"Spyware" is turning using a computer into something only people formally educated in using a computer can use. I run three different programs: Ad-aware, Spybot - Search & Destroy, and "a squared," weekly if not daily. I must have an antivirus program (I use McAfee), regularly updated, as well. I'm regularly called to the deskside of fellow computer users, to help them remove spyware from their computers. First-amendment rights do not apply to spywere!
