The internet use to be one of the most useful tools we had but now thanks to Spyware it's becoming useless.

Being an IT professional I'm finding myself spending HOURS upon HOURS cleaning the stuff off of computers. Besides being annoying, Spyware causes performance problems and sometimes renders computers inoperable and your only option left is to reformat and reload your PC.

To me there is no difference in a website loading unsolicited software on my computer and breaking into my house.

Spyware is no different from Viruses!!

Please do something about this terrible problem.

Thank You
