Sirs:

We spend several hours and quite a expense each week ridding our PC of spyware and adware. When our business e-mail program or our web site is hacked, we feel as if a stranger has invaded our home. As a small business owner, staying afloat is hard enough with out spending time and money keeping invaders out.

Please help to put a stop to this, I don't want strangers looking into my mail and business as I am sure you wouldn't want invaders in yours.

Regards,

Mark A. Dunfee
