gentlepersons, As a taxpayer, a member of the internet, and a consumer on the internet I would care to voice my opinion, for your consideration as you make your decisions about adware and spyware limitations. I do not believe that any corporation or individual has the right to bundle any extra programs onto or into another program without my express permission; and this permission must be clearly explained, up front, easily readable, simply put and included with the option to deny all bundled in adware and spyware without default...

Thank You
