LINE OF DUTY DEATHS: CONVERSATIONS WITH CHIEFS

Over the years, fire and rescue departments have learned the value of pre-incident planning and the incident management system. In this very personal program, three fire chiefs share their experiences with line-of-duty deaths. Chief Ron Siarnicki, Executive Director, Fallen Firefighters Foundation, will discuss the elements of a pre-incident plan; the application of the incident management system; and the resources available for fire departments and their families. This program will be particularly helpful for department's which are developing or revising their line-of-duty death procedures.
