The bottom line is simple. You need to ask yourself a simple question...

"Do I want someone coming into my home without my knowledge or consent and putting tiny camera's and tape recorders all over the place for someone else's profit?"

Well, my computer and phone should be considered the same as any other point of personal property. It doesn't matter if a company is "offering" me a better service. If they do it without my consent, it's wrong. Period.

I wish I was more articulate. Sometimes I think simple folks like me don't get much of a say when it comes to matters like this.

Please ban spy/ad/malware. Please penalize companies who profit from it heavily. It's insidious. And we need help!

Thank you for you time.
