

Mon 5/17/2004

I work in a computer repair shop. The computers that we repair with spy ware and ad ware are starting to be worse than those that are affected with viruses. We have to format more and more computers because they are so drowned with spy ware and it is the only way to completely get this junk out of their systems. It is sickening to have to put up with this kind of junk just to enjoy time on the internet.

Laura Gonzales