These companies are breaking into out houses. Their intruders. Not much difference than somebody walking into your house. Spam companies should be fined so bad that it breaks them. Or consumers should be able to bounce back and take down these companies computers down. They are scamming bastards that all executives should be shot, butchered and used for dog food . These companies are the scum of the earth. xxx bastards. If i did not ask for it do not send it. If i want you in my house i will invite you in, otherwise your breaking and entering, Please supply me the e-mail address of these companies so i can load their mail box with xxx mail.
