

TABLE OF CONTENTS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY .....	i
I. INTRODUCTION .....	1
A. President’s June 1, 1999 Request for a Study and the FTC’s Response .....	1
B. Public Concerns About Entertainment Media Violence .....	1
C. Overview of the Commission’s Study .....	2
Focus on Self-Regulation .....	2
Structure of the Report .....	3
Sources .....	4
II. THE MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY SELF-REGULATORY SYSTEM .....	4
A. Scope of Commission’s Review .....	5
B. Operation of the Motion Picture Self-Regulatory System .....	6
1. The rating process .....	6
2. Review of advertising for content and rating information .....	8
C. Issues Not Addressed by the Motion Picture Self-Regulatory System .....	10
1. Accessibility of reasons for ratings .....	10
2. Advertising placement standards .....	11
III. MARKETING MOVIES TO CHILDREN .....	12
A. Background .....	12
B. Marketing R-Rated and PG-13-Rated Films to Children .....	13
1. Television advertising .....	14
R-rated films .....	14
PG-13-rated films .....	15
2. Trailers .....	15
3. Promotional and “street marketing” .....	17
R-rated films .....	17
PG-13-rated films .....	17
4. Radio and print advertising .....	17
5. Internet marketing .....	18
C. Box Office Enforcement .....	19
D. Retailing of Movie Videos .....	20

IV.	THE MUSIC RECORDING INDUSTRY PARENTAL ADVISORY LABELING PROGRAM	21
	A. Scope of Commission’s Review	22
	B. Operation of the Music Recording Labeling Program	23
	1. The labeling process	23
	2. The use of the advisory label on packaging	24
	3. “Clean” versions	25
	C. Issues Not Addressed by the Music Recording Labeling Program	26
	1. Access to important information about explicit recordings	26
	2. The placement of an advisory on digital music	28
	3. Advertising disclosure and placement standards	28
	D. Recent Changes to the Music Recording Labeling Program	30
V.	MARKETING MUSIC RECORDINGS TO CHILDREN	30
	A. Background	30
	B. Marketing Explicit Content Recordings to Children	31
	1. Print advertising	31
	2. Television promotions – cable music channels	32
	3. Other television advertisements	32
	4. Internet marketing	33
	5. Street marketing	33
	6. Radio	34
	7. Licensing	34
	C. Retailing of Music Recordings	35
VI.	THE ELECTRONIC GAME INDUSTRY SELF-REGULATORY SYSTEM	36
	A. Scope of Commission’s Review	37
	B. Operation of the Electronic Game Self-Regulatory System	38
	1. The rating process	38
	2. Requirements for packaging, advertising, and marketing	39
	a. Disclosure of rating information on product packaging and in advertising	39
	b. Limits on violent content in advertising	42
	c. Limits on marketing to minors	44
VII.	MARKETING ELECTRONIC GAMES TO CHILDREN	44
	A. Background	44
	B. Marketing M-Rated Games to Children	45
	1. Print advertising	47
	2. Television advertising	48
	3. Internet marketing	49
	C. Marketing T-Rated Games to Children	49
	D. Licensing Products Based on M- and T-Rated Games	50
	E. Retailing of Electronic Games	51

VIII. CONCLUSION .....	52
Industry should establish or expand codes that prohibit target marketing and impose sanctions for violations .....	54
Industry should improve self-regulatory system compliance at the retail level . . . .	55
Industry should increase parental awareness of the ratings and labels .....	55
ENDNOTES .....	57

APPENDIX A:	A Review of Research on the Impact of Violence in Entertainment Media
APPENDIX B:	Children as Consumers of Entertainment Media: Media Usage, Marketing Behavior and Influences, and Ratings Effects
APPENDIX C:	First Amendment Issues in Public Debate over Governmental Regulation of Entertainment Media Products with Violent Content
APPENDIX D:	An Overview of the Entertainment Media Industries and the Development of Their Rating and Labeling Systems
APPENDIX E:	Entertainment Industry Information Requests
APPENDIX F:	Mystery Shopper Survey and Parent-Child Survey
APPENDIX G:	Third-Party Views and Suggestions for Improvement of the Entertainment Media Rating and Labeling Systems
APPENDIX H:	Entertainment Media Rating Information and Self-Regulatory Efforts on the Internet
APPENDIX I:	Television, Print, and Online Demographics
APPENDIX J:	Electronic Game Industry Compliance with Self-Regulatory Code Requirements to Disclose Rating Information on Product Packaging, in Advertising, and Online
APPENDIX K:	Application of Antitrust Principles to Voluntary Industry Efforts to Restrict Marketing and Sales of Entertainment Media Products to Children