

Alan F. Ciamporcero is Vice President-Regulatory for GTE Services Corporation located in its Washington, D.C. office at 1850 M Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20036. He has spent the last ten years in the telephone industry, working for Pacific Telesis Group, SBC, the Personal Communications Industry Association and GTE. Before entering the telephone industry, he was in private legal practice with Miller & Holbrooke in Washington, D.C. and McDonough, Holland & Allen in Sacramento, California. He attended law school at the University of California, Davis and clerked with the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Before law school, he worked for Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin of California and other Members of Congress. He has a Ph.D. in political science from the State University of New York at Albany and a B.A. from the University of Pittsburgh.