These medicines all have one thing in common...

...the same active ingredient.

Taking too much of the same active ingredient increases your risk of unwanted side effects.

Read labels. Ask questions.

