

Program Data

Social Security

The Social Security program—Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance (OASDI)—provides monthly benefits to workers and their families when the worker retires, dies, or becomes disabled. The amount of the worker's retirement insurance (old-age) or disability benefit is based on the worker's level of earnings in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security program. Monthly benefits are payable to retired workers at age 62 (with reduced benefits) or to disabled workers at any age. The benefit amount for an auxiliary or survivor beneficiary is based on a percentage of the worker's benefit. Auxiliary and survivor beneficiaries must generally meet an age, a disability, or child care requirement.

A total of 46,452,550 persons received benefits for December 2002. This number included 29,203,660 retired workers, 4,965,150 widows and widowers, 5,535,860 disabled workers, 2,832,350 wives and husbands, and 3,915,520 children. Social Security beneficiaries represented 15.7 percent of the total population and 91.0 percent of the population 65 or older.

Retired workers received an average monthly benefit of $895; widows and widowers, $840 (non-disabled widows and widowers, $861); disabled workers, $834; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $439. Average benefits for children of deceased, retired, and disabled workers were, $584, $428, $245, respectively.

Monthly benefits for December 2002 totaled $37.9 billion. Of this amount, $27.6 billion was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children; $5.3 billion to survivors; and $5.0 billion to disabled workers and their spouses and children. Average and total monthly benefits include the 1.4 percent cost-of-living increase effective December 2002.

In Michigan, benefits were paid to 1,677,280 persons. This number included 1,036,350 retired workers; 186,000 widows and widowers; 202,770 disabled workers; 103,700 wives and husbands; and 148,460 children.

Social Security beneficiaries represented 16.7 percent of the total population of the state and 95.8 percent of the state's population aged 65 or older.

Retired workers in Michigan received an average of $964 per month; widows and widowers, $903; disabled workers, $892; and wives and husbands of retired and disabled workers, $485. Average benefits for children were: $477 for children of retired workers; $622 for children of deceased workers; and $262 for children of disabled workers.

Monthly benefits for December 2002 totaled $1.5 billion. Of this amount, $1.1 billion was paid to retired workers and their spouses and children; $212 million to survivors; and $198 million to disabled workers and their spouses and children.

Supplemental Security Income

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federal cash assistance program that provides monthly payments to low-income aged, blind, and disabled persons in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The program is based on nationally uniform eligibility standards and payment levels. The federal SSI payment is determined by the recipient's countable income, living arrangement, and marital status. As of January 2003, the maximum monthly federal SSI payment for an individual living in his or her own household and with no other countable income is $552, and for a couple, $829.

A state may supplement the payment levels of all or selected categories of recipients. These supplemental payments may be administered by the state or the Social Security Administration.

In December 2002, 6,787,857 persons received federally administered SSI payments including 1,251,528 aged, and 5,536,329 who were disabled or blind. A total of 1,995,284 recipients were aged 65 or older, 3,877,752 were 18 to 64, and 914,821 were under age 18.

The total number of persons receiving either a Social Security payment, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 50,834,080. Federally administered payments totaled $2.9 billion in December 2002: $2.6 billion in federal SSI payments, and $328 million in state supplements. The average federally administered payment was $407. The aged averaged $330; disabled and blind, $425.

In addition, 552,567 persons in 31 states received state-administered payments in December 2002, which totaled $70.2 million.

In Michigan, 213,568 persons—18,173 aged, and 195,395 disabled and blind—received federally administered SSI payments in December 2002. A total of 36,543 recipients were aged 65 or older, 142,590 between 18 and 64, and 34,435 under 18.

Federally administered SSI payments totaled $92.7 million, of which $90.5 million was federal SSI and $2.2 million, state supplementation. The average federally administered payment was $408 overall, $277 for aged recipients, and $420 for those disabled and blind. In addition 65,337 persons in Michigan received state-administered supplementation in December 2002, which totaled $2.7 million.

In December 2002, the total number of persons in Michigan receiving either a Social Security benefit, a federally administered SSI payment, or both was 1,826,015.
