

Medicare-approved Prescription Drug Discount Cards
Public Service Announcements (live-read)
Final English Version

10 Second Spot

Call toll-free 1-800-MEDICARE for more information about the Medicare approved drug discount cards.

1-800-MEDICARE. Your official information source.

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

30 Second Spot

Anncr. VO

Millions of people with Medicare who pay for prescription drugs out of their own pocket are already saving with a Medicare-approved drug discount card. Hope you've got one. Signing up for a drug discount card is worth the effort. So get a card and get saving. Call 1-800-MEDICARE and get started today. That's 1-800-633-4227.

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

The drug discount card is not an insurance card. Savings vary. Enrollment fee and co-pay may apply.

60 Second Spot #1 (do not use after December 31, 2004)

Anncr. VO

Millions of people with Medicare who pay for prescription drugs out of their own pocket are already saving with a Medicare-approved drug discount card. Hope you've got one. Signing up for a drug discount card is worth the effort. So get a card and get saving.

With one of the Medicare-approved drug discount cards, you can save on covered brand-name drugs and also save on generic drugs. If you have a lower income, you could save even more money by getting a $600 credit on your drug discount card. And if you apply by December 31, 2004, and if you qualify, you can get $600 in both 2004 and 2005. That's $1,200 towards your prescription drug costs.

Medicare can help you choose the drug discount card that's right for you. It's easy. Call 1-800-MEDICARE and get started today. That's 1-800-633-4227.

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

The drug discount card is not an insurance card. Savings vary. Enrollment fee and co-pay may apply.

60 Second Spot #2 (Use after December 31, 2004)

Anncr. VO

Millions of people with Medicare who used to pay for prescription drugs out of their own pocket are already saving with a Medicare-approved drug discount card. Hope you've got one. Signing up for a drug discount card is worth the effort. So get a card and get saving.

With one of the Medicare-approved drug discount cards, you can save on covered brand-name drugs and also save on generic drugs. If you have a lower income, you could save even more money by getting up to a $600 credit on your drug discount card.

Medicare can help you choose the drug discount card that's right for you. It's easy. Call 1-800-MEDICARE and get started today. That's 1-800-633-4227.

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
The drug discount card is not an insurance card. Savings vary. Enrollment fee and co-pay may apply.