I work as a tech for a small but very busy computer store.
We on average have to repair 3 customers computers a week that have become a useless can.
All because of spyware and poorly written adware which take over the computer completely.

 It brings in money for sure but either way should be outlawed because it gets so bad at times a complete reinstall is needed.
Which by the way does not make us any money we lose money in time lost in trying to fix.
Many business's come in with such repairs and all say one thing this spyware should be outlawed.

I'm sure you use a computer and have seen this adware/spyware cause problems or have someone you personally know who has.

Please look into this and help before it gets even worse which it will.
