I am totally against spyware. It's caused so many problems with my computer. It runs so slow now that I would trash it and get a new one , But the only way to cure the problem is to stay off the web! I can't find these programs on my computer so I can get rid of them. It's like having somebody ransack your home while your in it! Why can't they stop these people from invading our machines without us even knowing it's being done? Secure sites aren't secure when you've got stuff like this going on! I'll never enjoy my time surfing on the web like I used to.

Thanks for the opportunity to let us speak! I suppose this is all being reported to someone using spyware! How do I know???
