

Free Audio Conference and Web Seminar:

How Schools Work and How to Work with Schools on a Health Issue

Featured speakers:

Jim Bogden, Project Director
National Association of School Boards of Education (NASBE)
Alexandria, Virginia

Brenda Greene, Director of School Health Programs
National School Boards Association (NSBA)
Alexandria, Virginia

- ◆ Learn how schools work at the district, state, and national levels.
- ◆ Learn practical ways to work with educators, administrators, and policy makers.
- ◆ Increase your understanding of where policy and decisions are made in the educational system.

It's FREE and easy to participate:

- ◆ Listen via telephone or Internet.
- ◆ View presentation via Internet.
- ◆ Exchange ideas or ask questions at designated times.

RSVP to webseminar@cdc.gov by August 18, 2004.

(Instructions for audio participation and viewing will be e-mailed to registrants.)

Be among the first 10 to RSVP and receive a free copy of the NASBE report, How Schools Work and How to Work with Schools.

Co-sponsored by the National Youth Violence
Prevention Resource Center

August 25, 2004

1 p.m. – 3 p.m. EST

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
National Center for Injury Prevention and Control
Contact Information: 770-488-1103 or SHurley@cdc.gov