The damage done by spy-ware and other things like it should be considered criminal. They are making changes to MY computer, MY property! Without my permission!

It's as if one night someone takes the engine out of my car and replaces it with a lawn mower engine. This is not just harmless information like spam, which is simply annoying.

These programs inserted into my OS keep me from running my computer based business effectively. They cost me and the IRS $$$$.

Congress on both the state and federal level should take action and take it now....
