

July 26-1997

Dear Sir,

I think changing the late present label is a A read on the American public.

Literalyzing the U.S.-origin standard would unleash an onslaught of misleading marketing claims on unwary shoppers - it would be confusing to a lot of our consumers -

The made-in-the USA label should be reserved for items that are actually manufactured here - I always read the label. when I purchase merchandise. Keep it like it is. Thanks

Marilyn J. Keir
 1885 Quinlan Rd
 Washington, D.C.
 66968