

Community-Based Pre-Disaster Mitigation for Emergency Managers Student Guide Table of Contents

Introductory Workshop

- Introduction to Partnerships in Pre-Disaster Mitigation
- A Caveat on Community-based Mitigation Programs
- Mitigation vs. Preparedness and Why Pre-Disaster Mitigation is Important
- Importance of CBO/FBO involvement with Emergency Management in Community Pre-Disaster Mitigation Activities

Section 1: Identifying Community-Based Organization (CBO) and/or Faith Based Organization (FBO) Pre-Disaster Mitigation Volunteers

- Introduction to Partnerships in Pre-Disaster Mitigation
- Section 1.A: Understanding our Risk of Disaster
- Section 1.B: Can we Help Make our Community Safer?
- Section 1.C: Establishing Mitigation Partnerships between Emergency Managers and CBOs/FBOs

Section 2: Setting Up for Success in Community-Based Mitigation

- Section 2.A: Checking out the Local Mitigation Scene
- Section 2.B: Effectively Identifying and Recruiting Emergency Management Volunteers
- Section 2.C: Identifying and Recruiting Volunteers from CBOs and FBOs
- Section 2.D.: Setting up an Organizational Workshop
- Section 2.E.: Expanding the Network

Section 3: Program and Project Development

- Section 3.A: How to Be a Mentor
- Section 3.B: Thinking Creatively about Resources
- Section 3.C: Creating No-cost and Low-cost Projects

Section 4: Media/Publicity/Recognition

- Section 4.A: Publicizing your Program and Activities
- Section 4.B: Recognizing Volunteers and Partners

Section 5: Identifying and Implementing Projects within Your Program

Section 6: Learning from Our Experiences

Section 7: Sustainability: Keeping Volunteers Engaged

Section 8: Examples of Success

- Section 8.A.: Examples of Successful CBO/FBO Integration in Local Pre-disaster Mitigation
- Section 8.B.: Mitigation Challenges
- Section 8.C.: Best Practices

Acknowledgements

Resource Guide