The Air Force has a well-established complaint program, which allows you to present a complaint at any level in the Inspector General (IG) system. We are ready to help you quickly and fairly. No one may take action against you just because you've complained. If you think someone has acted against you because you've complained, tell us!

AFI 90-301, Inspector General Complaints, describes the IG Complaint Program, how to register a complaint, and to whom you should talk. Although you may speak to an IG at any level, experience has shown that those best equipped to resolve complaints are your commanders and supervisors. I encourage you to give them a chance to help.
