OBJECT CLASSIFICATION

This report presents the Federal Government's obligations in terms of the object classification prescribed in section 82 of Circular No. A-11. Object classes describe the "nature" of the service or article for which obligations are first incurred, regardless of the purpose, function, or program served.

Object classes are divided into the following five major groups:

- 10 Personnel Services and Benefits
- 20 Contractual Services and Supplies
- 30 Acquisition of Capital Assets
- 40 Grants and Fixed Charges
- 90 Other

The object classification within Personnel Services and Benefits and Other have been changed. The changes are described below.

Personnel Services and Benefits. The object classes in this category present information separately for "military" and "civilian" personnel.

The obligations for pay and benefits of six of the seven "uniformed services" have been classified as "military" for many, many years. These included the three "military" departments (the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force), the Marine Corps (which reports to the Secretary of the Navy), the Coast Guard (which also reports to the Secretary of the Navy when operating as a service), and the Commissioned Corps in the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) in the Department of Commerce. The obligations for pay and benefits for the seventh uniformed service, i.e., the Commissioned Corp in the Public Health Service (PHS) in the Department of Health and Human Services were classified as "civilian."

| The Seven Uniformed Services | The Five Armed Forces | The Three Military Departments |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| Army | Army | Army |
| Navy | Navy | Navy |
| Air Force | Air Force | Air Force |
| Marine Corps | Marine Corps | |
| Coast Guard | Coast Guard | |
| NOAA Commissioned Corps | | |
| PHS Commissioned Corps | | |

Over the years, the nature of both Commissioned Corps pay and benefit structure has come to resemble the military system more closely, even though the work performed by both corps members continues to be predominantly civilian in nature.

Commissioned Corps officers bear ranks that closely resemble the armed forces although with different titles. For example, the Assistant Secretary for Health in the Public Health Service is pay grade 0-10, which is the same pay grade as Generals (in the Army, Air Force, and Marine Corps) and Admirals (in the Navy, Coast Guard, and NOAA). PHS follows the “Commissioned Corps Personnel Manual” which covers all aspects of the uniformed services personnel system including appointment, reassignment, pay and allowance, leave, separation, and disciplinary actions. These parallel the policies and procedures of the armed forces. The Office of Personnel Management’s Central Personnel Data File (CPDF) on civilian employees treats both PHS and NOAA as military because of their quasi-military nature. This year, in the President’s FY 2004 budget, obligations for pay and benefits of the Commissioned Corps in the PHS have been reclassified from “civilian” to “military.”

The obligations for pay and benefits for the rest of the personnel in the Federal Government are classified as “civilian.” This includes the pay and benefits of the civilian employees of the Department of Defense.

However, the FY 2004 budget makes a distinction between pay increases for members of the armed forces and members of the Commissioned Corps.

For members of the five armed forces, the FY 2004 budget proposes a range of pay increases from 2.0 to 6.3 percent, targeted by rank and years of service. These differential pay increases are intended to enhance the ability of the Department of Defense to retain its most experienced soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines. With the increase, military base salaries will average more than $37,000 for enlisted personnel and more than $75,000 for officers, exceeding the average salaries of their civilian counterparts with similar education.

For civilian personnel and the Commissioned Corps in NOAA and PHS where the work is predominantly civilian in nature, the FY 2004 budget proposes an across-the-board pay increase of 2.0 percent and $500 million for agencies to provide additional pay to high performers and employees with critical skills.

Other. There is a new object class in this group for obligations that represent financial interchanges between Federal Government accounts that are not in exchange for goods and services. It is object class 94, Financial Transfers.

Normally, if there is a transfer between two Federal Government accounts that does not benefit the transferring account, then the transfer is accounted for as a “non-expenditure” transaction. Essentially, the transferring account reports a transfer out of “budget authority”; while the receiving account reports a transfer in of “budget authority.”

However, there is an exception. If the transfer is between a Federal fund and a trust fund, then the transfer must be accounted for as an “expenditure” transfer, that is, “obligations” and outlays are reported in the losing account and an offsetting collection is reported in the receiving account. In the past, by default, these obligations were classified as “undistributed” obligations in object class 92 because the transactions did not fall within the four major object classes. Eventually, object class 92 was larger in size than 20 of the 36 object classes and the last three object class reports provided a detailed discussion of what was classified as undistributed. From now on, financial transfers will be classified in object class 94.

Department of Homeland Security. The Homeland Security Act of 2002 (P.L. 107-296) transferred activities from ten major Federal agencies to the newly established Department of Homeland Security (DHS). This report displays obligations by object class for DHS on a three-year comparable basis.

The amounts in this report include the current and proposed policies for past (FY 2002), current (FY 2003), and budget (FY 2004) years. The tables provide the amounts shown in the detailed object class schedules of the FY 2004 Budget Appendix. As in the Appendix volume, direct obligations are distributed by object class and reimbursable obligations are generally shown in total.

BRIDGE FROM GROSS TO NET OBLIGATIONS

EXPLANATORY NOTES OFFSETTING COLLECTIONS AND OFFSETTING RECEIPTS TABLES

The collections and receipts that have been offset against gross obligations in deriving net obligations are presented so that the user may adjust gross obligations to whatever level would be most useful in a given context.

The two types of offsets are “offsetting collections” and “offsetting receipts.” Both result from the same types of transactions, i.e., either business-like or market-oriented payments from the public or payments exclusively between Federal Government accounts. However, the two types are treated differently because of the following laws:

- A permanent law requires that all collections be deposited in receipt accounts in the Treasury before the amounts are appropriated to expenditure accounts. The collections deposited in receipt accounts that are treated as offsets are called “offsetting receipts.” (Note: The collections deposited in receipt accounts that are not treated as offsets are called “Governmental Receipts” or “Budget Receipts.”)
- Other laws permit certain collections to be credited directly to expenditure (that is, appropriation or fund) accounts. These offsets are called “offsetting collections.”

See Chapter 24, “Budget System and Concepts and Glossary,” in the Analytical Perspectives volume of the FY 2004 budget for more information on receipts, offsetting receipts, and offsetting collections.

Table 3 - Bridge from Gross to Net Obligations. This table presents the offsetting collections and receipts that are deducted from total obligations before arriving at net obligations. It presents the offsetting collections and offsetting receipts deducted by each cabinet department and major agency. Offsetting receipts that are not distributed by agency in the FY 2004 budget are included in the “All Branches,” “Executive Branch,” and “Undistributed Offsetting Receipts” sections of the table.

Offsetting collections are presented under the heading “Credited to appropriation or fund accounts.” Those from other Federal Government accounts are on the line called “Other Government accounts (Federal and trust).” The offsetting collections from the public that are Governmental in nature (e.g., tax receipts, compulsory user charges, custom duties, license fees) but required by law to be credited to expenditure accounts are presented on the line called “Offsetting Governmental collections.” Those from the public in payment for business-type transactions are on the line called “The public (non-Federal sources).”

Offsetting receipts from business-type payments from the public are presented on the line called “Proprietary receipts from the public.” The offsetting receipts from other Federal Government accounts are presented under “Intragovernmental receipts.” Payments from one fund group (either Federal or trust funds) to the other fund group are presented as “Interfund transactions.” Payments within the same fund group . . . trust to trust or Federal to Federal . . . are presented as “Intrafund transactions.” The offsetting collections from the public that are governmental in nature but are not authorized to be credited to expenditure accounts, but are required by law to be treated as offsetting, are presented on the line called “Offsetting Governmental receipts.”

Table 4 - Undistributed Offsetting Receipts. This table presents more detail on the offsetting receipts that are not distributed by agency. As shown in Table 3, all offsetting collections and most offsetting receipts are deducted from total agency obligations before arriving at net obligations. The offsetting collections presented as “Credited to appropriation or fund accounts” in the bridge table described above are deducted at the account level. The offsetting receipts must be distributed, that is, a determination must be made as to which agency's obligations will be netted. In a few cases, decisions have been made to deduct such receipts before striking government-wide totals, rather than deducting them from any agency. These amounts are called “undistributed offsetting receipts.” It should be noted that the universe of amounts that are not distributed by agency is larger than the amounts that are not distributed by function. In reports and tables by function, the following offsetting receipts that are not distributed by agency are distributed by function:

- Interest received by on-budget trust funds (subfunction 902);
- Interest received by off-budget trust funds (subfunction 903); and
- Interest received from the Outer Continental Shelf escrow account (subfunction 908).
