

From: Ross M. Enyart
Posted At: Sunday, May 16, 2004 11:14 AM
Posted To: spywareworkshop2004
Conversation: Spyware Workshop - Comment, P044509
Subject: Spyware Workshop - Comment, P044509

To Whom It May Concern:

I am an unconventional college student that has to spend hours on my computer. I work in two local colleges in computer labs. I talk to students everyday about computer problems. The number one problem I hear is their computer is slowing down or not working correctly, and they do not know why. I explain to them about spyware, and adware, how it installs without their knowledge. What programs to use to help control the intrusion, they come back and tell me thanks. I am continually removing spy-ware, and ad-ware, on the computer in the labs that I work in.

I am angry having to spend so much of my precious free time keeping spy-ware, and ad-ware off my computer. My computer represents a large investment to me and it is an invaluable tool for my college studies. When I enter the workforce I will continue to be using computers most of my working and private time. Please pass laws to stop this intrusion into our lives. My computer is private property. Would you allow someone to erect a sign in your yard without asking first?

Respectfully yours,
Ross M. Enyart
OR