Introduction

This guide is designed to give you an overview of how to effectively manage a Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) or Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) site. This program offers free tax help to people who cannot afford professional assistance.

The material includes segments on planning, site selection, and training. It also includes applicable forms and contact information. Please take time to thoroughly review the information.

We recommend that you keep this guide at your site to use as a reference. It will be updated as needed. We have designed it as a three-hole punch product so that updates as well as your own notes can be conveniently inserted.

If you have questions or need assistance with any site operation or volunteer matter, please call or email your local IRS contact. Also, you may contact our Headquarters by writing to the following address:

The IRS Mission

Provide America's taxpayers top quality service by helping them understand and meet their tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all.

You play an important role in helping the IRS accomplish this mission. As a volunteer site manager, you are providing a valuable service to your community.

The VITA program originated in 1969 as a result of an increased emphasis on taxpayer education programs due to the Tax Reform Act of 1969. Because of the success of the initial year, more emphasis was placed on expanding the program through increased recruitment of various religious, social and non-profit organizations; involvement of the military on a national level; development of specialized training materials; and expansion of assistance provided to the Spanish-speaking community.

Since implementing the volunteer income tax, assistance programs thousands of volunteers have prepared millions of tax returns for those in need of free assistance. Your volunteer work continues our tradition of providing quality community service for those in need.

Planning a Volunteer Income Tax Program

The purpose of establishing a volunteer income tax preparation site is to meet a need that is not currently being met by some other organization. Before you establish a site, it is also essential that you gather demographic information to see if people who need the free services can get to the location of the site.

As a site manager, you are responsible for planning, organizing, supervising and promoting all aspects of the community program. Your IRS contact is available to help you build an effective program. You may want to add the name, phone number, and address of your IRS contact in the directory section of this guide.

Policies and Procedures

Site managers are responsible for ensuring that VITA and TCE volunteers in each site adhere to IRS policies and procedures.

Volunteers will:

- ◆ Be properly trained on basic federal tax return preparation.
- ◆ Provide free tax assistance to all eligible taxpayers.
- ◆ Respect the confidentiality of the information on all returns.
- ◆ Decline to prepare tax returns when the accuracy of the information provided by the taxpayer is open to question.
- ◆ If trained, assist taxpayers with the preparation of state and local returns.
- ◆ Notate all returns with “VITA” or “TCE.”
- ◆ Never keep paper copies of anyone’s tax return.
- ◆ Provide a quality review of every return.
- ◆ Refer taxpayers with complicated returns to appropriate sources for assistance.
- ◆ File returns electronically whenever possible.
- ◆ Safeguard computers and software.

IRS Contacts

As you continue to plan your program it is important to acquire and keep handy the names and addresses of individuals and organizations who will assist you with your program. Listed in the directory section of this guide is a space for you to enter a few of your important contacts. Work with your IRS contact to secure all IRS information needed to communicate properly.

You will need to know the name and address of the IRS Submission Processing Campus for your area unless the taxpayer uses the self-select pin option. Encourage taxpayers who are paper filing to use the envelope provided in their tax package. A list of the submission processing campuses is included in the directory section of this guide.

If you are e filing, you are required to send copies of Forms 8453 to the IRS Submission Processing Campus unless a Self-Select PIN was used. Discuss with your IRS contact which center you should use.

Technical Assistance Contact

For Technical Assistance, call 1-800-829-VITA (8482). This IRS telephone site is for use by volunteers only. It is usually open by the end of January. Your IRS contact will provide the opening date to you. This number is also listed in the directory at the end of this guide.

Referrals

If your site is understaffed or if there is a long wait time for taxpayers, you may want to refer taxpayers to a larger or different site. Contact your IRS contact for a copy of a site list or schedule for your area. Advise taxpayers that the other sites are just another option; you cannot guarantee that the other site will be able to assist them in any faster.

If the taxpayer needs assistance on issues that you have not been trained in or that is not a topic that should be handled in the IRS Volunteer Program, refer them to an IRS office or you may advise them to seek a paid tax practitioner. Do not refer them to a specific practitioner.

Partnerships

An effective volunteer program partners with other agencies in the community to ensure all eligible taxpayers are aware of the free tax assistance program. Valuable information can be disseminated to the residents of your community by partnering with other agencies. In addition, some partnerships will actually assist you in recruiting new volunteers. Work with your local IRS office to determine potential partners for your area.

Community Based Partnerships

Building Assets

Awareness and Education

- ◆ Help low-income workers learn about and file for Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and the Child Tax Credit.
- ◆ Design promotional products and distribute through partnership channels.

Tax Preparation Sites

- ◆ Assist low-income workers with free filing of their tax returns to ensure that they receive Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and other federal and state tax credits they are eligible for.
- ◆ Support community organizations that preserve the value of EITC.

Asset Building

- ◆ Assist families in using the EITC as a gateway to affordable accessible financial services.
- ◆ Provides financial literacy training.

Benefits

One of the most important -and least expensive - ways the community can help low-income working families is by informing them about, and helping them file for, the Earned

Income Tax Credit and the Child Tax Credit. These refundable credits can provide thousands of dollars to families to improve their standard of living and provide an asset-building opportunity.

A New Approach

This reflects a philosophical change in working with low-income families. Rather than providing a safety net and government assistance to sustain families while in poverty, the new approach focuses on providing the ability to accumulate assets and move out of poverty to self-sufficiency.

How Can Your Organization Help?

You can join other community organizations in a Community Based Partnership that links earned income and child tax credit education, free tax preparation and asset building. This coalition will emphasize greater coordination of existing services, leveraging of community resources, and community collaboration and outreach to assist low and moderate-income families.

Recruiting Volunteers

Recruiting volunteers is a year-round activity. The IRS will assist you in preparing news releases and with other recruitment efforts. You may also order posters, brochures and flyers from the IRS and distribute them at convenient community locations. Other recruitment efforts may include making speeches at work, church or civic meetings; writing articles for newsletters; and making media appeals. Some sample news releases are located in the publicity section of this book.

Interviewing Potential Volunteers

Screening and interviewing potential volunteers facilitate their commitment to the volunteer program. It shows the potential volunteer that you take both their time and the program seriously. It also gives you the opportunity to match the volunteer's qualifications with your needs. An interview is also the best time to define the volunteers' availability.

Below are some suggested interview questions. You can use these questions or develop our own.

- ◆ Why are you interested in volunteering for this program?
- ◆ Are you currently involved in any other volunteer programs? What kind? What do you like most about the duties you do there?
- ◆ Have you been involved in volunteer programs in the past? What is your fondest memory of your volunteer duties?
- ◆ Do you know what type of duties you would like to do for our program?
- ◆ Do you like to have face-to-face contact with others or do you prefer a position that lets you work behind the scenes?
- ◆ Do you have any tax training? What kind? Have you prepared returns before?
- ◆ Do you have good organizational skills?
- ◆ Do you have basic computer skills?
- ◆ Are you willing (and able) to attend tax and computer training?
- ◆ Would you prefer tangible or intangible rewards for your efforts?
- ◆ What area do you feel gifted in?
- ◆ When are you available? Would you prefer to work at the volunteer site or from your home? (Home duties would most likely be publicity or reports)
- ◆ Do you have any marketing or publicity skills?
- ◆ Are you multi-lingual? Do you know sign language?
- ◆ Do you enjoy teaching others new skills?
- ◆ Can you tactfully provide constructive feedback to others?
- ◆ Describe your ideal volunteer position.

To assist you in matching a volunteer to a job, we developed sample Position Descriptions. We included details of behaviors and attributes needed to perform the requested job skills. You may think of other volunteer positions for your site, such as childcare provider or room set-up person. While these volunteers would not be required to complete the technical training, they must provide their services without charge.

Position Descriptions

The Position Descriptions include:

- ◆ A brief outline of the volunteer Program
- ◆ A stated Purpose of Position
- ◆ Estimates on the Length of Appointment to use in determining commitment required
- ◆ Detailed Responsibilities
- ◆ Qualifications desired for the position
- ◆ Support Available in helping the volunteer perform the duties and meet the responsibilities of the position
- ◆ Estimated Time Required to perform duties

Volunteer site managers can use the following Position Descriptions in planning target recruitment campaigns and in determining recognition ideas specific to duties performed. Volunteer site managers should keep in mind that not all volunteer sites need or can staff all of the positions outlined and that more than one critical position may need to be shared by the same volunteer.

Time Required:

- The exact time required depends on number of VITA/TCE sites that request the need for interpreter services or the number of special sites offering a specific interpreter skill.

Identifying and Evaluating Potential Sites

A primary issue to consider in locating a site is the make-up of the neighborhood's population as compared to VITA or TCE eligibility requirements. Consideration should also be given to existing free tax services in the area. Make sure that the taxpayer base can support your site.

The most successful sites are:

- ◆ Set up in public places convenient to the target populations
- ◆ Are convenient to public transportation or parking
- ◆ Have no evident security risks
- ◆ Are handicapped accessible

Once a determination has been made that a neighborhood would benefit from a volunteer tax assistance program, the next step is to find a suitable space for the site. Note: You are not authorized by the Internal Revenue Service to sign indemnity clause contracts. The government is self-insured and cannot enter into "hold harmless" agreements. If a sponsor or other organization insists that a contract is necessary before you use their space, please call your IRS contact for assistance.

Here is a list of facilities where sites have been successfully located:

- ◆ Banks
- ◆ Churches and other places of worship
- ◆ City halls
- ◆ Social service agencies (i.e. community action agencies)
- ◆ Colleges
- ◆ Community centers
- ◆ Courthouses
- ◆ Cultural centers
- ◆ Government offices
- ◆ Libraries
- ◆ Malls and shopping centers
- ◆ Nursing homes
- ◆ Retirement community centers
- ◆ Seniors centers
- ◆ YMCAs or YWCA
- ◆ Grocery or Discount Marts

In evaluating the suitability of a particular location, please keep the following in mind:

- ◆ The space must be rent free to the IRS.
- ◆ Sites that are located near other types of assistance, such as human resource services, voter registration, or driver's license applications, will draw heavier traffic and often have built-in security and other required amenities already in place. In addition, the space must be evaluated in terms of desirable physical characteristics.
- ◆ IRS also, supports Co-located sites

Co-located Sites: A co-located VITA site is a site that is located in close proximity (usually within one mile) to a Taxpayers Assistance Center and assists the overflow of taxpayers needing tax return preparation assistance.

Ideally, sites:

- ◆ Provide privacy for volunteer tax assistants and taxpayers to work together.
- ◆ Have telephones nearby so volunteers can call the toll-free IRS Hotline for technical assistance.
- ◆ Have adequate space, including a waiting area for taxpayers.
- ◆ Have adequate light, ventilation, and acceptable heating and cooling.
- ◆ Have adequate storage space for materials and/or computers when applicable.
- ◆ Are near restrooms that can be used by both the volunteers and taxpayers.
- ◆ Are accessible to persons with disabilities. Sites should be located on the ground floor of buildings or on a floor that is served by an elevator.
- ◆ Are places where taxpayers and volunteers alike feel comfortable?
- ◆ Have access to electricity
- ◆ Have tables and chairs for site use

Federal Forms and Publications

The Form 2333V, Volunteer Order Form, is used to order both training and site material. It is preferable that you use a separate form for each type of order. Each year this form is updated to reflect changes and availability of tax forms. It is important to use the most current form. Usually the revision date of the most recent form will be August, September, or October. For example, the current form has a revision date of August 2002. Next year you would use a form with a revision date of August, September, or October 2003.

Ask your IRS contact for the most current version of the Form 2333V. Use the following guidelines when completing the form.

Remember, new tax law material is not available before Dec. 1 of each year. Please circle the calendar (filing) year, 2001, or 2002, of the tax forms and publications that you are requesting. If there is a question on availability, check with your IRS SPEC, Contact.

Completing the Order Forms:

Look at the order form; take time to review the categories and items listed on the order forms. Enter information in each area where needed. Each grouping of forms is titled by type. For instance, the catalog number (CAT NO) is printed on Forms, 2333V in the space preceding the area where the quantity (QTY) of the items needed is listed. Opposite the QTY, area is the form number/name of the item requested. Determine the quantity needed and enter in the QTY. If you are ordering an item not shown on the form, you must write in the catalog number, quantity, and item name/number in the Other section of Forms 2333V or on Form 2333X. The 2333X is used to order items not listed on the Form 2333V.

Submitting Your Order

Orders on Form 2333V may be faxed, mailed, or telephoned to the IRS Territory Office for approval. Make sure all orders are legible. The SPEC Tax Specialist or manager in your geographical area will provide address and phone number to you

Also, only order the quantities you need of each product. DO NOT write in packages or boxes. Most items are classified as each. However, some items are in pads or packages of 50 or more. Quantities are indicated in parenthesis on the Form 2333V whenever the quantity is more than one.

Mail

Orders may be mailed to your local SPEC office to the address provided to you by your local SPEC contact.

Other Ordering Tips

Orders should be submitted as much in advance as possible.

Volunteer Site Managers/Coordinators must submit orders directly to their territory manager or other SPEC contact person.

All products not in stock will automatically be placed on back order and shipped when available. No action is required on your part unless the "last date an item can be accepted has expired". All items on backorder will cancel 2 days prior to the "last date the order can be accepted". If you have not received the product within two days of the date needed you will need to reorder that item (s).

You must complete a separate order form for each address to which you want an order sent. If you are ordering the same item and quantity for multiple locations, you may attach a listing of addresses. You must indicate in the shipping address section: "See Attached List". See the instructions for Form 2333V for more information.

Trouble Shooting Tips

Received a double order? This usually means that the IRS received your order more than once. Be sure that you do not fax or send in the same order twice.

More products than you can use this filing season? Call IRS Office to find out your disposal options.

Form 2333V Instructions:

- ◆ Box 1: Enter the current date.
- ◆ Box 2: Enter the name of the person to whom the order will be shipped.
- ◆ Box 3: Enter the daytime telephone number of the person in Box 2.
- ◆ Box 4: Enter the date the order is needed. You will probably want to fill in a date about 3 days prior to the actual needed date to allow for an unexpected delay. Please allow as much lead-time as possible (preferably 21 days).
- ◆ Box 5: Enter the delivery location: building, room, floor, etc.
- ◆ Box 6: Enter the street address. Do not use a post office box address. Private delivery companies are used to ship orders.
- ◆ Box 7: Enter the city, state, and zip code.
- ◆ Box 8: Enter the last date the order can be accepted. We recommend you enter April 15th for site material.
- ◆ Box 9: Check whether the order is for training or site material. Remember that you need separate forms for each type of order.
- ◆ Box 10: Be sure to indicate if a Form 2333X, Attachment Sheet, or other sheet is included.
- ◆ Boxes 11, 12, & 13. Leave blank for IRS use only.
- ◆ Box 14: Please write in the year, 2001 or 2002, calendar (filing) year of the tax forms and publications that you are ordering for.
- ◆ Box 15: Leave blank for IRS use only

Training Material

Training material should be ordered at least four weeks prior to your training class. The following should be ordered for each student:

- ◆ 1 - Pub 678, Student Guide (The test, plastic bag and Pub 1977, IRS Volunteer Quick Reference Guide and the Tax Forms Booklet Appendix, Publication 3657, are included in the shrink wrap).
- ◆ 1 - Doc 6656, EIC Job Aid (usually not available until mid February).
- ◆ 1 - Pub 2192, e-file Easy Reference Guide (for all volunteers who will e-file).
- ◆ 1 - Pub 17, Your Federal Income Tax for Individuals.

Site Material

Important Message: All VITA/TCE sites must use the IRS Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ with the pre-printed VITA/TCE acronyms on them for manually prepared returns. For more information on the importance of using the VITA/TCE acronym, please review the reporting section of this guide in the last chapter.

Site material should be ordered no later than December 1. During the filing season, the site manager should track the supply of forms and order additional material when needed. When using electronic filing software the computer automatically produces both federal and state income tax forms. E-file sites should not need a large number of paper forms.

State Forms

You must order your individual state Department of Revenue forms separately. Your local IRS contact may have state order forms or the name and phone number of an individual who can assist you with securing state forms. Some IRS offices make arrangements for your first order. When using electronic filing software the computer automatically produces both federal and state income tax forms.

We have listed state taxation office telephone numbers in the directory section of this guide. You may want to circle the contact for your state and for states that border your location.

Supplies

For VITA Sites Only: The IRS may have a limited amount of supplies for your use in your site; These supplies include pens, pencils, erasers, scratch paper, copy paper, staplers, calculators, etc. Please contact your IRS office if you are not able to obtain these types of items from your site sponsor.

Federal and State Tax Training

Volunteer income tax training is normally conducted during the months of December or January. However, VITA sites that are electronically filing tax returns may use prior year software to conduct training earlier for new volunteers. Early e-file training usually gives your less experienced volunteers an added incentive to complete the technical portion of the training later on. Many coordinators elect to have early e-file classes so that they can open e-file sites the third week in January (normally when electronically filed returns are first accepted by the IRS).

- ◆ Select your dates, you may allow up to 40 hours for typical VITA/TCE technical training sessions. Plan an additional 4-8 hours for software training.
- ◆ Choose a training facility that is conducive to learning. Many community organizations, office complexes, educational institutions, and other agencies have classroom type space available for community projects. Use the same standards for selecting your training site as you use for site selection.
- ◆ Identify qualified instructors early. Many professional tax practitioner associations, banks, government entities, and corporate offices have tax departments that may have members who are willing to serve as volunteer instructors. You may find phone numbers and addresses via the Internet or local phone directory. To find the right people ask for the Public Affairs, Communications Officer, or Human Resources Department. They normally will be able to steer you in the right direction.
- ◆ Alert your local IRS contact as soon as possible of your training plans. You may use the VITA/TCE training request form following the Site Information section. Also, submit training dates, training material, and instructor needs with your request. Do not hesitate to ask for assistance if needed.

Quality Review

VITA and TCE volunteers are dedicated to providing quality, free tax assistance to taxpayers who require their assistance.

The quality review process helps ensure the high accuracy standards. Because sites are unique with varying numbers of volunteers serving a variety of taxpayers, there are at least four methods of quality review.

- ◆ Volunteer accurately prepares the return and checks own work.
- ◆ Another volunteer reviews the completed return.
- ◆ The site manager designates a specific person to quality review all returns.
- ◆ Volunteer double checks data with taxpayer as each entry is made.

Do not send tax returns to the IRS office in Quality Review Envelopes unless directed to do so by your local IRS contact.

Site Information/ Site Lists

The IRS goal is to have all site locations, days, and hours of operation entered into the IRS site database for use by IRS toll-free customer service representatives, Media Relations, and internet listings by January 1 of each year. This will facilitate advance publicity of your site(s) and allow your local IRS office, to assist you in advertising your site(s) during the filing season.

Each year you must complete a site information sheet indicating the location, days, and hours of operation of your site(s). Return this information to your local IRS contact. Many offices produce hardcopy flyers, brochures, and booklets to place in libraries, social service agencies, and other community access locations to further publicize your site(s). In order to include your site information in applicable lists most IRS offices require that you submit site data no later than December 1.

If you do not know the exact days or hours your site will be open, annotate that section as TBD (to be determined). If at all possible, include a telephone number for taxpayers to call to check on hours of operation. As soon as the exact days and hours are determined, complete an updated sheet and return to the IRS contact.

Staffing and Site Set-up

Identify and schedule your volunteers to work as soon as possible. Give each volunteer a copy of his/her schedule. Some volunteers are willing to work more than the scheduled time. You may want to establish a stand-by system where these volunteers will be on call to fill in behind absent volunteers. Where possible you should designate alternate site managers, receptionists, and publicity workers prior to the site opening. This will insure that someone is available to take on the responsibilities required to operate an efficient site and will allow you some flexibility in scheduling your time. When possible give each volunteer his or her schedule prior to the site opening. You may give this information to them by phone, e-mail, fax, or at a meeting prior to your opening date. A volunteer schedule and sample letter are included in this booklet on pages 40 & 41.

Make sure to go over the various duties and responsibilities with the volunteers as a group and individually with each volunteer who has a management role.

Volunteers should report to the site manager upon arrival. The site manager keeps track of the volunteers working at the site and reports monthly to the local IRS Territory Manager or designee.

Designate a check-in space for taxpayers to sign up for services. Someone should be assigned to greet the taxpayers as they walk in and explain the type services that the site offers. You should place posters in this area specifying the type of services offer.

Some site managers use an interview sheet so that the taxpayers can enter name, social security number, and income information to speed up the return preparation process.

Supplies are placed in convenient receptacles for the volunteer tax preparer's use.

Electronic Filing

There are specific requirements for electronic filing. For more information, please refer to publication 2192, IRS Volunteer Easy Reference Guide and Publication 3189, e-file Handbook. These items can be ordered on the Form 2333V.

Sample Letter to Send to New Volunteers

Publicity

Suggested news releases for new volunteers and site locations are included below. Your IRS contact can provide assistance on contacting the media as well as preparing news releases.

Free Tax Help from IRS Trained Volunteers

Both federal and state tax help is now available from IRS trained volunteers at one of the many Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) sites in your community. VITA volunteers assist low-income, elderly, disabled, and non-English speaking taxpayers with their tax returns.

Volunteers receive training from the IRS in the preparation of basic state and federal tax returns. They also can complete most of the common forms and schedules such as the earned income credit and child tax credit.

Taxpayers who visit a VITA site should bring this year's tax package, all wage and earnings statements (Form W), all interest statements (Form 1099-INT), and any other relevant information about income and expenses.

In this area, volunteers are available at the following locations:
(Insert your site locations)

VITA Offers Free Tax Assistance

Did you find last year's tax form confusing? You may be eligible for free help through VITA, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program, sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service. Help with basic income tax returns will be offered by trained VITA volunteers at the following location(s).

Taxpayers who visit a VITA site should bring this year's tax package, all wage and earnings statements (Form W-2), all interest statements (Form 1099-INT), and any other relevant information about their income and expenses.

Volunteers Needed To Help People File Tax Returns

Do you enjoy meeting and helping people? Do you want a chance to do something interesting and at the same time feel a real sense of accomplishment? If the answer is yes, then the Internal Revenue Service Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program is for you.

VITA is a program that involves volunteers helping taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax assistance. As a VITA volunteer, you will help people who probably need tax help the most... those with low to limited income, individuals with disabilities, non-English speaking, and elderly taxpayers.

Volunteers are needed to organize and manage sites, arrange publicity, and prepare the tax returns. An accounting background can be helpful, although it's not necessary. The only requirement is a willingness to learn something new and a desire to help others.

IRS certified instructors provide VITA volunteers with free instruction and all training materials necessary to prepare basic income tax returns. Training is normally conducted during the month of January at locations convenient for volunteers and instructors alike.

Now is the time to sign up as a volunteer. If you or your organization is interested in volunteering or if you want more information, please contact:

Recognition Activities

People exhibit three types of motivation: affiliation, achievement, and power/influence. By keying in on your volunteer's motivation, you can personalize your recognition program. The characteristics of each type of motivation are listed below:

Affiliation

- ◆ Gets involved with group projects
- ◆ Likes to have a personal relationship with supervisor
- ◆ Needs to be perceived as a good person and be liked
- ◆ Seeks socialization opportunities – needs personal interaction

Achievement

- ◆ Needs specific goals with boundaries and feedback
- ◆ Has a desire to achieve unique accomplishments
- ◆ Works well alone
- ◆ Needs feedback and tangible rewards
- ◆ Sticks to tasks until they are completed

Influence

- ◆ Needs to impact and influence others
- ◆ Enjoys teaching others
- ◆ Can respond to the needs of people or programs
- ◆ Seeks positions of authority and responds to titles that depict authority
- ◆ Has strong feelings about status and prestige
- ◆ Is a self starter and is persuasive
- ◆ Can work alone or in a group

Realizing and integrating recognition into what motivates volunteers, results in people feeling rewarded, valued, and good about the volunteer program as a whole. This in turn affects your whole program because volunteers will:

- ◆ Stay longer
- ◆ Tell others good things about the program
- ◆ Establish lines of trust
- ◆ Are more receptive to change
- ◆ Help make the program more effective
- ◆ Grow as individuals

Recognition activities do not have to be expensive. Many times frequent low-cost items will provide the continued motivation your volunteers need. Below is a list of very low cost recognition ideas that you can use throughout the filings season. These are just a few ideas that you can use with your volunteers. Feel free to develop your own low cost recognition ideas.

- ◆ Give each volunteer a small candle. Attach a note that says, "You helped make someone's day brighter."
- ◆ Give each volunteer a small heart shaped candy. Attach a note that says, "Thank you for having a big heart."
- ◆ Give each volunteer a miniature can of Play-Dough. Attach a note that says, "Your help is worth a lot of dough."
- ◆ Give each volunteer a mint with a note attached that says, "You're worth a mint."

Reporting VITA/TCE Volunteers and Important Overprinted Forms Information

Effective 10-1-02 volunteers are no longer required to report the number of taxpayers assisted and other data previously established on Form 6522 (Volunteer Assistance Report). However, individual IRS Territory Offices may ask for statistical or other information to determine the type service provided to a particular area.

Volunteer Site or other Coordinators must report the number of volunteers to IRS Territory Managers monthly, when applicable, using Form 13206 (Volunteer Assistance Summary Report).

This report is designed to capture the date of the report, the identifying site code, the name and address of the site and the site coordinator/manager's name.

Site Coordinator's/Managers are asked to report monthly, when applicable, the total number of volunteers previously counted, new volunteers, and the total volunteers reported this filing season. See Form on pages 50 and 51.

Important Information:

IRS will capture the number of tax returns prepared using information from the IRS, Individual Master File (IMF) report. The IMF report tracks the number of tax returns that are processed that have the VITA or TCE acronym printed or entered in the preparer's section of the tax return. To make sure that we capture each volunteer prepared return we ask that you make sure that your site has an adequate supply of the overprinted Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ at the site.

Also for returns prepared electronically, we ask that the correct defaults are used or that you manually enter the correct acronym so that the return will be properly counted. Listed below are specific instructions for the use of overprinted forms.

OVERPRINT INSTRUCTIONS

It is very important that all VITA and TCE volunteers ensure that the federal returns they prepare are documented per the instructions below. The Internal Revenue Service captures the number of federal returns prepared by the volunteer programs through a report called the IMF (Individual Master File) Verification Report that is reported as part of the Service' overall accomplishments.

In order for these returns to be captured on the IMF report, "VITA or TCE" must be marked, written or stamped on the form under the space provided for the taxpayer's signature. There are two methods to file a VITA or TCE return at a site.

1. Paper returns-These returns should be prepared on the VITA/TCE overprint form.
2. Electronic returns-These returns are filed electronically using the IRS approved

TaxWise software package.

The following procedures must be used when returns are prepared at a VITA or TCE site. The Overprint Forms 1040EZ, 1040A and 1040 should be ordered and received before each site opens for the filing season. The supporting territory office will assist you with ordering these forms. The overprint forms are identified by the large "VITA/TCE" acronym located on the return, directly below the taxpayer's signature section.

The following is an example of what should be included on an overprint form:

Sign Here Joint return? See page 21. Keep a copy for your records	Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this return and accompanying schedules and statements, and to the best of my knowledge and belief, they are true, correct, and accurately list all amounts and sources of income I received during the tax year. Declaration of preparer (other than the taxpayers) is based on all information of which the preparer has any knowledge.			Daytime phone number (    )

VITA/TCE Site Code _____
(REMINDER: circle "VITA" or "TCE")

Form 1040A

The IRS territory office will explain the procedures on how to use the territory site code. If you are working in a TCE site you should circle "TCE". If you are working at a VITA site you should circle "VITA".

If your site has run out of these forms or the orders were not received in a timely fashion, each volunteer is responsible for writing, marking or stamping "VITA or TCE", whichever applies, in big bold letters in the preparers section of each return.

Here is an example on how to print, mark or stamp on a regular form 1040A in the paid preparer's section:

Sign Here Joint return? See page 21. Keep a copy for your records	Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have examined this return and accompanying schedules and statements, and to the best of my knowledge and belief, they are true, correct, and accurately list all amounts and sources of income I received during the tax year. Declaration of preparer (other than the taxpayers) is based on all information of which the preparer has any knowledge.
	Your signature	Date	Your occupation	Daytime phone number
Paid Preparer's Use Only	Spouse's signature	Date	Spouse's occupation	May the IRS discuss this return with the preparer shown below (see page 50)? Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/>
	Preparer's signature	Date	Check if Self-employed	Preparer's SSN or PTIN
	Firm's name (or yours if self-employed), Address, & Zip code			EIN
				Phone no.

Preparers Edition

Electronically Filed Returns

VITA or TCE electronic filing sites will prepare returns electronically using the approved TaxWise software package. Note: The only time a volunteer should be using the approved TaxWise software package to file a paper return is when the return has been rejected and the software will not accept the return electronically. All other returns completed using the TaxWise software package should be electronically filing by that site. Each site that uses this approved software must follow the instructions to set up their computers to automatically indicate the VITA or TCE acronym in the Paid Preparer's section of each return. The instructions are located in Publication 3189, "Volunteer e-file Handbook" in the section entitled, "Tax Form Defaults-Main Information Sheet". The set-up must be completed on your computer (one time) at the beginning of each filing season unless you are a combined (TCE & VITA site. In this case the default must be completed at the beginning of each VITA or TCE site.

After the electronic or paper returns are prepared each volunteer should review the copies of each return(s) printed for the taxpayer to ensure these returns are marked with the correct acronym(s). If it is not, for paper returns, each volunteer must write, mark or stamp "VITA or TCE", which ever applies, in big bold letters in the Paid Preparer's section of each return. For returns prepared by the TaxWise System, (paper or electronic returns) as stated above, the Tax Form Defaults under the Main information sheet should be set again using publication 3189, however, if you are experiencing problems with your TaxWise Software set up application, please contact the appropriate Stakeholder, Partnerships, Education and Communication (SPEC) territory office employee for resolution.

If the taxpayer inquires about the VITA/TCE designation, volunteers should explain that this is merely a way of counting his or her return as one prepared by a VITA or TCE site. This does not affect the likelihood of an IRS examination (audit) of the taxpayer's return.

BOTTOM LINE

Each paper or e-file return should be identified with the appropriate "VITA or TCE" acronym. This will ensure that all volunteer prepared returns are correctly counted once received by the Internal Revenue Service. If neither the VITA or TCE acronym is circled on an overprint form it will default to be counted as a VITA prepared return, however, if the TaxWise default is not set to include the acronym on a paper generated return, it will not be credited to our volunteer program.
