days.
Family Separation, Housing	A monthly amount payable to soldiers who maintain two households due to enforced separation or nonavailability of overseas housing.
Special Pay	Amounts payable for active duty performed while serving in special assignments or career fields, i.e., diving duty, sea duty, overseas extension, aviator retention, hardship duty, medical, dental, foreign language proficiency, drill sergeant, and recruiting. Enlistment, reenlistment, and critical skills bonuses are also considered special pay.
Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay	Amounts payable to soldiers who perform duties which present certain hazards, i.e., parachute, flight, toxic chemical, and demolition duty.
Station Allowances	Amounts paid to soldiers stationed outside the continental United States including: Temporary Lodging Allowance; Overseas Housing Allowance; Cost of Living Allowance; and Interim Housing Allowance. Amounts paid to soldiers stationed in the continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii are known as Basic Allowance for Housing and Temporary Lodging Expense, used to help defray soldiers' housing costs.

Clothing/ Uniform Allowance	An annual replacement allowance paid to enlisted soldiers for the purchase/maintenance of uniforms. A civilian clothing allowance may be paid under some circumstances when soldiers are required to wear civilian attire.
Advance Pay	An amount paid to soldiers to meet extraordinary expenses incidental to a permanent change of station and repayable over a specified period of time.
Casual Pay	An amount paid to soldiers away from their home stations, usually while on ordinary or emergency leave or temporary duty, where their regular pay is not available. Subject to repayment.
Local Pay	An amount paid to soldiers at their home station when a soldier's commander authenticates the existence of an emergency circumstance.
Involuntary Separation Pay	The Fiscal Year 1991 Defense Authorization Act provided a nondisability separation pay for both officers and enlisted soldiers involuntarily separated from active duty. Active duty and full-time Guard and Reserve soldiers with at least six years of honorable service, and fully meet retention standards, are entitled to full separation pay.
	Soldiers who do not meet retention standards apart from their involuntary separation and whose service is other than adverse may be eligible for half separation pay.
	Payments for Reserve Components (Army National Guard and U. S. Army Reserve)
	Members of the Reserve Components are paid through the Defense Joint Military Pay System - Reserve Components, via Electronic Fund Transfer. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service, Indianapolis is responsible for paying soldiers in the Army National Guard and the U. S. Army Reserve. There is an average of eight paying updates during a monthly cycle. The monthly cycle begins on or around the fourth Friday of each month depending on weekends and holidays, and ends the following month on or around the fourth Thursday. Again, the ending date depends on holiday schedules. Almost all members of the Reserve Components are required to receive their pay through Electronic Fund Transfer to their bank. There is approximately a one-week time frame for the Defense Joint Military Pay System - Reserve Components to process and pay entitlements for inactive duty for training drills and for active duty periods of less than 30 days. This time frame depends on the unit's timely submission of entitlements. Members who perform periods of active duty for 30 days or more are paid on the 15th and 30th of each month.

Initial Active Duty Training	Members of the Reserve Components perform Basic and Advanced Individual Training at an active Army training post. They may elect to receive their pay either twice a month or once a month.
Inactive Duty for Training	Members of troop program units may perform multiple unit training assemblies commonly called "weekend drills". They earn one day's pay for each four hours of training.
Annual Training	Annual Training can be performed by Reserve Component members of troop program units or the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR). Periods of training can be as little as one day at a time (alias fragmented annual training), or as long as 17 days. Members of the IRR average 12 days for a period of annual training.
Active Duty for Training	Members of troop program units and some members of the IRR may perform Active Duty for Training for periods ranging from one day to two years.
Active Duty Special Works	Members of the IRR may perform Active Duty for Special Work to support various specified reserve projects and programs for a period ranging from one day to two years.
Active Guard Reserve	The Active Guard Reserve is either a National Guard or U. S. Army Reserve member serving on active duty in the Full Time Support Program. They are paid through the Defense Joint Military Pay System - Active Component.
Indebtedness	A soldier's pay may be garnished when debts are not satisfied from a civilian source. Debts received from a nonappropriated activity will be collected from the soldier's account when the debt document is received. The Finance Office can collect up to two-thirds of a soldier's pay to satisfy a debt, based on the soldier's status. The soldier will be notified of this debt "Due Process" before the collection document is sent to the Finance Office for processing. Appropriated fund debts and debts for pay and allowance overpayments are collected based on fund availability. The soldier should be provided a 30-day suspense for "Due Process" when these debts are identified.

Remission or Cancellation of Indebtedness	Active Army enlisted soldiers may apply for remission or cancellation of indebtedness to the government (Army) based on injustice and/or hardship. The debt must be one that may be considered under Army Regulation 600-15 (Indebtedness of Military Personnel). Also, National Guard and Reserve soldiers on inactive duty training or active duty for training may apply for remission or cancellation of indebtedness based on hardship as a result of a Report of Survey.
	Soldiers must complete DA Form 3508-R (Application for Remission or Cancellation of Indebtedness) and provide supporting documentation. Any debt or part of a debt that has been collected prior to the commander's signature on the application will not be considered for remission or cancellation. Also, final action has to be made before or at the time of the soldier's honorable discharge, otherwise, it cannot be considered.
Involuntary Allotments for Judgment of Indebtedness	The Hatch Act Reform Amendments of 1993 (Public Law 103-94) authorizes involuntary allotments from a soldier's military pay to satisfy a judgment of indebtedness. This law does not apply to child or spousal support. The Act is codified at Title 5, U. S. Code, Section 5520a, "Garnishment of Pay", and has been implemented by Department of Defense Directive 1344.9, "Indebtedness of Military Personnel", and 32 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 43a. A certified copy of a final court order stating the amount owed and a completed DD Form 2653 must be served on:

Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP) Military retired pay stops at the death of the retiree. However, survivors can receive an annuity by enrollment in the SBP. The SBP provides, for a reasonable cost, a measure of financial protection for the survivors of retirees who elect SBP. Election into the plan is made prior to the date of retirement. A soldier may elect coverage for a spouse, former spouse, children, or a combination of spouse, former spouse, and children. Soldiers who elect less than full coverage for a spouse must have spousal concurrence.

SBP is a two-tiered system, paying two levels of benefits depending on the surviving spouse's age. Most survivors are over the age of 62 and are entitled to Social Security survivor income. But some surviving spouses are younger, therefore, they are ineligible for any other survivor income. The SBP pays an early benefit of 55 percent of the covered deceased soldier's retired pay and will pay that amount until the surviving spouse reaches age 62. At that time, the SBP annuity payment is reduced to 35 percent. The survivor will then become eligible to receive a Social Security survivor's annuity benefit. In almost all cases, the combined annuities will exceed the 55 percent amount received prior to age 62. The annuity payable to children only, is also 55 percent of the elected base amount. In the event of death while on active duty, soldiers who have 20 or more years of active service have automatic coverage. While SBP elections are generally permanent and irrevocable, Public Law 105-85, November 17, 1997, authorizes a member to disenroll during months 25 to 36 following commencement of retired pay. Spouse or former spouse concurrence is required. No refund is payable. No reentry into SBP is allowed.

AER is a private, nonprofit organization established to help soldiers, active and retired, and their families, including spouses and children of deceased Army soldiers. Funds come from voluntary contributions, the earnings of AER's investment fund, and the repayment of loans. AER emergency financial assistance is provided to meet validated emergency financial needs. Assistance is provided either as a loan without interest, as a grant, or as a combination of a loan and a grant based upon the applicant's personal financial situation. Also, as a secondary mission, AER has an educational assistance program for undergraduate study for spouses and unmarried dependent children of soldiers. An AER office is located on all major Army installations. Additionally, the American Red Cross will assist in contacting AER representatives.

Army Emergency Relief (AER)

Nonsupport	Army Regulation (AR) 608-99, (Family Support, Child Custody, and Paternity) outlines Army policy regarding the obligation of soldiers to support their family members, which is defined to include spouses and children. AR 608-99 generally provides that unless there is a court order or agreement, a soldier separated from his or her family members will pay them, each month, a minimum of the Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) at the "With Dependents" rate. There are exceptions to AR 608-99, such as when both parents are in the military, when family members live in government family quarters, and when the spouse earns more money than the soldier.
	A soldier's commander is responsible for enforcing AR 608-99. This regulation is punitive, which means that a soldier can be punished for violating its requirements. The commander cannot force a soldier to pay any support due his or her family members, and unless there is a court order for support or a written support agreement, family members may not be able to collect BAH arrearage. For this reason, family members seeking financial support from soldiers should obtain a court order whenever possible. In the absence of a court order, a soldier voluntarily providing support for family members may terminate his or her support payments at any time. If support is stopped while the soldier is stationed outside the United States, it is much more difficult to obtain a court order than when the soldier is stationed within the United States. Also, if the soldier later leaves the Army, the Army will have no authority over him or her.
Locating a Soldier	The Army provides military addresses for soldiers on active duty. It does not provide information on Army National Guard members, Army Reservists, or soldiers who have separated/retired. A fee of $3.50 is charged to private businesses, creditors, friends and profit-making organizations for each address search. The check or money order must be made payable to the Finance Officer and is not refundable.
	Family members of the individual being searched, state and local government agencies, active/retired military, and non-profit organizations are exempt from paying the fee. A written request must be submitted to:
	Commander U. S. Army Enlisted Records & Evaluation Center ATTN: PCRE-RP 8899 East 56th Street Indianapolis, IN 46249-5301

Wage Assignments	A wage assignment should be obtained to enforce all court orders for child and spousal support (also known as a garnishment order or automatic withholding order). Without such an order, the Army has no legal authority to withhold child or spousal support from a soldier's pay without the soldier's consent. Wage assignments are required in all court orders for child support issued or modified after January 1, 1994, pursuant to Title 42, U. S. Code, Section 666(a)(8)(B).
Involuntary Allotments	Involuntary allotments pursuant to Title 42, U. S. Code, Section 665 may be initiated against a soldier when there is an existing court or administrative order for child support, or both child and spousal support, and the soldier is in arrears an amount equal to or greater than two months of support payments. To establish an involuntary allotment, the family member should contact their local office of child support enforcement, who may assist them free of charge, or for a nominal fee.
Garnishment Orders	A garnishment order pursuant to Title 42, U. S. Code, Section 659-662 is required in all cases to collect arrears for child and/or spousal support. The garnishment order must be issued by a court or administrative agency of competent jurisdiction in the manner prescribed by applicable state law. The submission of a divorce decree or support order alone is insufficient. A certified copy of the garnishment order must be sent by certified mail to: Defense Finance and Accounting Service DFAS-Cleveland Center (Code L) Office of the General Counsel Anthony J. Celebreeze Federal Building P. O. Box 998002 Cleveland, OH 44199-8002
Child Custody	Army Regulation 608-99 (Family Support, Child Custody, and Paternity) prohibits soldiers from abducting or withholding a child under the age of 14 years from the child's lawful custodian. A "lawful custodian" is a person authorized to have physical custody of the child pursuant to court order. Although the Army may punish a soldier for violating this regulation, it has no legal authority to take custody of a child and return the child to the lawful custodian.
	If a soldier outside the United States is charged with a felonious state kidnapping or abduction offense, found in contempt, and the presiding judge has issued a warrant for arrest, the soldier may be returned, at Army expense, to a United States port of entry for delivery to the appropriate state law enforcement agents, if state law enforcement agents agree to escort the soldier to their state. The Army has no similar authority over a soldier's civilian spouse who violates the law. Although the Army has no authority to return a child wrongfully abducted or retained by a soldier or his or her civilian spouse outside the United States, you may contact the civil authorities in the foreign nation to have the child returned to the United States. The proper authority is:

	U. S. Department of State Office of Overseas Citizens Services Office of Children's Issues Washington, D.C. 20520 (202) 736-7000
Paternity	A person making a paternity claim should always try to obtain a court order establishing the paternity of the child and the amount of support the soldier is required to pay. In the absence of a court order, a soldier may voluntarily admit paternity and provide financial support. However, if support is stopped while the soldier is stationed outside the United States, it will be much more difficult to obtain a court order than when the soldier is stationed within the United States. Also, if the soldier later leaves the Army, the Army will have no authority over him or her. Mothers seeking to establish paternity should contact their local Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE) for assistance in obtaining a court order for paternity, child support, and wage assignment. The OCSE will locate the soldier for purposes of establishing paternity and other court orders.

Separations

A hardship or dependency separation will be granted to a soldier if evidence submitted clearly indicates that the condition is not temporary and separation will alleviate the situation. A soldier desiring a hardship or dependency discharge must submit an application to his/her unit commander. A soldier on orders for an overseas assignment who applies for hardship or dependency separation prior to departure will be held at the losing station pending final disposition. A soldier assigned to an overseas unit, who is temporarily in the United States, should process his/ her application at the nearest Army installation. Final approval or disapproval is the responsibility of the field commander.

Hardship (Army Regulation [AR] 635-200, Chapter 6, paragraph 6-3b)	In circumstances not involving death or disability of a member of a soldier's family, a soldier may be separated from the service to care for and support his/her family. Separations under this program include:
Dependency (AR 635-200, Chapter 6, paragraph 6-3a)	When death or disability results in a family member becoming dependent upon the soldier for care or support, he/she may be separated. (Pregnancy of wife is not considered a disability.)
Exceptions to Policy (AR 635-200, Chapter 5, paragraph 5-3)	Exceptions to Policy (AR 635-200, Chapter 5, paragraph 5-3) A soldier may be considered for separation as an exception to policy in extraordinary circumstances. Examples of extra- ordinary circumstances are the denial of a unique schooling opportunity, the denial of a grant or scholarship, or the denial of employment, which is a "once-in-a-lifetime" opportunity.

Requests should be submitted to the commander. Each case is judged on its own merits and must be fully supported by substantiating documentation. The U. S. Army Human Resources Command (HRC), or higher authority at Headquarters, Department of the Army will make the final decision.

A soldier who qualifies as a surviving family member may request separation, except during a period of war or national emergency declared by Congress. A surviving family member is any son or daughter in a family whose parent (or one or more sons or daughters) served in the Armed Forces of the United States and:

Was killed in action

Died in the line of duty as a result of wounds, accident, or disease

Is in a captured or missing-in-action status

Is 100-percent physically disabled (to include 100-percent mental disability) due to service connection as determined by the Department of Veterans Affairs or one of the military Services. This person must be hospitalized on a continuing basis and not gainfully employed because of the disability.

Enlisted women who are found to have been pregnant upon enlistment will be involuntarily separated with an uncharacterized separation. An enlisted woman who becomes pregnant while in training will be involuntarily separated with an uncharacterized separation when the training commander determines, in coordination with the medical officer (obstetrician), that she cannot fully participate in the training required for her military occupational specialty because of her physical condition. When Service medical authorities determine that a woman is pregnant, she will be counseled concerning her rights, entitlements, and responsibilities with respect to continued active duty and informed that she may request separation, or she may remain on active duty. An enlisted woman who decides to request a separation for pregnancy may request a specific separation date. The specified date will not be later than 30 days prior to the expected date of delivery, or the latest date her physician will authorize her to travel. The approval authority for the discharge has been delegated to the installation where the soldier is assigned. Women who are separated for pregnancy, which occurred after entry on active duty, or initial active duty for training, are entitled to maternity

Surviving Sons or Daughters (AR 635-200, Chapter 5, paragraph 5-4)

Pregnancy (AR 635-200, Chapters 5, 8, and 11, paragraph 11-3) care in a military medical facility only. TRICARE may not be used.

If the Army discovers within the first six months of enlistment that a soldier is not medically qualified due to failure to meet procurement medical standards, he/she may be administratively separated. Medical proceedings must establish that a medical condition was identified within six months of the soldier's initial entrance on active duty or active duty for training which:

Would have permanently disqualified the individual for entry into the Army had it been detected at that time.

Disqualifies him/her for retention in the Army under retention medical standards. Service normally will be described as uncharacterized.

This policy provides for separation because of a soldier's inability to perform prescribed duties, repeated absences, or nonavailability for worldwide assignment as a result of parenthood. The soldier's service is characterized as honorable, under honorable conditions, or an entry-level separation.

An enlistment is fraudulent if the soldier intentionally concealed any enlistment disqualification. A fraudulent enlistee may be discharged, have his/her enlistment voided, or be retained depending upon the specific cause and circumstances of the case. If discharged, service may be characterized as honorable, general, under other than honorable conditions, or may be uncharacterized.

A soldier enrolled in the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Program (ADAPCP) may be separated because of an inability or refusal to participate in, cooperate in, or successfully complete the program. Unless an uncharacterized description of service is authorized, an honorable or general character of service will be issued. Information concerning a soldier's participation in the ADAPCP cannot be released without special written consent of the soldier.

Separation for Medical Conditions Which Existed Prior to Service (AR 635-200, Chapter 5, paragraph 5-11)

Involuntary Separation Due to Parenthood (AR 635-200, Chapter 5, paragraph 5-8)

> Fraudulent Entry (AR 635-200, Chapter 7, paragraph 7-17)

Separation for Alcohol or Other Drug Abuse Rehabilitation (AR 635-200, Chapter 9) Discharge in Lieu of Trial by Court-Martial (AR 635-200, Chapter 10)

Entry Level Performance and Conduct (AR 635-200, Chapter 11)

Separation for Unsatisfactory Performance (AR 635-200, Chapter 13) A soldier who is subject to trial by a court-martial, which could lead to a bad conduct or dishonorable discharge (BCD or DD), may request discharge in lieu of such trial. The soldier is normally issued a discharge under other than honorable conditions.

A soldier may be separated because of unsatisfactory performance or conduct (or both) while in an entry-level status (first 180 days of continuous active military service). Army policy provides for the separation of soldiers who have: demonstrated they are not qualified for retention because they cannot or will not adapt socially or emotionally to military life; cannot meet the minimum standards prescribed for successful completion of training because of lack of aptitude, ability, motivation, or selfdiscipline; have demonstrated character and behavior characteristics incompatible with satisfactory continued service; are unable to complete training because of pregnancy; or have failed to respond to counseling. The service of a soldier separated under these provisions will be described as uncharacterized.

A commander may separate a soldier for unsatisfactory performance when it is clearly established that:

The soldier will not develop sufficiently to become a satisfactory soldier.

The seriousness of the circumstances is such that the soldier's retention would have an adverse impact on military discipline, good order, and morale.

It is likely the soldier will be a disruptive influence in present and future duty assignments.

It is likely that the circumstances forming the basis for initiation of separation proceedings will continue or recur.

The ability of the soldier to perform duties effectively in the future and potential for advancement or leadership are unlikely.

The service of a soldier separated for unsatisfactory performance will be characterized as honorable or under honorable conditions.

Misconduct: Conviction by a Civil Court After Entry on Active Duty (AR 635-200, Chapter 14, Section II) Acts or Patterns of Misconduct (AR 635-200, Chapter 14, Section III) Homosexual Conduct (AR 635-200. Chapter 15) Failure to Meet Body Fat Standards (AR

635-200,

Chapter 18)

A soldier who has been convicted by civil authorities, or civil court action taken was tantamount to a finding of guilty, may be considered for discharge. Specifically, circumstances of the offense must warrant separation by either a punitive discharge, which would be authorized for the same or a closely related offense under the Manual for Courts-Martial, or the sentence by civil authorities includes confinement for six months or more regardless of whether the sentence is suspended or the soldier is placed on probation. Normally, a discharge under other than honorable conditions is appropriate.

A soldier is subject to separation for the following acts or patterns of misconduct:

Numerous military disciplinary infractions.

Discreditable involvement with civil or military authorities; conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline.

Commission of a serious military or civil offense, if the circumstances of the offense warrant separation and a punitive discharge would be authorized for the same or a closely related offense under the Manual for Courts-Martial.

Abuse of illegal drugs. Normally, a discharge under other than honorable conditions is appropriate.

A soldier will normally be discharged for homosexual conduct if he/she has engaged in, attempted to engage in, or solicited another to engage in a homosexual act; has stated he/she is a homosexual or bisexual; or has married or attempted to marry a person of the same biological sex.

A soldier will be considered for separation when he/she does not make satisfactory progress in a body fat reduction program after six months, or fails to maintain standards in the 12 months following removal from the program. Service is characterized as honorable.

Bars to Reenlistment

Soldiers can be denied reenlistment if their continued service is deemed not to be in the best interest of the Army. The two types of bars to reenlistment are: Headquarters Department of the Army (HQDA) Bar (AR 601-280, Chapter 10)

Field Commander's Bar (AR 601-280, Chapter 8)

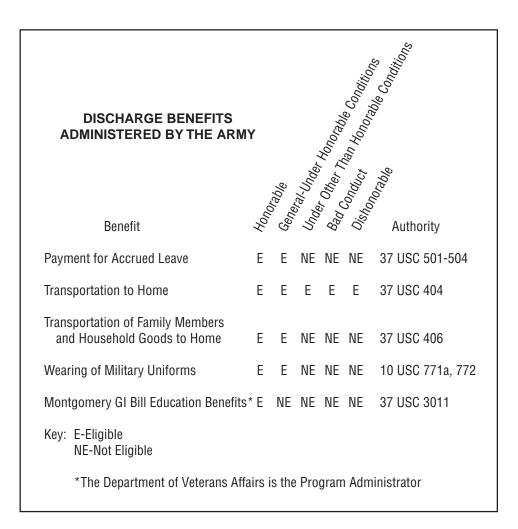

Reenlistment (AR 601-280, Chapter 3)

Absent Without Leave (AWOL) An HQDA Bar to Reenlistment results from qualitative screening of a soldier's records by the Department of the Army Selection Board. This is known as the Army's Qualitative Management Program (QMP). Under this program, the records of noncommissioned officers in the rank of staff sergeant through sergeant major are reviewed at Department of the Army level to determine if there are any reasons the soldier should not be continued on active duty. Among the reasons for imposition of a bar to reenlistment are: deficiencies in physical fitness/military bearing; accountability and responsibility; training; leadership; competence; and personal values. A soldier presented a bar to reenlistment under this program has the opportunity to appeal, and an appeal must be submitted within a set time frame. If an appeal is disapproved, the soldier faces involuntary separation. Boards of senior commissioned and noncommissioned officers consider appeals. The QMP is based on the premise that reenlistment is a privilege that should be limited only to the Army's best soldiers.

A Field Commander's Bar to Reenlistment is the most common type of bar. It is initiated by the soldier's commander against a soldier whose performance is marginal and who possesses no potential for future military service as a noncommissioned officer. The commander may void a Field Commander's Bar at any time. The soldier may also appeal the bar to the next higher commander.

A commander may deny a soldier the privilege of reenlisting when he/she fails to meet required reenlistment qualifiers, i.e., trainability, physical readiness, weapons qualification, a record of nonjudicial punishment, and failure to meet weight standards and retention control point (highest year of tenure) for his/her particular rank.

Military life is demanding and rigorous. Those who cannot adapt to the Army lifestyle may be eligible for administrative discharge if certain criteria are met. However, no action of any type can be taken until a soldier returns to military control. If you have a constituent who is AWOL, please encourage him/her to go to the nearest military facility where he/she will be treated fairly and provided an opportunity to explain the circumstances. Upon consideration of the mitigating factors of the situation, the commander can decide whether to retain or discharge the soldier.

Physical Disability System

The United States Army Physical Disability Agency (USAPDA) manages the Army Physical Disability Evaluation System (PDES). This system determines whether a soldier is fit or unfit because of a medical condition that prevents the performance of his/her duties.

> A soldier is referred to this system if a Medical Evaluation Board (MEB) determines that he/she does not meet medical retention standards, or the Military Occupational Specialty Medical Retention Board (MMRB) directs referral into the system. A soldier's commander may request the Medical Treatment Facility (MTF) to conduct a fitness for duty examination on the soldier. The results of this examination will determine whether a MEB is required, which will in turn determine whether referral into the system is required.

> The MMRB is an administrative screening board convened by the soldier's command. It evaluates the ability of a soldier with a permanent medical profile of a three or four numerical rating to physically perform in his/her primary military occupational specialty (PMOS) in a worldwide field environment. Referral into the system is one of four actions the MMRB Convening Authority may direct. This referral mandates a MEB and a Physical Evaluation Board (PEB) unless the MEB reduces the profile to less than a numerical rating of three.

The MEB is a soldier's first step in the disability evaluation system process. Their findings are reviewed by two physicians (one of whom may or may not be the attending physician), and must be approved by the Deputy Commander for Clinical Services or approving authority. Once approved, the MEB findings, as well as personnel and administrative documents pertaining to the soldier, are forwarded to the PEB by the Physical Evaluation Board Liaison Officer (PEBLO). The PEBLO counsels the soldier on disability processing and is the soldier's link in processing the case through the MTF.

Once these records/documents are received by the PEB, the second step in the process begins. The PEB is an administrative, fact-finding board consisting of three voting members: the President (usually a colonel), Personnel Management Officer (a field grade officer), and the Medical Officer. The Army ensures proper Reserve representation on the board when a Reserve soldier is being considered. Initially, the PEB conducts an informal board without the soldier's presence. It considers the soldier's medical condition, job requirements, and performance. Based on the evidence, a determination is made as to whether the soldier is fit or unfit. Soldiers are unfit only for medical conditions that prevent them from being able to reasonably perform their duties. The presence of a medical impairment does not, in itself, justify a finding of unfitness. If the soldier has continued to function in his/her PMOS despite the medical impairment, the soldier is found fit and returned to duty. This finding, however, does not alter the soldier's physical profile or other medical restrictions. Conversely, if the soldier's medical condition renders him/her unable to reasonably perform his/her duties, the PEB will find the soldier physically unfit. If unfit, and if the disability is compensable, a rating of the condition will be accomplished by using the Veterans Administration Schedule for Rating Disability in conjunction with the guidance in Army Regulation 635-40 and Department of Defense Instruction 1332.39.

In general, for an unfitting disability to be compensable, the impairment must have been incurred or permanently aggravated in the line of duty. If the condition is determined to have existed prior to service and was not permanently aggravated by service, the disability is compensable if the member is currently on ordered active duty of more than 30 days, and the member will have eight years of active service by the date the member would otherwise be separated without entitlement to disability benefits. This eight-year provision is codified in Title 10, United States Code (USC), Section 1207a and was passed in the National Defense Authorization Act of Fiscal Year 2000.

Disability ratings may vary between the Army and the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). The Army rates only conditions determined to be physically unfitting for military service, while the VA may rate any service-connected impairment. Another difference is based on the term of the rating. The Army's ratings are final, except when a medical condition improves or worsens while a soldier is on the Temporary Disability Retired List (TDRL); VA ratings may be adjusted with time, depending upon the progress of the condition. Further, the Army's disability compensation is based and affected by years of service and basic pay, while VA compensation is a flat amount based upon the percentage rating received.

Once a rating is determined, the board renders one of the following findings: unfit, separate with severance pay (conditions rated at less than 30 percent); unfit, separate without benefits (conditions due to intentional misconduct or willful neglect or determined to be pre-existing without permanent service aggravation and Title 10, USC, Section 1207a is inapplicable); unfit, placement on the TDRL (conditions considered unstable and rated at 30 percent or more, or the soldier has 20 years of active federal service); or unfit, Permanent Disability Retirement (conditions considered stable and rated at 30 percent or more, or the soldier has 20 years of active federal service).

A soldier whose disability is not stable, but otherwise meets the criteria for permanent retirement, is placed on the TDRL. While on the TDRL, the soldier is subject to reexamination at least every 18 months, followed by the PEB evaluation. The PEB reevaluation may result in final disposition or retention on the TDRL.

A soldier has the right to concur or nonconcur with the informal PEB findings and to submit a statement of rebuttal. If the soldier is found unfit, he/she has the right by law to demand a formal hearing. A soldier found fit has no statutory right to a formal hearing, but may request one. Soldiers who demand a formal board have the right to legal representation by regularly appointed military counsel or counsel of their choice (at no cost to the government). He/she can choose to either appear, or have counsel appear alone in his/her behalf. The soldier may also have witnesses testify for him/her. Based on the evidence and testimony presented, the PEB renders a finding of fit or unfit. Again, the soldier can accept the board's finding or disagree and submit a rebuttal statement.

The case is then forwarded to the Disability Agency for administrative processing of the finding. The case is still subject to quality review and modification by the USAPDA. If the soldier disagrees with the final PEB finding and submits a statement of rebuttal, the USAPDA is required to review the case.

The third step in the disability evaluation process involves the USAPDA's case review. The USAPDA may concur with the PEB and forward the case to the Physical Disability Branch (PDB), a section of USAPDA, for administrative processing; or the USAPDA may modify the PEB's finding. If the USAPDA modifies the case, the soldier is once again given the opportunity to concur or nonconcur with the finding. If the soldier has not had a formal board, he/she can request one at this time, or the USAPDA may direct one. If the soldier nonconcurs again and submits a rebuttal, his/her case is referred to the United States Army Physical Disability Appeals Board (APDAB) for final determination.

The final step in the process is at the PDB. For regular Army and Active Guard Reserve soldiers, the PDB transmits the required data to complete the orders process. The PDB will assign a "not later than" date 90 days after the completion of processing at the USAPDA headquarters. It is the purview of the installation commander, through the transition point, to establish a release or separation date within this 90-day window. For soldiers on the TDRL, PDB administratively processes and executes the findings, including the disposition of orders and any submission of compensation entitlement to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service.

A soldier who believes there was an error or injustice in the adjudication of his/her case may apply to the Army Board for Correction of Military Records (ABCMR) or the Army Disability Rating Review Board (ADRRB) for relief, as appropriate. The ABCMR is a statutory board established within the Office of the Secretary of the Army for the express purpose of considering applications to determine the existence of an error or injustice and to make appropriate recommendations. The ADRRB is a component of the Army Council of Review Boards and reviews disability percentage ratings upon request of a soldier who has been retired for physical disability. For more detailed information about the ABCMR process go to: http://arba.army.pentagon.mil

National Personnel Records Center

The National Personnel Records Center (NPRC), located in St. Louis, Missouri, is part of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). The Center holds the military personnel records of discharged and deceased veterans of all Services.

> To request military records, veterans and the next-of-kin of deceased veterans may use http://www.archives.gov/ research_room/vetrecs/. It is recommended that all other requesters use the SF 180 (Request Pertaining To Military Records). This form is available electronically through the NARA web site (http://www.archives.gov), through a Fax-on-Demand system on NARA's web site, from Veterans Affairs offices, through veterans' service organizations, or by contacting the National Personnel Records Center at 9700 Page Avenue, St. Louis, MO 63132-5100. General questions and emergency requests may be directed to the NPRC's Customer Service representatives at (314) 801-0816.

On July 12, 1973, there was a disastrous fire at NPRC that destroyed approximately 80 percent of the records pertaining to persons discharged from the Army between November 1, 1912, and January 1, 1960. If a veteran's files were lost in the fire, he/she should submit photocopies of any documents in his/her possession, particularly separation documents, when making a request. These will be used to assist in verifying the military service.

In the event a veteran has no records in his/her possession, the essential military service data is available from a number of alternate sources. The Department of Veterans Affairs, for example, maintains records on veterans whose military records were affected by the fire, if the veteran or his/her family filed a claim prior to July 1973. Other sources of information include various kinds of "organizational" records such as morning reports, payrolls, and military orders, which are available at the Center. There is also a great deal of information available in records of the State Adjutants General, and other state veterans' service offices. By using these alternate sources of information, NPRC employees can often reconstruct the veteran's beginning and ending dates of active service, the character of the service, rank at separation, time lost while on active duty, and periods of hospitalization. Usually the Center is able to issue NA Form 13038, Certification of Military Service, which is considered to be the equivalent of a DD Form 214, Report of Separation from Active Duty, for the purpose of establishing eligibility for the veteran's benefits.

The key to reconstructing military data is to get enough specific information from the veteran to allow Center personnel to search the available alternate sources. This information normally includes:

Full name used during service Branch of service Approximate dates of service Social security or service number Place of discharge Last unit of assignment Place of entry into service

INSTRUCTION AND INFORMATION SHEET FOR SF 180, REQUEST PERTAINING TO MILITARY RECORDS

1. Information needed to locate records. Certain identifying information is necessary to determine the location of an individual's record of military service. Please try to answer each item on the SF 180. If you do not have and cannot obtain the information for an item, show "NA," meaning the information is "not available." Include as much of the requested information as you can.

2. Restrictions on release of information. Release of information is subject to restrictions imposed by the military services consistent with Department of Defense regulations and the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and the Privacy Act of 1974. The service member (either past or present) or the member's legal guardian has access to almost any information contained in that member's own record. Others requesting information from military personnel/health records must have the release authorization in Section III of the SF 180 signed by the member or legal guardian, but if the appropriate signature cannot be obtained, only limited types of information can be provided. If the former member is deceased, surviving next of kin may, under certain circumstances, be entitled to greater access to a deceased veteran's records than a member of the public. The next of kin may be any of the following: unremarried surviving spouse, father, mother, son, daughter, sister, or brother. Employers and others needing proof of military service are expected to accept the information shown on documents issued by the military service departments at the time a service member is separated.

3. Where reply may be sent. The reply may be sent to the member or any other address designated by the member or other authorized requester.

4. Charges for service. There is no charge for most services provided to members or their surviving next of kin. A nominal fee is charged for certain types of service. In most instances service fees cannot be determined in advance. If your request involves a service fee, you will be notified as soon as that determination is made.

5. Health and personnel records. Health records of persons on active duty are generally kept at the local servicing clinic, and usually are available from the Department of Veterans Affairs a week or two after the last day of active duty. (See page 2 of SF180 for record locations/addresses.)

6. Records at the National Personnel Records Center. Note that it takes at least three months, and often up to seven, for the file to reach the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis after the military obligation has ended (such as by discharge). If only a short time has passed, please send the inquiry to the address shown for active or current reserve members. Also, if the person has only been released from active duty but is still in a reserve status, the personnel record will stay at the location specified for reservists. A person can retain a reserve obligation for several years, even without attending meetings or receiving annual training. (See page 2 of SF180 for record locations/addresses.)

7. Definitions and abbreviations. DISCHARGED -- the individual has no current military status; HEALTH -- Records of physical examinations, dental treatment, and outpatient medical treatment received while in a duty status (does not include records of treatment while hospitalized); TDRL – Temporary Disability Retired List.

8. Service completed before World War I. National Archives Trust Fund (NATF) forms must be used to request these records. Obtain the forms by e-mail from inquire@nara.gov or write to the Code 6 address on page 2 of the SF 180.

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974 COMPLIANCE INFORMATION

The following information is provided in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(3) and applies to this form. Authority for collection of the information is 44 U.S.C. 2907, 3101, and 3103, and E.O. 9397 of November 22, 1943. Disclosure of the information is voluntary. If the requested information is not provided, it may delay servicing your inquiry because the facility servicing the service member's record may not have all of the information needed to locate it. The purpose of the information on this form is to assist the facility servicing the records (see the address list) in locating the correct military service record(s) or information to answer your inquiry. This form is then filed in the requested military service record as a record of disclosure. The form may also be disclosed to Department of Defense components, the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Department of Transportation (Coast Guard), or the National Archives and Records Administration when the original custodian of the military health and personnel records transfers all or part of those records to that agency. If the service member was a member of the National Guard, the form may also be disclosed to the Adjutant General of the appropriate state, District of Columbia, or Puerto Rico, where he or she served.

PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT PUBLIC BURDEN STATEMENT

Public burden reporting for this collection of information is estimated to be five minutes per response, including time for reviewing instructions and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding the burden estimate or any other aspect of the collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to National Archives and Records Administration (NHP), 8601 Adelphi Road, College Park, MD 20740-6001. DO NOT SEND COMPLETED FORMS TO THIS ADDRESS. SEND COMPLETED FORMS AS INDICATED IN THE ADDRESS LIST ON PAGE 2 OF THE SF 180.

Awards and Decorations

Federal law and Army policy require that recommendations for military awards and decorations be formally submitted into official channels within two years of the act that is to be recognized. However, Title 10, United States Code (USC), Section 1130, provides an avenue for consideration of military decorations that otherwise could not be considered due to existing Federal law and Army policy. Specifically, Title 10, USC, Section 1130, allows for the submission of any award or decoration that was not previously submitted within the prescribed time limitations, requests for unit awards, and upgrades to previously issued awards. However, a Member of Congress must refer requests submitted under this provision to the appropriate Service Secretary.

> Army individual decorations include the Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross, Distinguished Service Medal, Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross, Soldier's Medal, Bronze Star Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Air Medal, Army Commendation Medal, and Army Achievement Medal. There are no time limitations for award of the Purple Heart and other awards such as service medals, badges, or lapel buttons.

> Under the provisions of Title 10, USC, Section 1130, it is the responsibility of the requester to obtain all supporting documentation. The attached checklist and DA Form 638 (Award Recommendation) will assist constituents in preparing a wellsupported award recommendation.

Requests are to be forwarded by a Member of Congress to:

U. S. Army Human Resources Command ATTN:AHRC-PDO-PA 200 Stovall Street, Suite 3S67 Alexandria, VA 22322-0471

Recommendations that were previously submitted and acted upon can be reconsidered if there is conclusive evidence that new, substantive information is made available that was not previously considered. Awards submitted within the prescribed time limitations can be acted upon if there is evidence the award was not processed to a conclusion either through inadvertence or because it was lost. A request for reconsideration of a disapproved or downgraded recommendation must be placed in official channels within one year from the date of the awarding authority's decision. A one-time reconsideration by the award authority shall be conclusive.

Replacement Medals/ Ribbons/ Certificates	 However, a Member of Congress can request a review of a proposal for the award or presentation of a decoration (or the upgrading of a decoration) that is not authorized to be presented or awarded due to limitations established by law or policy for timely submission of a recommendation. In all cases, when making inquiries regarding a soldier's award or those of an Army veteran, it is essential to provide the social security number or previous Army serial number. Providing a copy of the veteran's separation documents with each request or inquiry is also helpful (DD Form 214 for post-World War II soldiers and WD AGO Form 53-55 (enlisted) and WD AGO Form 53-98 (officer) for World War II soldiers. There is a service available to Army veterans and retirees for replacing award emblems either previously issued but lost, or issued, but for some reason never received by the soldier. The Army may charge the individual for each medal replaced. There is no set fee since some medals are more costly than others. This service is available to the constituent by corresponding directly with: National Personnel Records Center ATTN: Army Reference Branch 9700 Page Avenue St. Louis, MO 63132-5100 Current members of the Army Reserve and Army National Guard should contact their local commanders for assistance, or write to: U. S. Army Reserve Personnel Command ATTN: ARPC-PSV-V One Reserve Way St. Louis, MO 63132-5200
Army Air Corps/Air Force Awards Before 1948	Inquiries concerning awards for members of the Army Air Corps and Army Air Force before 1948 should be addressed to the Army Legislative Liaison, except for awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal, which should be forwarded to the Department of the Air Force.
Award Presentations	Consistent with tradition and Army regulations, awards and decorations are to be presented with an appropriate degree of formality in a fitting ceremony. If assistance is required in presenting an approved award to a constituent, the Adjutant General's office at the nearest Army installation may be contacted. 80

Commemorative Medals	Commemorative medals are offered for sale by private vendors and are not issued by the Department of the Army. These medals are manufactured for sale by private dealers in military insignia and are not recognized as official U. S. military decorations, and cannot be recorded on the individual's DD Form 214, WD AGO 53-55, or WD AGO 53-98.
The Republic of Korea War Service Medal	 The Republic of Korea (ROK) War Service Medal is authorized for U. S. military personnel who have: served between the outbreak of hostilities, June 25, 1950, and the date the armistice was signed, July 27, 1953. been on permanent assignment or on temporary duty for 30 consecutive days or 60 non-consecutive days; and performed their duty within the territorial limits of Korea, in the waters immediately adjacent thereto, or in aerial flight over Korea, participating in actual combat operations or in support of combat operations. The ROK specifies the eligibility period and criteria. Only the ROK-provided medal is approved by the U. S. government to meet the U. S. criteria for wear on the military uniform. To apply, veterans must provide a copy of their discharge paper, commonly known as a DD-214, or a corrected version of that document, a DD-215. National Guard members must provide their statement of service equivalent, NGB Form 22. Additional information on how to apply for or request the medal can be found by contacting the Air Force Personnel Center, Monday - Friday, 7:30 a.m 4:30 p.m. (CST) at (800) 558-1404, or the Awards and Decorations Section (210) 565-2432/2520/2516, fax (210) 565-3118, or by writing to HQ AFPC/DPPPRA, 550 C Street West, Suite 12, Randolph Air Force Base, TX 78150-4714. General information on Korean War commemorations can be found by contacting the DOD 50th Anniversary of the Korean War Commemoration Committee, 1213 Jefferson Davis Highway, Crystal Gateway 4, Arlington, VA 22202, by calling (703) 604-0831, or by visiting their web site at http://korea50.army.mil Because the order of precedence for non-U. S. service medals and ribbons is determined by date of approval, the ROK War Service Medal should be worn after the Kuwait Liberation Medal, which was the last foreign medal approved for wear by U. S. military personnel. For the majority of Korean War veterans, the medal will be worn after the United Nations Medal, or the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal if they served during that conflict. Purple Heart An individual is entitled to the Purple Heart when certain criteria have been met. The criterion requires it to be awarded to soldiers for wounds or injuries received as a direct result of enemy action, the wounds must have required treatment by a medical official, and it was made a matter of official record. Documentation reflecting medical treatment following the incident must be provided. Verification of entitlement may be possible by conducting a review of morning reports and Surgeon General Hospital Admission Reports for the period in question. During World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam conflict, annotations were normally made in the daily unit morning report when a soldier was absent from the unit for sickness or wounds received in action. To obtain these reports, the individual should provide detailed information concerning their injuries to the National Personnel Records Center, ATTN: Army Reference Branch, 9700 Page Avenue, St. Louis, MO 63132-5100. Specific unit of assignment, down to company level, the dates involved, the name of the servicing medical unit, along with a social security or service number, will allow a thorough search to be conducted on all available reports. If documentation can be located to substantiate an award of the Purple Heart, the individual and the Military Awards Branch will be provided with the necessary information so a final determination may be made. For further awards information please visit the Military Awards Branch web site at https://www.hrc.army.mil. Repositories of Potential Sources of Information Commander U. S. Army Review Boards

Active duty and former soldiers may encounter situations where they feel they have been victims of an error or injustice related to their military service. In such cases, the soldiers concerned often desire that their military records be corrected or changed to reflect action beneficial to them. Since no change can be made except as provided by law, two boards have been established to provide administrative redress for the soldier.

Army Discharge Review Board (ADRB)

Army Board for Correction of Military Records (ABCMR) The ADRB is authorized to change, correct, or modify discharges or dismissals and to issue a new discharge in accordance with the facts presented to the Board.

The ADRB is authorized to review cases involving the discharge or dismissal of former members of the Army. Authorization is limited to discharge or dismissal other than sentence of a general court-martial. The Statute of Limitations for application is 15 years from the date of discharge. Applications must be made on DD Form 293*, addressed to:

Army Review Boards Agency Support Division ATTN: SFMR-RBR-SL 9700 Page Avenue St. Louis, MO 63132-5200

Panels of the Board meet regularly in Arlington, VA, and are scheduled periodically in major cities throughout the United States subject to the availability of travel funds. Applicants may appear before the Board in Arlington, or before a travel panel/ hearing examiner. Cases are heard in the order applications are received. Applicants requesting a records review can expect a wait of approximately 60 to 90 days before their case is heard. A hearing before an ADRB travel panel may take up to 12 months.

The Secretary of the Army, acting through the ABCMR, has the authority to correct an error or remove an injustice. Each case is considered individually based on merit, the evidence presented, and a soldier's service records.

The ABCMR continues to have a heavy case docket, and applications are normally considered in the order received. A waiting period of 6 to 10 months is not unusual if the case involves multiple requests or complicated issues of law or fact. Applications for any relief that can be accomplished by the correction of a military record may be submitted to the ABCMR. The Board's jurisdiction is very broad, including as many as 50 separate subject areas, such as pay, promotions, physical disability retirement, awards, and review of court-martial sentences, including discharges received by general court-martial.

The ABCMR is composed of civilian members appointed by the Secretary of the Army, who are assisted by an administrative staff, and is the highest level of administrative appeal within the Department of the Army. The Board will not consider an application until the applicant has exhausted all other effective administrative remedies afforded by existing Federal law or Army regulations. In the case of discharge review, applicants must first appeal to the ADRB. A claimant, his/her heir, or legal representative must file the application for correction of a record within three years after discovery of the alleged error or injustice. However, the ABCMR may excuse failure to file within the prescribed time if it finds it would be in the interest of justice to do so. Applications not explaining the reasons for failure to file within three years may be returned without action.

An application is made on DD Form 149*. This form is available following this section, as well as at various Federal, state and local veterans' assistance offices, and on the Army Review Boards Agency website at http://arba.army.pentagon.mil.

Applications for active duty personnel should be mailed to:

REQUESTING COPIES OF YOUR OFFICIAL MILITARY PERSONNEL FILE

Information on how to obtain military or health records is available at the National Personnel Records Center website at www.nara.gov/regional/mpr.html or at your local Veterans Administration office.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to submit any request for their military records prior to applying for a discharge review rather than after submitting a DD Form 293 in order to avoid substantial delays in processing of the application and scheduling of review. Applicants and their counsel may also examine their military personnel records at the site of their scheduled review prior to the review. The Board shall notify applicants of the date of availability of the records for examination in their standard scheduling information.

Submission of a request for an applicant's military records (including a request pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act or Privacy Act) after the DD Form 293 has been submitted will automatically result in the suspension of processing of the application for discharge review until the requested records are sent to an appropriate location for copying, are copied, and are returned to the possession of the headquarters of the Discharge Review Board. Processing of the application shall then be resumed at whatever stage of the discharge review process is practicable.

DD FORM 293 - PLEASE PRINT OR TYPE INFORMATION. (Items on the form are self-explanatory unless otherwise noted below.)

ITEM 1b. Use the name which you served under while in the Armed Forces. If your name has since changed, then also include your current name after adding the abbreviation "AKA". If the former member is deceased or incompetent, see Item 11.

ITEM 2. If you received more than one discharge, the information in this item should refer to the discharge that you want changed. Discharge Review Boards cannot consider any type of discharge resulting from a sentence given by a general court-martial.

ITEM 3. If the discharge you want reviewed was issued over 15 years ago, instead of applying on a DD Form 293, you must petition the appropriate Board for Correction of Military Record using DD Form 149, Application for Correction of Military Record Under the Provisions of Title 10, U.S. Code, Section 1552.

ITEM 5. If you request a change of narrative reason for separation, you must list the specific reason for discharge that you believe to be appropriate, otherwise the Board will presume that you do not want a change in reason for discharge. If you do not request a change of discharge characterization in this item, the Board will presume you want to change discharge to Honorable.

If you were separated on or after 1 October 1982 while in an entry level status with an under other than honorable conditions discharge and less than 180 days of active service, you can request a change of discharge characterization to "Uncharacterized" and discharge reason to "Entry Level Separation". ITEM 6. "Issues" are the reasons why you think your discharge should be changed. You are not required to submit any issues with your application. However, if you want the Board to respond in writing to the issues of concern, you must list your specific issues in accordance with those instructions and regulations governing the Board. Issues must be stated clearly and specifically. Your issues should address the reasons why you believe that the discharge received was improper or inequitable. It is important to focus on matters that occurred while you served in the Armed Forces.

The following examples demonstrate one way in which issues may be stated (the example issues do not indicate, in any way, the only type of issues that should be submitted to the Board):

Example 1. My discharge was inequitable because it was based on one isolated incident in 28 months of service with no other adverse action.

Example 2. The discharge is improper because the applicant's pre-service civilian conviction, properly listed on his enlistment documents, was used in the discharge proceedings.

In Item 6 list each of your issues that you want the Board to address. There is no limit to the number of issues that you may submit. If you need additional space, continue in Item 14 or on a plain sheet of paper and attach it to this application.

NOTE: If an issue is not listed in Item 6, it may result in the Board not addressing the issue even if the issue is discussed in a legal brief or other written submissions or at the hearing. Changes or additions to the list may be made on the DD Form 293 anytime before the Discharge Review Board closes the review process for deliberation. Please be sure that your issues are consistent with the Board Action Requested (Item 5). If there is a conflict between what you say in your issues and what you requested in Item 5, the Board will respond to your issue in the context of the action requested in Item 5. For example, if you request a General Discharge in Item 5 but your issue in Item 6 indicated you want an Honorable Discharge, the Board will respond to the issue in terms of your request for a General Discharge. Therefore, if you are submitting issues for the purpose of obtaining an Honorable Discharge, be sure to mark the box for an Honorable Discharge in Item 5.

Incorporation by Reference. Issues that are listed on a legal brief or other written submissions may be incorporated by reference in Item 6. The reference must be specific enough for the Board to clearly identify the matter being submitted as an issue. At a minimum, it shall identify the page, paragraph, and sentence incorporated. Example: Issue 1. Brief, page 2, paragraph 1, sentences one and two.

Applicants should be as specific as possible with all references so the Board can clearly distinguish the scope of the issue. Because it is to your benefit to bring such issues to the Board's attention as early as possible in the review, if you submit a brief, you are strongly urged to set forth all such issues as a separate item at the beginning of the brief.

ITEM 8. Evidence not in your official records should be submitted to the Board before the review date. It is to your advantage to submit such documentation with this application. This also applies to legal briefs or counsel submissions. However, you have the right to submit evidence until the time the Discharge Review Board closes the review process for deliberation. Documents that are of the most benefit are those which substantiate or relate directly to your issues in Item 6. Other documents that may be helpful are character references, educational achievements, exemplary post-service conduct, and medical reports. You should add your name and Social Security Number to each document submitted. The Board will consider all documents submitted in your behalf, but will respond in writing only to those issues set forth in Item 6.

ITEM 9. TYPE OF REVIEW REQUESTED

A Discharge Review is conducted in two basic ways: (1) Records Review or (2) Hearing.

1. Records Review. You may have the Board conduct a discharge review based solely on military records and any additional documentation that you provide. This review is conducted without personal appearance by you and/or your counsel appearing.

2. Hearing. You may appear personally (alone or assisted by a representative/counsel) before the Board in the Washington, D.C. Metro Area or before a Traveling Panel of the Board in selected locations throughout the U.S., if appropriate. The Department of Defense is not responsible for, nor will it pay for, any costs incurred by the applicant or representative/counsel for appearance or providing testimony or documentation. Detailed notification and/or scheduling information for all personal appearances will be provided after the application has been processed. In addition, without appearing yourself, you may have your case presented by a representative/counsel of your choice.

Applicants participating in a personal appearance or hearing examination may make sworn or unsworn state- ments, introduce witnesses, documents, or other information on their behalf. Applicants may make oral or written arguments personally and/or through representative/ counsel. Applicants and witnesses who present sworn or unsworn statements may be questioned by the Board. FAILURE TO APPEAR AT A HEARING OR RESPOND TO A SCHEDULING NOTICE. If you do not appear at a scheduled hearing or respond as required to a scheduling notice, and you did not make a prior, timely request for a continuance, postponement, or withdrawal of the application, you will forfeit the right to a personal appearance and the Board shall complete its review of the discharge based upon the evidence of record.

ITEM 10.a - d. Omit if you do not have a representative/ counsel. If you later obtain the services of either, inform the Board immediately.

The military services do not provide counsel representation or evidence for you, nor do they pay the cost of such representation under any circumstance. The following organizations regularly furnish representation at no charge to you. Representatives may or may not be lawyers.

- 1. American Legion
- 2. Disabled American Veterans
- 3. Veterans of Foreign Wars
- 4. State or Regional Veterans Offices

In addition, there are other organizations willing to assist you in completing this application and to provide representation at no cost. It is to your advantage to coordinate with your counsel prior to submitting this application. This will insure that your counsel is able to appear at the location you listed in Item 9. Please note that some of the organizations listed above only represent applicants who appear before the Board in the Washington, D.C. Metro Area. Contact your local veterans affairs office, Veterans Administration Office or veterans service organization for further information.

ITEM 11. If the former member is deceased or incompetent, the application may be submitted by the next of kin, a surviving spouse or a legal representative. Legal proof of death or incompetency and satisfactory evidence of the relationship to the former member must accompany this application.

ITEM 12.a. Indicate the address to be used for all future correspondence regarding this application. If you change this address while this application is pending, you must notify the Discharge Review Board immediately. Failure to attend a hearing as a result of an unreported change in address may result in a waiver of your right to a hearing.

ITEM 13.a. and b. A signature and date entered by the applicant or person identified in Item 11 are required.

17. REMARKS

Casualty/Interment

Casualty Operations Program	The Army operates a casualty operations program and reporting system to ensure all casualties are accountable, reported, and documented. It is also designed to ensure that soldiers and their families are provided with the best possible support in the event of death, serious injury, illness, or a missing/captured status.
Regulatory Guidance	Army Regulation 600-8-1, Army Casualty Operations/Assistance/ Insurance Army Regulation 600-34, Fatal Training/Operational Accident Presentations to the Next of Kin
Casualty Reporting	Casualty reporting must be accomplished in an accurate and timely manner. Reports serve as the basis for notifying primary and secondary next of kin and for ensuring commanders have accurate information regarding their soldiers and their units. Every soldier has a DD Form 93 (Record of Emergency Data) and insurance information on file that details his or her desires regarding notification and beneficiaries in the event of their death, serious injury/illness or a missing/captured status.
Casualty Notification	The Army makes every effort to notify and extend condolences to the next of kin in a timely, professional, dignified, and understanding manner. This is normally accomplished within four hours. Notification is effected in different ways depending upon the type of casualty (death, illness, and injury) and the circumstances surrounding the incident. Notification in death and missing cases is accomplished in person, by a uniformed service representative; however, if there is a chance that the next of kin may learn of the casualty by other than official means, the family may be notified by the quickest means possible, usually telephonically. Notifications are normally made between the hours of 6:00 a.m. and midnight. Notifications outside of these hours are subject to prior approval by the U. S. Army Human Resources Command be released to the public until notification to the family is completed. At that time, information will be released through proper public affairs channels.

Casualty Assistance	The Army is committed to providing timely assistance to families following the difficult period of death, disappearance, or serious injury/illness. A Casualty Assistance Officer is provided to the primary next of kin of soldiers in death and missing cases. The Casualty Assistance Officer serves as the on-scene representative for the next of kin and assists in various ways. Assistance normally includes funeral support, settling claims, survivor benefits and other related issues. Assistance can vary from case to case depending on the needs of the family.
Army Reserve Casualties	If an Army reserve soldier dies while on active duty, active duty for training or while on inactive duty training (scheduled drill), they are entitled to the same benefits as the active duty soldier. They are authorized survivor assistance and notification to their primary and secondary next of kin.
	However, if an Army reserve soldier dies while assigned to an Army Reserve unit, but during "other than a scheduled drill period," survivor assistance may be provided by the commanding officer of the Army reserve unit.
Very Seriously III/ Injured/ Seriously III/ Injured	The Army also ensures family members of soldiers who are seriously ill or injured are informed. The primary next of kin will be notified telephonically when the illness or injury has been classified as serious or very serious by medical authorities. HRC will make the notification when a soldier is hospitalized overseas and the primary next of kin is in the continental United States, otherwise the appropriate medical authorities normally accomplish notification (usually the attending physician). HRC reports progress and status changes to the next of kin as required.
Invitational Travel Orders	If a doctor feels it is in the best interest of the soldier to have his/ her family present to aid in recovery, the doctor will request an invitational travel order to bring the family to the soldier. For soldiers hospitalized overseas, HRC approves invitational travel orders. For locations in the United States, the Casualty Area Command (CAC) coordinates the request. When invitational travel orders are authorized, the government will pay the airfare for two family members. Lodging, meals, and incidentals are not covered.

Fatal Training Accidents/ Family Presentations

Duty Status-Whereabouts Unknown (DUSTWUN) Family presentations or briefings are offered to the primary next of kin when a soldier is killed as a result of an on-duty accident. This information is presented to the family once the accident investigation is completed. The presentations are intended to provide the primary next of kin with the facts and circumstances surrounding the incident/accident.

DUSTWUN is a temporary status, not a missing category. It is used when there is insufficient evidence to initially make a definitive determination of a person's duty status. Assigning a DUSTWUN status allows the commander sufficient time to determine a person's duty status and serves to avoid placing a person in a missing status prematurely. Normally, a person is retained in a DUSTWUN status for a maximum of 10 days. This is usually sufficient time to conduct an informal investigation into the circumstances surrounding the person's absence and conduct search or recovery operations. The commander will initiate an informal investigation to obtain information concerning the absent person and then recommends to the Commander, HRC that the soldier be moved to an appropriate casualty category. Upon receiving the informal investigation, the Commander, HRC (The Adjutant General) will appoint a hearing officer to review the findings. recommend either assignment to the appropriate casualty category, or returning the investigation to the Casualty Area Command to further try and substantiate the soldier's status. If the report is sufficient, The Adjutant General will declare the person dead or missing. If declared missing, The Adjutant General will designate the appropriate missing category, issue a DD Form 1300, and will notify the Casualty Area Command concerned of the determination.

Army participation is not authorized when such participation directly or indirectly endorses, selectively benefits, or favors any private individual, sect, fraternal organization, political group, commercial venture, or is associated with solicitation of votes in a political election. Title 10, United States Code, prohibits Army participation and support which "interferes with the customary or regular employment of local civilians in their art, trade, or profession." Participation is not authorized when admission, seating and other accommodations or facilities are restricted in any manner with regard to race, creed, sex, or national origin.

The sponsor is responsible for additional costs of Army participation in events outside an installation's local area. Additional costs include: travel and transportation for personnel and equipment; meals and lodging; or daily per diem allowance in lieu of meals and lodging.

To request Army Aerial Support, use DD Form 2535. To request Army participation in public events (non-aviation), use DD Form 2536. Both of these forms are included for your use, or are available at http://www.dtic.mil/armylink/community.html

INSTRUCTIONS

1. The attached form is used to request U.S. Armed Forces aircraft participation at public events (maximum of 3 days) in support of community relations programs, and for requesting an aerial demonstration team (U.S. Army Golden Knights, U.S. Navy Blue Angels, or U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds) to perform on or off a military installation, worldwide. This form is used by each Military Service to determine eligibility of an event for military aerial support. Once an event has been approved as eligible, it is the event sponsor's responsibility to coordinate possible military unit participation, unless a Military Service approving the aviation support has an established policy whereby that Military Services provides coordination support equally to sponsors of all similar events.

2. The event sponsor is responsible for gaining the completion of Section IV, FAA Coordination, prior to submission of the form to each appropriate Military Service. The local Flight Standards District Office that has jurisdiction over the event site will complete all appropriate blocks in Section IV. Requests for static displays only do not require FAA coordination. Complete Sections I - III and V - VII, and forward the form to the nearest Flight Standards District Office (FSDO) for completion of Section IV.

3. The local sponsoring organization is responsible for the accurate completion of the form and conducting the event. The information on this form must be typed or printed in ink, and is used to evaluate the event for compliance with public law and Department of Defense policies, and to determine its eligibility for Armed Forces participation. In all cases, military participation must not interfere with military operations and training programs, and must be at no additional cost to the U.S. Government. Sponsors will consult with local military recruiters and provide, at no charge, prime space at the event site for recruiting activities. Department of Defense is unable to support events for which sponsorship is intended to make a business profit. Events which have an admission charge, or other associated charges, do not necessarily preclude military participation. Military commands cannot participate in events which charge admission unless the military participation is incidental to the event, and not the primary attraction. Incomplete forms, or forms submitted late, cannot be considered and will be returned to the sponsor's representative.

4. Requests for flyovers will be considered only for aviation-oriented events (i.e., air shows, airport anniversaries or dedication events), or for patriotic observances (one day only) held in conjunction with Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, POW/MIA Recognition Day, or Veterans Day (event must be within seven days of the actual holiday date to be considered). Flyovers, not to exceed four aircraft, may be performed by operational or training aircraft as determined by the providing Military Service. Sponsors of events other than bona fide air shows are prohibited from scheduling more than one Service to conduct the flyover. Once confirmation of participation is gained, other Services will not participate in the event. The Blue Angels and Thunderbirds do not perform flyovers. Requests for flyovers must be received for processing at least 90 days prior to the event for full consideration by the Services. Requests received closer than 30 days will not allow adequate planning for some organizations to support. Requests received 14 days or closer will not be considered. Complete Sections I - III and V - VII, and forward the form to the nearest Flight Standards District Office (FSDO) for completion of Section IV. The missing man formation will not be flown in support of any activities requested on this form. It is reserved for funeral services in honor of active duty rated/designated aviators or dignitaries of the Federal Government or as determined by the Military Services.

5. Requests for aircraft static displays will only be considered for air shows, airport events, expositions and fairs, and public events which contribute to the public knowledge of Armed Forces equipment and capabilities (including recruiting and ROTC events). Complete Sections I -III and V - VII (Section IV is not applicable when requesting static displays only). Requests may be sent from the sponsoring organization to each Service branch's public affairs office listed in paragraph 9 of these instructions. The sponsor must satisfy all safety and operational requirements for the requested aircraft. Requests received closer than 60 days (90 days for Marine Corps support) will not allow adequate planning for some organizations to support.

6. Civilian-sponsored requests for performances by a flight demonstration team (Blue Angels and Thunderbirds) will be considered only for events 6. (Continued) which are: (1) aviation oriented (i.e. air shows, airport events, historical aviation events); (2) planning civilian aviation participation; (3) open to all Military Services for participation, and (4) held during the air show season (mid-March to mid-November). A partial reimbursement cost (quarters and meals) of $6,000 per official demonstration (including any performance where admission is charged to view a team) is payable by all nonmilitary sponsors as indicated in the team support manual. Appearances on a military installation or sponsored by a military organization will only be approved in support of an official installation "open house" program (no admission charge/entrance fee). All event sponsors are required to comply with all aspects of the team support manual, as applicable. All requests for an aerial demonstration team must be received by August 1 of the year preceding the year of the event. Complete Sections I - III and V - VII, and forward the form to the nearest FAA Flight Standards District Office (FSDO) for completion of Section IV. The annual schedule will be released in December of the year prior to the season. Subsequent to public release of the schedules, teams will be rescheduled if a scheduled event is cancelled, the original sponsoring organization is changed, or the original event site is changed. Previously validated requests will automatically be reconsidered. NOTE: Blue Angels and Thunderbirds require 6,000 and 7,000 foot runways, respectively, at or within 30-50 nautical miles of the demonstration site. The Blue Angels also require arresting gear located within 80 nautical miles of the demonstration site.

7. Requests for single aircraft demonstrations (i.e., F-15, F-14, Harrier) will be considered for events as described in paragraph 6 (1) through (4) above. Army and Air Force single aircraft demonstrations must be received for processing at least 60 days prior to the event. USMC Harrier (AV-8B) and Navy demonstration requests must be received by January 31 each year. The Harrier demonstration can only be performed over a prepared hard surface or open water. (Scheduled Harrier events will receive two aircraft, one for demonstration and one for static display. Fifty gallons of distilled water must be provided for each Harrier demonstration.) Meals, lodging, and transportation for the aircrews must be provided by the sponsor.

8. Civilian-sponsored requests for the U.S. Army Parachute Team, the Golden Knights, will be considered for events such as air shows, airport dedications and anniversaries, expositions and fairs, events sponsored by the Army, and those events which contribute to the public knowledge of military and airborne operations, equipment and capabilities. All requests must be received by Army Public Affairs by October 1 of the year preceding the year of the event. Appearances on a military installation will only be approved in support of an official "open house" program. All sponsors, military and civilian, are required to reimburse the team for quarters, meals, ground transportation, and a designated rate for the jump platform (aircraft), as determined by the team, at least two weeks prior to the event (approximately $2,500 per official show day). The annual schedule will be released in mid-January (approximately 45 days after the flight demonstration teams' schedules). After the official schedule is released, the Golden Knights will consider "add on" performances if received at least 60 days prior to the date of the event. In the event of cancellations, all requests previously validated will automatically be reconsidered, as required. Complete Sections I - III and V - VII, and forward the form to the nearest FAA Flight Standards District Office (FSDO) for completion of Section IV. Please send completed request forms to the appropriate Military Service public affairs office(s) listed below.

9. Additional DD Forms 2535 may be obtained through the office(s) listed below, through the nearest military installation public affairs office, or on the Internet at http://www.dior.whs.mil/icdhome/ddeforms.htm.

a. SIGNATURE OF SPONSOR'S REPRESENTATIVE b. DATE	SIGNED (YYYYMMDD)	c. PRINT NAME AND TITLE

1. This form is used to request Armed Forces musical unit, personnel, color/ honor guard and/or exhibit/equipment participation in public events. The requested information is required to evaluate the event. Please complete all sections.

2. This form should be submitted to the appropriate Military Service (listed in right hand column) not less than 30 nor more than 90 days in advance of a scheduled program. Please realize that all Armed Forces units have specific military missions and training requirements. Participation in public programs will only be authorized when such support is in the best interests of the Department of Defense and the Military Services and does not interfere with mission or training programs. In all cases, operational commitments must take priority and can cause previously scheduled appearances to be cancelled.

3. Department of Defense policies require that Armed Forces participation in public events will be provided at no additional cost to the Government. The sponsor is required to pay, when necessary, the standard Military Services allowance for quarters and meals for all Armed Forces participants and for other services which have been determined in advance by the Military Services and agreed to by the sponsor. Transportation and meal costs are not usually incurred when support is provided from a local military installation. However, circumstances may dictate that reimbursement for any or all of these costs may be necessary. All costs are binding after a unit, personnel, or exhibit has arrived at an event site, even though weather conditions or other unforeseen circumstances force the event to be cancelled.

4. Armed Forces musical units are organized for ceremonial and traditional purposes and to support recruiting activities. However, they may be authorized to provide certain specified presentations, such as patriotic ceremonies, for public programs. Armed Forces musical organizations are not permitted to provide entertainment, background, dinner, dance or other social music at public or private events in competition with the customary or regular employment of local civilian musicians. Limited resources permit only one band and/or choir to perform at an event, and the Military Services reserve the right to cancel support to sponsors who have scheduled more than one such military unit.

5. Additional forms may be obtained on the Internet at http://www.dior.whs.mil/icdhome/ddeforms.htm, through the nearest military installation public affairs office, or from any of the military public affairs offices listed to the right. If you have questions regarding the information on this form, please call the Directorate for Programs and Community Relations between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time, Monday through Friday, holidays excepted:

Procurement

Army Contract Awards	For information relating to Department of Defense (DOD) contracting opportunities and bid preparation, direct constituents to contact the nearest DOD Small Business Specialists, Small Business Administration Office or Procurement Technical Assistance Center. DOD Small Business Specialists are located at most military bases and purchasing offices throughout the country. The principal mission is to assist small businesses in getting information that will enable them to compete for and win government contracts.
Information Regarding Contracts Prior to Award	Information concerning Federal government procurement opportunities is available at the government point-of-entry (GPE). The GPE may be accessed via the Internet at http:// www.fedbizopps.gov. Government buyers are able to publicize their business opportunities by posting information directly to FedBizOpps via the Internet. Through this site, commercial vendors seeking Federal markets for their products and services can search, monitor and retrieve opportunities solicited by the entire Federal contracting community.
Registration in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR)	DOD established a Central Contractor Registration (CCR) database to facilitate doing business with DOD activities. This database acts as a repository of information on all companies who are currently seeking to do business with DOD. To alleviate the potential for missing valuable business opportunities, it is mandatory that all vendors be registered under the CCR program. Those vendors who are not registered will not be awarded DOD contracts. Vendors can register on-line by completing an electronic questionnaire at the CCR web site at: http://www.ccr.gov. Registration applications and information packets may be obtained by contacting: CCR Assistance Center 74 Washington Avenue, N., Suite 7 Battle Creek, MI 49017-3084 (888) 227-2423 FAX (616) 961-7243

Congressional Notification Procedures for Awarded Army Contracts

> Payment Issues

Army Legislative Liaison makes daily (Monday – Friday) fax notification to members of Congress when an Army contract valued at $5 million or more is awarded to a company in a Senator's state or Representative's district. Notification will be made no earlier than 5:00 p.m. (EST) on the day of the award.

Payment issues often surface on behalf of constituents and their firms. Payment processing takes 30 days after the Defense Finance and Accounting Service receives a "proper" invoice. Most payment problems occur because the activity responsible for making payment has not received all the pertinent information on the invoice in accordance with FAR 32.905(e)(l-8). Inquiries forwarded to Army Legislative Liaison will be expedited significantly if the following information can be provided:

Company name, address, phone number and point of contact.

Invoice date, contract number, line item number, description, quantity of material delivered or service provided, unit price, unit of measure, and extended price.

Shipping and payment terms, name and address of contractor official to which the payment should be sent (must be the same as that in the contract or on a proper notice of assignment).

Name (where practicable), title, phone number and mailing address of person to be notified in the event of a defective invoice.

Any other information or documentation required by the contract (such as evidence of shipment).

The Government maintains a contractual relationship only with the prime contractor. This relationship is named "privity of contract," whereby a legal relationship exists between two parties of the contract. For example: the Government has a privity of contract relationship with the prime contractor; the prime contractor has a privity of contract relationship with the first-tier subcontractor; however, the Government does not have any legal relationship with the first-tier contractor. Consequently, the first-tier contractor must go to the prime contractor to resolve any payment, nondelivery, or other issues.

Subcontracting Issues and Concerns

Protest Issues

Any contractor or firm may protest during the contract award process. However, to protest a contract award, an interested party must submit a written objection. It may be filed either before or after the contract award. The contractor must follow strict timelines established by law and as implemented in the FAR under part 32. They may protest to either the agency (which is the recommended solution to resolve initial differences), the General Accounting Office (GAO), or through the courts.

Surplus Property

Clothing and Individual Equipment	Army policy does not permit the donation of clothing and individual equipment to veterans, civilians, or related organizations. Retired veterans, disabled retired veterans, and disabled veterans drawing a retirement due to a disability are authorized to buy articles of clothing and individual equipment from the Army Military Clothing Sales Stores (AMCSS). Persons not entitled to shop at the AMCSS may purchase items through commercial Army-Navy Surplus Stores, from individual manufacturers, or through the Defense Reutilization and Marketing Services. Requests for the names of manufacturers should be directed to: Commander Defense Personnel Support Center 2800 South 20th Street Philadelphia, PA 19101
Equipment for Use in Public Displays	The Army is authorized to donate certain items of combat equipment to civilian organizations at no expense to the Government. The costs of handling, partial demilitarization, and transportation must be paid by the recipient. The following organizations are authorized to acquire obsolete equipment for public display or ceremonial use: Municipal corporations Recognized veterans' organizations and soldiers' monument associations
	 State museums An incorporated museum operated and maintained for educational purposes only, whose charter denies it the right to operate for profit A post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States A post of the American Legion A local unit of any other recognized war veterans' association A post of the Sons of Veterans Reserve

Ceremonial Rifle Program	The Army conducts this program in accordance with Title 10, U. S. Code, Section 4683, as implemented by Army Regulation 700-131. The Secretary of the Army may conditionally lend or donate not more than 15 excess M1 Garand rifles to eligible organizations for veterans' funeral honors and other ceremonies. Individuals are not authorized to participate in this program.
Surplus Equipment	Requests for display equipment and ceremonial rifles should be sent to: Director U. S. Army Tank-automotive and Armaments Command ATTN: AMSTA-LC-CID 6501 East 11 Mile Road Warren, MI 48397-5000 (800) 325-2920, ext 48469 http://www.tacom.army.mil/donations
Loan and Lease of Army Equipment	Army equipment may be loaned to agencies of the Federal Government under provisions of the Economy Act. Other agencies, organizations, corporations, or individuals may obtain equipment under certain conditions by lease from the Army. Generally, material is not leased if the items are commercially available. Army policy is not to compete with commercial firms. If a lease is approved, payment of all Army costs, plus a fair monthly rental fee, is required.
Purchase of Other Surplus Property	The Army is no longer responsible for selling surplus personal property. The Defense Reutilization and Marketing Services performs that function and may be reached at the below address. Defense Reutilization and Marketing Services 74 Washington Avenue, North Battle Creek, MI 49017-3092 (888) 352-9333 http://www.drms.dla.mil
