

IF YOURE SICKOF.

Coughing all the time

Spending your money on cigarettes

Smelling like an ashtray

People hassling you about smoking

Hurting your health

Cigarettes screwing up your life...

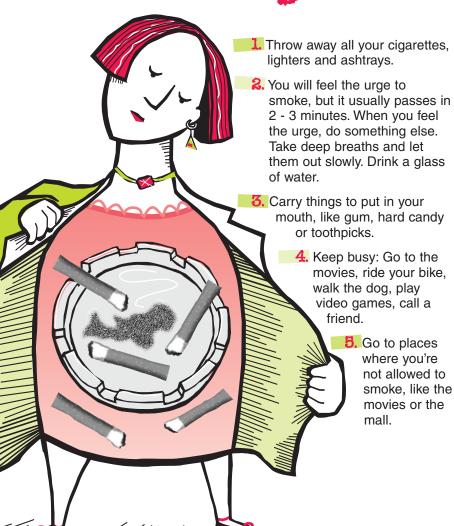

YOURE READY TO QUIT!

Hint: Quitting chewing tobacco and snuff is a lot like stopping smoking. This booklet can help you if you want to quit using "spit" tobacco!

When you're ready to quit, set a "quit date." Tell everybody when you're going to stop smoking.

THE FIRST FEW DAYS

- The first few days after you quit, don't hang around people and places where you used to smoke. If your family or friends smoke, ask them not to:
 - x smoke around you
 - x offer you cigarettes
 - ✗ leave cigarettes where you can find them
 - ✗ tease you about not smoking.

- 2. Turn your room into a "no smoking zone," especially if your family smokes.
- Spend a lot of time in places where you're not allowed to smoke.
- Drink lots of water and fruit juice, but don't drink anything with caffeine in it, like soda, coffee or tea.

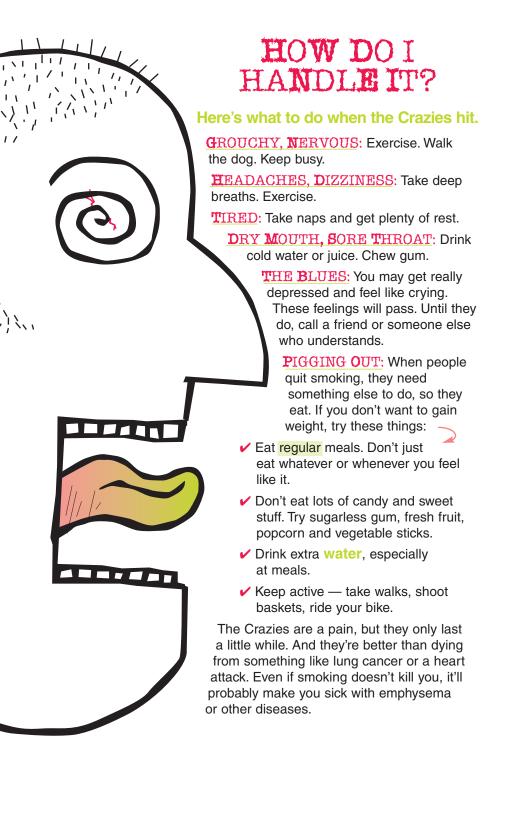

THE CRAZIES

When you quit smoking, you may have to put up with some stuff like bad nerves and crabbiness for awhile. That's because tobacco contains nicotine — a drug — and smokers get hooked on nicotine. When you quit, your body craves nicotine and you feel withdrawal symptoms: the Crazies.

HOW BAD WILLITBE??

The Crazies usually last for 1 - 2 weeks after you quit. After that, your body begins to forget about nicotine and you start feeling better. For some people — like heavy smokers — the Crazies may be tougher and last longer.

Even after the Crazies are gone, there will be times you'll still want to smoke. That's because nicotine is a powerful addiction. Even after you quit, you can get hooked again with just a few cigarettes. The only way to be safe is to become a nonsmoker — for good.

I GOT IT BEAT!

Lots of people quit smoking for a few days, but it's harder to stay off cigarettes for good. Remember, lots of other people have quit, and you can too!

Here's what you need to do to really beat smoking.

- 1. Don't pull the triggers. All smokers have "triggers," certain times and places that make them want to smoke. For you, it may be leaving school or hanging out with friends. Learn what your smoking triggers are and try to avoid them. Or figure out how to get through them without smoking.
- 2. Plan ways to handle stress. When you get stressed, you may want to reach for a cigarette. Think of things you can do instead of smoking when stress hits like chewing gum or taking deep breaths.
- 3. If you blow it, try again. All smokers have trouble quitting, and most of them will blow it and smoke once in a while. Some people have to quit several times before they stop for good. If you blow it, you're not a failure. Quit again!
- 4. Pat yourself on the back. When you quit, you're doing something great and you deserve a reward! Treat yourself to a movie or a new CD or something else and pay for it with the money you used to spend on cigarettes.

If you try all the tips listed here and are still having trouble quitting, talk to your doctor about whether using nicotine gum or the patch would be right for you.

Remember: Quitting chewing tobacco and snuff can be tough, too. Follow the steps in this booklet to kick "spit" tobacco!

WHO YA GONNA CALL?

Sometimes it's easier to quit when you have help. If you want help, talk to your guidance counselor or school nurse, your family doctor, or someone who has already quit smoking, like a friend or family member.
